Rotary Club

"Government Partnership in Industry" was the timely topic presented to the Newton Rotary on Monday by Herbert N. McGill, president of the McGill Commodities Service. Mr. McGill spoke optimistically of the proposals for improved industrial conditions at the recent conference attended by 400 of the largest manufacturers in Washington of the United Association of Manufacturers. It was proposed that:

"Each industry determine the minimum amount of hours on both a minimum and maximum basis under which the industry can operate efficiently."

"Each industry must work out a definite program to be presented to the president of the board to be appointed for approval. This will be done largely through trade associations."

"While there will be no general disregard for anti-trust laws, each industry will set a fair minimum price on its products."

"Every concern in a specific industry must live up to the rules and regulations specified by the trade association. This will, of course, represent the majority. The minority will be forced into line. In the event of the infraction of any of the rules and regulations set forth by the trade association for fair practice, the concern in question will be subject to punishment by law which will be severe."

The speaker explained briefly that there are three plans for the operation of the Industrial Regulation Bill:

President Roosevelt has unlimited powers to combat the depression with the $3,300,000,000 construction program, part of which is to be used in the regulation of industry, subdivided as follows:

Public buildings — $400,000,000 of which $250,000,000 would follow the present allocation, and $150,000,000 would be for extensions.

Public buildings — no set limit.

Naval construction — $100,000,000 maximum.

Army including equipment and possibly a large airplane fleet should the disarmament conference fail—$100,000,000 maximum.

Slums and housing following the upturn of the United States Housing Corporation of war days—no limit.

Natural resources including soil and erosion, forestry, and similar projects.

Loans to railroads for maintenance and equipment—no limit.

Definite efforts will be made to divert as much of the $3,300,000,000 into industrial channels as possible, where invested money would not only be an emergency stimulus but a permanent investment tending to restore profits and alleviate unemployment.

3. To return 3,000,000 workers on October 1 to industry with a minimum wage of $10 per week, all guaranteed employment for six months, and half wages to be paid by government and half by employer.

The speaker thought Plan 1 was fundamentally sound and vitally important for the restoration of normal and ethical trade activity. He thought that some features of Plans 2 and 3 were impractical.

Weeks Junior H. S.

The first performance of the seventh grade dramatic club, Spot-light Sparklers, will be given on next Wednesday morning. "The Knave of Hearts" is the title of the play which has been chosen by the youngest actresses of the school.

Through the co-operation of the art and wood-working departments, the costumes and scenery have been designed and made. The cast of characters is as follows:—Lady Violetta, Ruth Randolph; Pompadour, Grenfell; Marcia Jackson; Blue Hose, Mary Harris; Yellow Hose, Beverly Smith; Ursula, Lella Feinberg; Herald, Mary Kirmayer and Virginia Graham; Pages, Marion Morgan, Phyllis Schwab, Marietta DeNapoli, Carolyn Harrison, Betty Manness, and Patricia Taylor.

The National Red Cross has urged the Newton Chapter to continue to impress upon the people of Newton the need of the people of Auburn and Ellsworth. Red Cross officials there reported that both fires destroyed the resources of families already hard hit by unemployment and other distress and that in many instances their clothing and furniture were gone.

These would have to be replaced if the family had no resources upon which it could draw. The funds which are being raised are not only for emergency relief but also for permanent rehabilitation, such as clothing, household goods, and rebuilding homes.

Large Attendance At First Social Event of B. C. Club

More than 300 attended the first annual dinner-dance of the Boston College Club of Newton which was held at the Commonwealth Country Club Monday evening from nine to two o'clock.

This successful social affair was in charge of the following committee: John P. Curley of Auburndale, Chairman; James Dunn of Newton; Vincent P. Roberts, Albert McCarthy, Peter Collins, and Joseph McKenney of Chestnut Hill; Fred Shea, Francis Lyons of Newtonville; and the officers of the club, Dr. William J. O'Halloran, president of Newtonville; Bernard Farrell, vice president, of West Newton; Frank P. Frazier, treasurer of West Newton; John Desmond, secretary, of West Newton.

The following prominent people of the Newtons served as patrons and patronesses: Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Speaker Leverett Saltonstall, William Cahill, M. L. Madden, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Quigley, Dr. James Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent P. Roberts, Dr. Edward J. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Maloney and Dr. and Mrs. John G. Downing.

It is planned to make this an annual social affair of the club to be held before the Boston College-Holy Cross baseball game which comes May 30.

MANY NOVEL EVENTS AT NEWTON CATHOLIC CLUB LAWN PARTY

Among the many features to be sponsored at the gala Lawn Party being given on June 17 will be the popular Doll Carriage Parade. This event will be opened to youngsters between the ages of three and six years inclusive.

Miss Mary Welch heads the subcommittee in charge of the parade. Miss Kathleen Hart and several other ladies of the General Committee will assist. Beautiful prizes will be awarded the winners. Even at this early date there has been much enthusiasm among the youngsters throughout the community in preparation for this parade.

Boys will have a definite part in the program. Carts and tricycles will be most popular with the boys while undoubtedly the majority of the girls will have doll carriages. The actual parade will start at 2:30 p. m. on the club property. The spacious grounds of the club have been trimmed and groomed and are in splendid condition for the party.

Arrangements to have saddle ponies and pony carts at the lawn party are being made and as usual this is bound to prove popular with the children.

The Newton Catholic Club Board of Directors have authorized the conductance of a lawn party in response to many requests. In this day of highly organized amusements there has been a tendency on the part of many to get away from local activities. It is felt this party will serve a dual purpose. The old-fashioned reunion atmosphere will prevail and former club members as well as former Newton folk are expected to turn out in large numbers.

Judges will be selected by the Committee for the Doll Carriage Parade from people living outside of Newton. Children from any section may enter.

MANY AUTOISTS FINED IN NEWTON COURT

A large number of autoists were fined in the Newton court last Friday for violation of automobile and traffic laws. Those fined $5 each for speeding included—Alice McKenney, Wellesley; Maud Melville, Worcester; William Connell, Braintree; Louis Smith, 2nd, Holliston. For parking in prohibited areas on Beacon st., Newton Centre, the following were fined $5 each—Harry Eisner, Brookline; Myer Millen, Brookline; Edward Briggs, Brookline; Russell Bowles, Cohasset. John Stone of 33 Madison ave., Newtonville, was fined $5 for speeding and another $5 for driving to the left of the centre of a street. Gertrude Walsh of 107 Nobscot rd., Newton Centre, was fined $5 for driving by a traffic signal with the red lights against her.

In the Newton court on Monday autoists fined $5 each for speeding included—Mary Wood, 108 Ridge ave., Newton Centre; Dorothy Adair, Wellesley College; Walter Gilliland, Norwood; Paul Scialba, Boston; Samuel Richmond, Dorchester; Elinor Swenson of Weston, charged with speeding, had her case continued until June 18. Charles Piermonte of Nevada st., Newtonville, was fined $5 for parking his car in violation of parking regulations.

BIGELOW JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

On Friday, May 26th, Health Day was observed. A play was given by members of the school, and Gertrude Spiers was crowned Health Queen by Barbara Hansen, last year's queen.

There were games, dances, and stunts which showed how one can keep physically fit.

Commander Ames of the American Legion spoke to the school on Monday at Memorial Day exercises. He gave some fine suggestions as to how one can become the best type of American citizen. Thelma Cutler, who represented the school at the Red Cross conference, in Washington, also spoke about her trip.

Mother is "BOSS"

MOTHER is "boss." When her husband died, leaving her four little girls, she had to be. She had to earn their daily bread as well as bake it. Now, the girls have grown to young womanhood, but mother is still "boss." Not a tyrant—just "boss" of the household because of her competency.

When the girls were working, she and they could afford such things as the vacuum cleaner, the washing machine, the radio, the electric refrigerator. One by one these were added, under partial payment plans well within the domestic budget.

Then the budget got a series of unbalancing shocks. One girl had a substantial wage cut; another worked part time; a third lost her secretarialship when the firm went out of business.

"I guess we'll have to do without the telephone and some other things for a while," said mother, after a moment's mental arithmetic. There was no demur. What mother said, went.

"I wonder if we couldn't wait a few days," asked May, the former private secretary, inquiringly. "I registered at the secretarial school today, and gave them my telephone number in case they wanted to reach me quickly." Mother agreed.

Well, May got fifteen days' work that month through telephone calls from the school, and the telephone still stays.

"A hen that lays eggs is worth feeding," explained mother. "Besides," she added, philosophically, "it saves my feet many a weary step when I want this thing or that thing."

STATE AID TO REDUCE LOCAL TAX RATE

The State Legislature next week will have before it a bill which is designed to relieve local tax rates of the cities and towns of the Commonwealth. The balancing of the State budget has always been little more than a matter of book-keeping. If the State received insufficient revenue to meet its expenses the necessary amount was levied upon the cities and towns as a "State tax" in proportion to valuation. The municipality was forced to pass this on to the tax payer in the real estate tax rate. During the past several years the decrease in State revenue through the reduction of amounts received from income tax sources plus the increased burden of welfare upon the cities and towns has resulted in an increased burden upon real estate. Under the proposed bill, which, if enacted, will increase income tax payments, impose a retail sales tax of one percent, impose a tax upon electrical energy, and take advantage of a ten to twelve million dollar gift from the Federal Government, it is estimated that sufficient funds will be raised to wipe out any prospect of a state tax and permit advances to the cities and towns to enable a reduction in the local tax rates. Various checks are placed upon the cities and towns so that the moneys thus received are properly used.

The funds to be distributed will be based upon the increased expenditures during the past three years for various kinds of welfare purposes, including old age assistance, soldiers' relief, and the like, instead of upon the former valuation basis. Using these welfare expenditures as a yardstick will give those cities and towns where this problem is most serious the most benefit. In brief it is aimed to relieve conditions where they are most acute. While Newton's welfare problem might be termed serious, the character of the city as a whole is such that it is not as acute as in other places. Thus Newton will receive about $182,000, instead of more than twice that sum if distribution were on a valuation basis. Other things remaining constant the receipt of this amount would enable a reduction of about $1.00 per thousand in the local tax rate.

THE POLITICAL POT BOILS

While the political pot has been simmering away for some time it suddenly boiled over this week with Ex-Gov. Alvan T. Fuller's announcement that he would be a candidate for Governor next fall. The Ex-Governor terms his announcement as "hurried" through the fact that Lieut. Governor Bacon's name was among those on Morgan's Favored list. The Bacon faction has been growing stronger through the past months and while the fact that his connections with the Morgan firm are well known it may react to his disadvantage. A lot of water will flow over the dam between now and the pre-primary convention next April and the primary in September of 1934 and it would be just as well to wait and see what may happen in the coming months.

Are you planning to vote on June 13th?

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

We have yearly inspections of automobiles; such inspections supposedly being compulsory. And the old, rattle-trap cars which are menaces on highways, and at which these examinations are directed, are the automobiles usually not taken by their owners to garages for inspection. We are having a free immunization of dogs in Newton to prevent rabies. And the dogs which will not be taken to be immunized will be those not licensed; largely curs allowed to roam about unrestrained in ordinary times, and those most in need of protection against rabies. The State law and the city ordinances requiring dogs to be licensed and to wear a collar with identifying inscription, will, in all probability continue to be ignored by Newton police. With people begging for aid, the city finds it expedient to appropriate a large sum of money to immunize dogs and other considerable sums must be expended to provide Pasteur treatment serum for persons bitten, or exposed to diseased dogs.

Eventually, in Newton and like thickly settled places, the English law compelling permanent restraint of dogs must be enforced. Dogs are wonderful pals, but the large breeds don't belong in cities where they defile and destroy neighbors' lawns, gardens and shrubs, and menace the safety of the public.

Washington st. and other streets in this city continue to be used as speedways by reckless motorists, with resultant danger to pedestrians and the majority of motorists who drive sanely. And Newton still is deprived of the protection, in the form of motorcycle policemen which it had in former years.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

An American Institution

The combining of the school years seven, eight, and nine in one organization generally known as the junior high school originated over thirty years ago. We, as Americans, should feel gratified that this very significant contribution was made by us. Our educational system was inherited from across the seas. Certain changes and adaptations have been made, but essentially it has been the type which the old world developed. The junior high school, however, marked the beginning of a renaissance, the end of which is not yet. Columbus, Ohio, and Berkeley, California contend for the honor of having first used this type of school, but wherever it was first tried, it developed west of the Mississippi and attained its most rapid growth in the decade following the close of the World War. In 1917 there were apparently 150 cities in the United States which had one or more junior high schools, with fourteen of these schools located in Massachusetts. Ten years later the number of junior high schools in Massachusetts alone was 170, with an enrollment of 77,824 pupils. This most remarkable growth was paralleled in most of the other states of the Union.

What Caused This Great Change in Secondary School Organization?

It marked not only a radical change in educational methods and emphasis, but it is an integral part of the commercial, mechanical, social, religious and emotional revolution which is so recent in our lives that we as yet are largely unable to visualize and evaluate it properly.

Our social organization has hurtled forward at such a dizzy speed that schools organized to meet the needs of the generation preceding this era would be as inadequate to train the pupils for life in 1933 as the highways of twenty years ago would be to care for the rushing congestion of our streets today.

The environment of our modern youth has expanded to undreamed-of boundaries. For the first time in the world's history it seems that our schools must provide "education for all the children of all the people." Our colleges are suddenly filled with a type which heretofore has not gone beyond high school, if indeed as far as this. Our high schools are filled with those who before this abandoned the pursuit of education as soon as they complied with the statutory requirements of age and grade attainments.

Educates "All the Children of All the People"

The junior high school is America's answer to this amazing challenge. Here "all the children of all the people" are received. They are not only taught the fundamentals of orthodox subject matter, but they are drilled in the PRACTICE of desirable qualities of citizenship and democracy.

Pupils who pass through a modern junior high school receive training which fits them for living in this modern world, not by learning from the pages of a book and committing things found therein to memory, but by practicing in the life of the school the qualities which are required for good and successful community life. Here the pupils learn the things which are most useful to them today. They are not learning because it is "good mental discipline" or because he "will need to know this later in life," but because the knowledge is useful here in school today, after school this afternoon, and in the family life this evening.

(This is the first of a series of articles descriptive of the junior high school in theory and practice.)

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

The vacation lure has set in but what good is it without the vacation lure?

Oddments

On a Newton-Brighton electric car one day recently there was a passenger who had plainly reached an advanced stage of inebriation. His loud talk and occasional bursts of song made him conspicuous. One observer remarked to the man sitting next to him, "It's surprising to see a man drunk in view of the assurance that you cannot get that way on three-point-two stuff." Whereupon the other smiled and replied, "Probably this fellow got his decimials mixed up."

Have the school boys of Newton gone gooey-gooey? Two circumstances that have come to my notice seem to warrant the query. Here's a newspaper story that not a single case of corporal punishment has been reported for the school year. That surprised me, of course, but it seemed to fit right in with something I saw with my own eyes. Four girls of high school age were ordered from the main building of the Newton Free Library for making too much noise and otherwise disturbing patrons. In all my youth the boys never allowed the girls to steal the glory of being thrown out of the public library. But things are different nowadays. According to what I read problems of misconduct among school pupils are "studied" and corporal punishment is not employed. That made me feel better. I can understand that if the teachers don't want to resort to harsh methods of correction the boys can't help it. They probably do what they can to provoke their instructors.

Not to be Scorned

If the question is not embarrassing—and I don't see why it should be—I should like to know how many have gathered some of their pleasantest memories of the theatre from a seat in the top balcony. Of those I have asked orally nearly all have promptly averred that for the comparatively trifling cost of a gallery seat they enjoyed the performances of some of the most renowned stage stars.

If I am not mistaken the passing of the gallery has done the theatre no good. Nor am I alone in this view. Having expressed it more than once and having heard others do the same I was much gratified to read in Arthur Mann's article, "The American Theatre Goes Broke," that he thinks so, too. Writing for the American Mercury, Mr. Mann says that the first turn in the wrong direction made by the managers was when they began neglecting the gallery. He contends that the boy in the gallery sits in the balcony tomorrow and before long will be occupying with his best girl, seats in the orchestra. He allows about five years for the transition, by the way.

And I think you'll agree with Mr. Mann that it was a mistake for the theatrical producers to build playhouses without galleries, thereby showing the "gallery god" he was no longer wanted. On the other hand, this humble but discriminating playgoer did not accept, and I turn again to Mr. Mann, the introduction of a "whispering style of delivery that is barely audible." You and I like to hear what the actors say and so does the man in the back row of the gallery. Modern acting makes it difficult—almost impossible—at times.

Of course the other reasons for the general flop of the show business but I would like to stick to the gallery in this instance. One of the ablest attorneys I know once told me how as a boy in New York he saw a brilliant first night performance from the uppermost perch of all. Furthermore, he used to sit up a good part of that night when he got home, writing his impressions. These he compared with what the newspaper critics had to say. His love of the theatre could never have been nurtured except for the gallery. Other experiences come from the most unexpected sources. A surgeon of unusual skill and prominence confided in me that all through his boyhood and student days he was a devout gallery patron. Once, when an eminent actress came to him as a patient he told her how he had known her for years from his sky-high seat. This brought forth a frank statement from her that players greatly value the opinion of the "gallery gods."

Unique "Hold-up"

June brings its bestowal of rare gifts. Nature is lavish in its endowments in the garden and elsewhere. How about ourselves? We have wedding presents to think of—that is, of course, if we've been invited to the reception. As eager as we are cannot, at this time of the year, display the prodigality of Nature. We strive to do the right thing and hope the bride will be pleased with our remembrance.

If I were writing helpful hints I should feel obliged to offer—or at least attempt to offer—a solution. But, not for me. I've got to tell an incident that occurred the other day. At that it may prove a valuable tip, although that is not the purpose intended.

In an office where a number of clever young men are employed there is a sales manager. Not an uncommon situation, but I merely wish to set the stage for you. The sales manager likes his little joke and if it can be made profitable (for him) all the better. On this day he directed one of the office boys to call the members of the sales staff together.

When the salesmen strolled in they found their chief holding a telephone conversation with his wife. "Now, my dear," he was saying, "don't forget to feed the goldfish. You know I bought him just a year ago tomorrow on our wedding anniversary. Indeed it was extremely thoughtful. Oh, I don't know; they'll probably do something this year, but I hope they won't spend too much money. Yes, they are a wonderful bunch, you're right. Yes, yes, that's so. Well, goodbye, darling."

Thereupon he hung up and, turning to the group about him, showed great surprise. "Why, I didn't know you fellows were listening," he exclaimed. Two hours later sufficient subscriptions have been obtained among "the gang" for a substantial token for Mr. and Mrs. Salesmanager. "With the best wishes of his office associates,"

Elks Vaudeville Show June 19

Newton Lodge of Elks will hold a vaudeville show on Monday night, June 19, at the Paramount Theatre, Newton. Ten acts of vaudeville will appear. The proceeds from this show will be used to send to Chicago the ritualistic team of Newton Lodge to compete in the national championship contest. The team of Newton Lodge has won the championships of both Massachusetts and New England and is regarded as having an excellent chance to win the national contest, thus bringing the prize to Newton. Newton Lodge hopes that the residents of this city will co-operate by attending this performance.

LASELL COMMENCEMENT

The commencement exercises of Lasell Junior College, which have been in progress intermittently for the past two weeks will be continued this evening with a reception by the president to the teachers and Senior Class. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 4. The Golden Text is: "Great and marvellous are they works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints" (Revelation 15:3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet, Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest? Hath not my hand made all things?" (Acts 7:58-59).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause. Sin, sickness, disease, and death belong not to the Science of being. They are the errors, which presuppose the absence of Truth, Life, and Love" (p. 207).

Recent Weddings

KOHLER—PARTRIDGE

Miss Barbara Colby Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Safford Partridge of 152 Oakleigh rd., Newton, was married to Julius Walter Kohler, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. August Kohler on Saturday afternoon, May twenty-seventh in the chapel of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton. Rev. Laurens MacLure performed the ceremony.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of panne satin trimmed with duchess lace and her grandmother's veil of tulle which has been worn by three generations of brides in the family. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley with orchids. Mrs. Wallace Packard of Waban, the matron of honor, wore forget-me-not blue mousseline de sole with hat of blue taffeta and crepe and carried a bouquet of forget-me-nots and sweethearts roses. Miss Virginia Jordan Partridge, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, also wore a costume similar in design and material in forget-me-not pink, her bouquet being entirely of forget-me-nots.

Paul Kohler of Taunton was the best man. The ushers were Charles Barba, Jr. of Newton, Howard Mosier of Swampscott, Joseph Jackson and Robert Ham, both of Reading.

The ceremony took place under an arch of candlelight and the altar and chancel were decorated with calla lilies and evergreens.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kohler will reside in Weston.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College, class of 1929. The groom is a graduate of Bowdoin College, 1927, and is a member of Zeta Psi fraternity.

TYDOL GASOLINE IS SUPERIOR

The Tide Water Oil Company was the first of the major companies to add an anti-knock agent to its regular gasoline, giving it the highest anti-knock rating of any gasoline in the world at the regular gasoline price. It was announced by J. D. Collins, general sales manager of the company, today.

"Triple X Tydol, our new lubricating gasoline, just made available to the public, combines qualities considered impossible by automotive engineers just a few years ago, principally as a result of the utilization of the anti-knock solution and the lubricating compound," said Mr. Collins. "For instance, our engineers report the Triple X has positive carbon-fighting properties, that it tends to loosen existing carbon and prevents the formation of new deposits.

"Anti-knock properties are obtained in five ways, proper selection of crudes, the addition of natural gasoline for improved volatility, the cracking of gas oil to gasoline, the reforming of gasoline or heavy naphtha, and the use of an anti-knock agent. Due to our extensive research with the application of the first four methods we have achieved remarkable results by the addition of a much smaller amount of the anti-knock agent than is used in the gases marketed under the trademarked anti-knock names."

AUTO FUMES KILL MAN AT WABAN

Robert Kelly, 56, of 371 Broadway, Somerville, was found dead on Saturday afternoon in the garage at an unfinished house on Waban ave., Waban. His body was discovered by Patrolman Hanlon of the Newton police. The ignition switch of an automobile in the garage was on, and the gasoline supply in the car had been exhausted. Medical Examiner West pronounced Kelly's death due to carbon monoxide poisoning. Kelly, a steamfitter, had been working at the new house. He had been in poor health for a long period.

Daly Post V. F. W.

A real old fashioned Dutch supper under the auspices of the Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr. Post No. 2384, V. F. W., was conducted at V. F. W. on last Saturday evening. Invited guests included Mayor Sinclair Weeks, Street Commissioner George E. Stuart, Mr. James J. Dempsey, Ex Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Chief Clarence Randlett, A. Leslie Moriarty, John F. Feeney of West Newton, Commander Robert L. Cunningham, Newton Post No. 48, A. L. Harold D. Ames, Arthur McCarthy, Julius Ramm, Commander Thomas Brassill, Middlesex County Council V. F. W. and William Mahoney, S. V. C. Middlesex County Council, V. F. W.

Commander David L. Keefe addressed the gathering extending the greetings of the Daley Post after which brief remarks were heard from each of the guests of the evening. Comrade Martin Stanta was chairman in charge of arrangements assisted by a committee.

Friday preceding Memorial Day the Post was represented at various schools throughout the city by the following speakers, Attorney Hugh Boyd, George McNamee, Thomas Tredin, Post Patriotic Instructor and Edward Theriault.

On Memorial Day morning members of the Post assisted other veteran organizations in the decorating of graves at cemeteries within the city as well as those of departed comrades that rest in neighboring communities.

A large delegation of the Post and representatives of neighboring V. F. W. units participated in the Annual Memorial Day Parade under command of Commander David L. Keefe.

Colors of the various posts were en masse in charge of Officer of the Day Arthur L. Gaw. Following the ceremonies of the War Memorial the Post and its guests of the day proceeded to Post Headquarters led by No Man's Post band which had been loaned to the Post by the Ladies' Auxiliary under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edith Sutherland and committee.

The Ladies' Auxiliary made its initial appearance in the annual parade, being attired with a snappy uniform of white and blue, wearing white berets to match. This unit was in command of President Helen B. Keefe.

On each Thursday evening Beano, Bingo, Bridge and Whist parties are conducted at V. F. W. Hall under the auspices of the Post from 7.30-10.30 o'clock.

Women's Club Activities

West Newton Women's Educational Club

On Wednesday, May 24th, the members of the Executive Board of the West Newton Women's Educational Club were luncheon guests of the new president of the Club, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, at her home, 18 Warwick road, West Newton. A special meeting of the Board was called on that day in order to complete the Club business for the year 1932-1933.

Mrs. Alfred E. Thayer, chairman of the American Home department of the Club, has invited the members of the department to her home in Hull for a picnic on June 20th (in place of June 9th as previously announced). The invitation has been extended to the members of the Travel Class.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Annual Spring Flower Show of the Garden Club of the Auburndale Woman's Club, under the direction of Mrs. Charles S. Grover, chairman and her committee, will be held at the Auburndale Club House on Tuesday, June 6th, from one to 9 p. m.

All residents of Auburndale are urged to make entries, and schedules of classes of exhibits may be obtained at Keyes Drug Store.

The success of the Flower Show of June 1932 was a great credit to the chairman, Mrs. Grover, and her committee, and the Show planned for June 6th bids fair to surpass that previously held.

All exhibits must be in place by 10 a. m., and may not be removed before the closing of the Show. Ribbons will be awarded for each class, and a prize will be given for the most outstanding exhibit by popular vote. Only one exhibit may be made in a class, but any one may enter any or all classes. All entries, except in Class V must be given by the exhibitor. There are ten classes, as follows, and information may be obtained from the chairman in charge of each:

Class 1. Children's exhibit of flowers; chairman, Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer. Tel. W. N. 0212. Class 2. Flower arrangement in ten cent container; chairman, Mrs. Bernard C. Maloney. W. N. 3179. Class 3. Luncheon table set for two, no flat silver to be used; chairman, Mrs. George A. Follett. W. N. 2417M. Class 4. Arrangement of yellow flowers in any container; chairman, Mrs. Guy M. Winslow. W. N. 1084W. Class 5. Arrangement of flowers in any container; chairman, Mrs. R. A. Balch. W. N. 2342. Class 6. Arrangement of one or three blooms; chairman, Mrs. W. P. DeWitt. W. N. 2341. Class 7. Arrangement on small table for living room; chairman, Mrs. Thomas W. Ferguson. W. N. 0286V. Class 8. Potpourri in single specimen; chairman, Mrs. Paul A. Chandler. W. N. 2426. Class 9. Iris, single specimen; chairman, Miss Florence E. Tower. W. N. 0580. Class 10. Oriental Potpourri, single specimen; chairman, Mrs. Arthur L. Shaw. W. N. 3176.

Judges will be Mrs. Joseph D. Snell, Mr. Matthew F. Ruane, and Mr. Frank Allison.

Mrs. Grover's committee includes Mrs. John P. Brown, Jr., Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, and Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes.

Two interesting trips have been arranged for the enjoyment of Club members during June. The Art committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, under the direction of Mrs. John I. Heibek, chairman, will sponsor a trip to Salem on June 7th, those going to leave the Club House at 9:30 a. m. If the 7th is stormy, the trip will be taken on June 9th.

The same committee has arranged also for a trip to the Hammond Museum, Gloucester, on June 21st, the party leaving the Club House at 9:30 a. m. Arrangements have been made to be conducted through the Museum at 11 a. m. If the 21st is stormy, the trip will be taken on June 23rd.

A meeting of the International Relations committee of the Club was held at the Auburndale Club House on Thursday, May 25th, at 3 p. m. The meeting was largely attended and plans for the coming year were discussed. Refreshments were served at the close of the session by the chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, as hostess.

State Federation

ANNUAL MEETING. Continuing from last week, record of sessions began on Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock; a second lovely day of blue skies, warmth, and sparkling ocean.

Since last September clubwomen have made a practice of "listening in" on Saturday mornings over WBZ from 11:30 to 12 noon, to see what offerings of activities and interests Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, of Brockton, State Radio director, had corralled for their informing or entertainment. Her report, therefore, is interesting, for in it she admitted that fan letters have become a hobby with her. She has enlisted no less than 500 members in her "Tribe of Abon Ben Adhem" membership in which requires participation in the programs, either in person or by contribution of an anecdote or poem. The Second District is the most popular "fan" region, and The Philadelphians of Braintree lead in tribe membership, with the Wollaston Woman's Club ranking second.

An outstanding address was given on this afternoon by Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, Boston School committee woman, and now chairman of Education for the General Federation. She made rousing comments upon the problem of education as affected in these days of depression, that should be well considered by all good citizens, and she offered two suggestions worthy of being tried out. In a ringing challenge she asked: "Shall we in our present economic stress, allow our standard of education to rise or fall with the stock market? Shall we allow a financial depression to threaten our children's future—to deprive them of what we Americans consider an inalienable right—the right to the best that schools can give? Can we afford not to educate our children? "I am not a propagandist, but one of the needs of the hour, in my opinion, is that the subject of finance be divorced from the subject of education. Inadequate salaries, poorly qualified and underpaid teachers, and cheap buildings do not always mean that they involve the least outlay of money.

"Usually the individual business man is as uninformed in school administration as are teachers in the management of business. Unwise attacks upon school or business may ruin either. There is a need in every community for free conference of all interested in education. School people, business men, women's clubs and individual parents—the greatest interest of the community—the education of its children—must have the united consideration of all. We have been operating in separate groups. Let us get together for the good of the schools and of the children in those schools.

"Of the many problems in education today, the most discouraging and tragic of all is how to rearrange our system of education so that the college graduate, the high school graduate, has a fair chance of being absorbed into some gainful occupation.

"There is one problem which presses with undeniable insistence for solution. Our high schools are graduating thousands of young men and young women each June, eager to enter the business world or to continue their studies, yet they will be prevented from doing either of these things by conditions for which they are in no way responsible.

"Two procedures seem to me concurrently feasible. Each would be an emergency measure. First, a definite status should be given to post-graduates in our high schools. Communities should set up temporarily a distinct division of the school system to safeguard their well-being, and, above all, some qualified person should be given definite responsibility for this group and its proper care and direction.

"Second, I think some of our most populous centres should go further and organize emergency junior colleges, to be operated at a minimum cost, in buildings which could be had at little or no expense. Educational leaders and public-minded citizens could do no greater service at this critical hour than to give merited consideration to these post-high school problems. Energy and intelligence applied at this point will return abundant dividends in wise, orderly and well-oriented citizens."

Turning to the educational possibilities of the radio, Mrs. Pigeon declared that the challenge of cheap and repulsively thrilling programs would be taken up. She promised some decisive action by the General Federation at Richmond. Stating that dime novels and slap-stick type of radio programs were undoing the work of teachers in the schools in educating the children, she announced that these programs "had gone too far, and something will have to be done about it."

"These amazing types of blood and thunder stories send the children to bed to dream horrible dreams, and these dreams are frequently carried over into their subconscious minds and are very harmful."

Mrs. Pigeon said she had visited some homes where the children were so engrossed in listening to the radio that they would actually fall to welcome her.

"They don't want to miss a single one of the episodes," she said, "yet some of them are much worse than the stories in the old dime novels that mothers forbade their children to read."

In outlining her program to effect a change from the present commercial control, Mrs. Pigeon said that the women's clubs would probably seek to have a Federal Commission appointed by the President to make a survey of the whole field of radio. Women, she said, will, no doubt, play a big part in advising this commission.

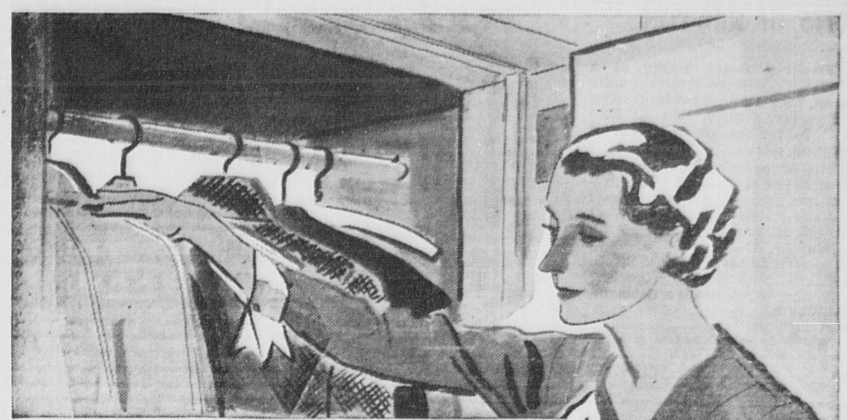

Always having appeal, according to Mrs. Charles E. P. Thompson of New Bedford, chairman of Literature and Drama, people are turning more than ever to amateur dramatic organizations for relief and recreation in these trying times. An outstanding achievement in drama this year has been the playwriting contest sponsored by Old Colony Woman's Club of South Weymouth. Of the 15 original plays submitted from all parts of the state, the first prize went to Mrs. Alice Chaplin, of South Weymouth, and the second to Arrola Bush Cole, of Danvers. An outcome of the contest is the scholarship to be awarded to a girl studying dramatic art.

Consideration of education, drama, and literature, in the state hospital, during the morning session, the afternoon one on Wednesday took up problems of musical entertainment, in finances, musical entertainment, and child welfare.

"Why not use part of your leisure time in the study of family finance?" was the challenge of Mrs. Norman H. Hastings of Roslindale, chairman of the division of the American Home, sounding an oft-repeated note. "This is an ideal time to start your spending plan. Some of us have been surprised at the results obtained by this study."

Mrs. Hastings announced that the present holder of the scholarship to the Garland School of Homemaking had been Miss Margaret A. Smith, of Boston, and that it will be conferred again in the fall upon the best girl applying, judged on a competitive basis. She will welcome the names of girls worthy of this honor.

"Our women's clubs of the entire state are alive, alert and wide awake to the place music holds in the souls of us all," asserted Mrs. George F. Schroeder, of Needham. Music chairman, expressing gratitude at the very evident revival of music in the personal experience of club members. Latent talents again have been permitted to appear, she said, and music in the home, the neighborhood, and in the community has been fostered in the enforced leisure. Home groups estate owners to take care of the difficulties of depression. He anticipated that the credit of municipalities would be restored. The two billion dollars in the savings bank had been put there by people who build homes, and that sixty per cent of it was secured by real estate. If the tax rate could be reduced, he said, real estate would increase in valuation, and there would be re-created a market for real estate and many foreclosures would be prevented.

Following the departure of Governor Ely, Adele Ames appeared in a three-act play, "The Devil's Disciple."

Among the important matters which are under serious consideration by leaders in the State Federation is the question of continuing the publication of the Federation Topics, the official organ of the State Federation. Miss Alice F. Titus, originator, business manager and editor for the past 12 years, and who has worked for its development, until now it is recognized as one of the best State Federation magazines in the country, has retired, much to the regret of clubwomen.

Owing to the conditions of the present day, it seemed advisable to discontinue the last two issues, but there is a movement on foot to have a publication of this important subject of publicity and an official organ to keep clubwomen informed as to the happenings in their own organization.

W. C. T. U. Urges Newton Voters to Oppose Repeal

Say Drink Problem Must Be Solved by Education

The following plea to the voters of Newton to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote against repealing the 18th Amendment, was sent to the GRAPHIC by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Newton Centre. This organization is actively campaigning in behalf of the "dry" cause. The drive to repeal prohibition is exceptionally dangerous because:

1.—It is unaccompanied by any intelligent move to cope with the liquor problem.

2.—It is obviously planned to put liquor control in the hands of those interested in increasing the consumption of liquor rather than in reducing or limiting consumption.

Many people have been led to believe the "liquor problem" can be solved by some method of sale, which is relatively a minor element. The real problem is to be solved by individual education in the scientific facts of alcohol, and through public appreciation of the destructive anti-social character of intoxicating liquor. This leads logically to total abstinence and prohibition.

Prohibition has been subjected to years of one sided propaganda, founded on a plan to substitute a tax on liquor for the corporation and income levies. There is an illogical hysteria to "balance the budget" by repeal. Balancing the budget on the terms required by the liquor habit will probably cost the American people five dollars for every dollar collected. This indirect cost includes the maintenance of hospitals, asylums, almshouses, orphanages, private charities. Repeal means drunken accidents, bad debts, fires, loss of earning power.

Repeal means the saloon; tremendous quantities of hard liquor as well as beer. It means drunkenness and drunken automobile driving; it means degradation in the home and in the nation.

Vote for the three delegates opposed to ratification (against Repeal). Alice M. Morton, Sidney R. Porter, Elizabeth Tilton.

Celebrates First High Mass At Our Lady's Church

Rev. Daniel J. Kelly celebrated his first solemn high mass on last Sunday at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. He was assisted by Rev. Robert Mandle as deacon, and Rev. Daniel Rioridan as subdeacon. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Fr. Moran, S.J., of Weston College. Father Kelly is the son of Mrs. Sarah (Cain) Kelly of Duxbury and the late Michael Kelly, who for some years was sexton of St. John's Church, Newton Lower Falls. He studied at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, and was ordained at Hartford on May 25. He will serve in the diocese of Portland, Oregon. Following the mass a reception was tendered to the new priest at the home of his aunt, Miss Minnie Cain on Peachbody st., Newton. He has a brother, Thomas Kelly, a brother in the Jesuit Order, and who is stationed at Weston College.

Stable Permit Given Over Protest

Carmelo Gringeri of 46 Farwell st., Newtonville, has been given a permit by the Board of Health to keep a horse in a barn on his premises. Mrs. Della McDonald of 50 Farwell st. had protested against such a permit being granted. Alderman Roy Collins of Newtonville, acting as Mayor in the absence of Mayor Weeks inspected Gringeri's premises and recommended that the permit be granted.

Would Let Down Bars on Zoning In Newton

Alderman Cronin Argues For More Leniency

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the petition of Albert H. Webber for a permit to erect a refreshment stand at 2133 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, was turned down. This locus is in a residence zone. Webber has only recently moved to Auburndale from Boston and is not on the assessors' poll list. The petition was reported on adversely by both the Claims & Rules and Licenses Committees.

Alderman Cronin of Auburndale, who is serving his first year on the Board advocated the granting of the petition. Cronin argued that Webber, who has bought the property in question, is a war veteran, in poor health and can't get work. He only wants to erect the booth for the sale of ice cream and tonic during the warm months, and the neighbors have not protested against the petition. Cronin argued that Boards of Aldermen in the past have made changes in zoning and that other changes will be made in the future. He said that the Constitution of the United States has been changed very often and that zoning changes in Newton should be made whenever conditions warrant. He commented that he did not believe Webber would make much profit in his proposed venture, but he should be granted the permit.

Alderman Gallagher said that while all the members of the Board sympathize with Webber, or with anyone in distress, help in some other way should be found for him. Gallagher said that if the Aldermen let down the bars in zoning to aid Webber, the Board would spend much of its time in the future considering similar petitions and the zoning in Newton would be threatened. He urged that Webber's permit be refused.

$50,000 More For High Level Sewer

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night the sum of $50,000 was appropriated for the construction of the high level sewer which is being constructed at Newton and Newtonville. Alderman Cronin asked why it was necessary to appropriate this money? Alderman Murray, chairman of the Public Works Committee said that more money is required to complete this project. President Collins of the Board explained that it was estimated that this work would cost $375,000 and that the original appropriation was $300,000. In the construction of the sewer at the Newtonville end, near Cabot Park, considerable quicksand was encountered, which has added to the expense.

Illegally Built Greenhouses to Stay

Domenic Uttaro of 331 Grove st., Auburndale, was granted a permit by the Aldermen on Monday night for a greenhouse which he erected many months ago without a permit in a residence zone. Last year the Aldermen refused Uttaro a permit for this building because of the fact it had been illegally erected, and it was supposed that the Public Buildings Department would compel the structure to be torn down, but in other cases, the violation of the law was condoned. The Claims & Rules Committee of this year's Board recommended that Uttaro be given the permit.

Alderman Grebenstein said that the building does not project very high above ground and is really a hothouse; it adjoins property of the Boston & Albany railroad.

Alderman Temperley opposed the granting of the permit. He said that Uttaro had erected the building without a permit and was getting away with it, while another property owner on Grove st. who had properly asked for a green house permit, had been refused a couple of times.

Andover Observes Hundred Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

Newton-Andover Confers Many Degrees on Tuesday

"The new day demands a new deal which must be initiated by the indigenous churches on the foreign field, whose call for special service will be irresistible to young life in our colleges and seminaries," declared Dr. Enoch F. Bell, Editorial Secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, in an address Tuesday afternoon, in the First Congregational Church of Newton Centre, on the occasion of the 125th anniversary of Andover Theological Seminary.

"And what is coming? First, the rethinking of missions that is now going on will give such a scientific and philosophical basis for a Christian world mission as will remove the serious, devastating doubt that has been in the minds of intellectual leaders in our seminaries and churches. Second, the reevaluation of the missionary enterprise caused by the national and international, economic, social, and ethical crisis through which we have been passing is bound to evaluate in a new experience of God in the heart and life of the individual, and this in turn will provide the Church of America with that inner missionary urge which is a sine qua non for the revival of voluntary giving in men, money and prayer to world missionaries so vitally needed right now."

"Third, the indigenous churches of the so-called mission fields will come to realize that they have their part to play in the development of a new and dynamic sense of responsibility in America for Christian service with us better than they do today. They will set aside definite pieces of thought and life-work that will not be done unless American missionaries do it—work, too, of such difficult and diversified nature as to challenge the best in our people."

"Fourth, there must come, and will come, such an offering of young life that our churches, or individuals and groups therein, will begin to give to missions as they began a century and a quarter ago. What the new ecclesiastical systems, apportionment plans, every member canvasses, commissions on missions and board secretaries have not been able to supply in their costly 'education' cultivation and their high pressure 'promotional' drives will be done in a day by these young men and women on fire with missionary conviction, zeal and purpose."

The combined institutions granted degrees as follows: Doctor of Divinity, 7; Bachelor of Divinity, Andover, 7; Newton 17; Bachelor of Religious Education, 8; Master of Sacred Theology, 5.

Hospital Graduates Twenty-Six Nurses

The Nurses Training School of the Newton Hospital graduated 26 nurses last Thursday. Rev. Randolph Merrill offered the invocation. President Marsh delivered the address and the diplomas were presented by Mr. Edmond J. Frost, President of the Board of Trustees.

The graduating exercises were held as usual in a large tent on the hospital grounds. Over five hundred people attended the exercises. The following scholarships were announced by Mrs. George E. Talbot, President of the Hospital Aid Association: Miss Doris Hennessey, Attleboro, First Year Scholarship of $50; Miss Helen Dolloff, Brookline, Second Year Scholarship of $75; Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Attleboro, Third Year Fellowship of $250. Miss Audrey Bennett, Cambridge and Miss Holly Bury, New Brunswick, were chosen as first and second alternates to use the Third Year Fellowship.

On Thursday night at the Senior Formal at the Woodland Golf Club the following were patrons: Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wilson, Dr. George L. West, Miss Annie W. Doughty, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Keel, Miss Bertha W. Allen, Miss Nell A. Hostetter.

June Weddings of Newton Popular Young People

Many Friends at Bancroft-Dow Ceremony

Miss Marjorie Stone Dow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Dow of 56 Columbia st., Newton Highlands was married to Hugh Bancroft, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bancroft of Cohasset and Boston, at four o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, June seventh, in St. Paul's Church, Newton Highlands. Rev. Chas. O. Farrar performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Milo Gates, dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a small cap and veil of Duchess lace, and carried white orchids. Mrs. Winfield F. Robinson sister of the bride of New York, was the matron of honor. The other attendants were Mrs. William C. Cox (Jessie Bancroft), and Miss Jane Bancroft of Cohasset, sisters of the groom; Miss Susan Orr of Worcester, Miss Cynthia Lynch of Brookline, Miss Constance Green of Winchester, Miss Shirley Northgrave of Ogunquit, Maine. They all wore gowns of white batiste over yellow satin with hats to match and carried spring flowers.

William C. Cox, brother-in-law of the groom, of Cohasset was the best man. The ushers were Harley S. Jones of Pittsfield, Thomas G. Cox of Hyde Park and Butler Cox of New York, Fred Wetach of Shrewsbury, N. J., James A. Dow of West Newton, and Kenneth C. Dow of Newton Highlands, brothers of the bride, Winfield Robinson, brother-in-law of the bride, and William A. Bancroft, cousin of the groom.

A reception was held at the Woodland Golf Club following the church ceremony.

On the return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft will be at home in Cohasset after July first.

The bride attended Miss Burnham's School in Northampton. The groom attended Noble and Greenough School. He is a member of the Cohasset Hunt Golf and Yacht Clubs and the Grotto Hunt Club.

BOLSTER—WARREN

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Warren, daughter of Mrs. H. Ray Warren of Evanson, Ill., to Richard Daniel Bolster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Bolster of 29 Exeter st., West Newton, took place on Saturday afternoon, June 3rd, in Fuller Chapel of the Second Church in West Newton. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Henry Chamberlain Warren. Dr. Boynton Merrill performed the ceremony.

The bride had no attendants. Marshall Bolster, brother of the groom, was the best man.

After June 15 Mr. and Mrs. Bolster will be at home at 505 Wayland ave., Providence, Rhode Island.

The bride is a graduate of Dana Hall, Wellesley, and of the Erskine School of Boston. The groom attended Phillips Exeter Academy and is a graduate of Harvard, 1928, and the Harvard School of Business Administration, class of 1930. He is now engaged in business in Providence.

RICHARDSON—HENRICH

Miss Ruth Henrich, daughter of Mrs. Louis Richard Henrich of Central st., Auburndale, was married to William V. Richardson of Danielson, Conn., in Gordon Chapel of the Old South Church, Boston, on Saturday afternoon, June third. Rev. Daniel Bliss, assistant pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Henrich, as maid of honor. Lawrence Robinson of Danielson, Conn., was the best man.

A small reception was held in the chapel following the ceremony.

On their return from their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will reside in Danielson, Conn., where they will be at home after July 1st.

The bride attended Wheaton College with the class of 1929 and has been employed as an assistant secretary at the Boston Y. W. C. A. The groom attended Northeastern University.

SHERWOOD—KINNEY

A double wedding took place following the graduation exercises at the Andover-Newton Theological School on Wednesday night, when two young couples, students of the school, were married in the presence of the graduating class.

Miss Catherine D. Kinney of Glastonbury, Conn. was married to Everett A. Sherwood of Salem, Mass. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father, Rev. Ralph Sherwood of Salem and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert H. Kinney. She was attended by Miss Helen Stannock as maid of honor and Miss Irma Folsom, as bridesmaid. Everett F. Leshar was the best man.

Miss Irma Folsom of Muskogee, Oklahoma, was married to Thomas P. Warfield of Nebraska. Rev. Everett C. Herriek, president of the Theological School performed the ceremony and the bride was given away by Rev. J. H. Pollard, dean of Bacone College, Oklahoma, which the bride attended before coming to the Newton school. She was attended by Miss Ruth Clark as bridesmaid and Mr. Robert Bell was the best man.

After the ceremony the two couples left for Glastonbury, Conn. Mr. Sherwood will have a church at Damascus, Maine and Mr. Warfield one at Pripet, Maine.

'Thumber' Causes Serious Auto Crash

A girl "thumbering" an automobile ride caused an accident in which three cars crashed Sunday afternoon on Commonwealth ave., West Newton, and several persons were injured, one of them seriously. The girl stood by the side of the avenue near Chestnut st. and the driver of a car stopped suddenly to give her ride. Following the car of the cavalier was one driven by Agnes Mahoney of 70 Prospect ave., Newton. She was compelled to stop suddenly and a car driven by Robert White of Winchester st., Brookline, crashed into her car. Marjorie White, S. of that address received a probable fracture of the skull, and Mrs. Margaret White, the child's mother, received cuts on the face. A car driven by Edward Wardia of Winship st., Brighton, hit the rear of the White car and Mrs. Elizabeth Wardia received cuts on the face and had a tooth knocked out. Dr. C. L. Farrell of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, who was driving by, gave first aid to the injured. The courteous autoist, whose sudden stopping was responsible for the pile up, did not identify himself, but drove off with his fair "hitch hiker."

Auto Hits Pole Woman Breaks Leg

A car driven by Arthur W. Ashenden of 37 Pine st., Newton Highlands got out of control opposite 21 Pine st., West Newton on Sunday afternoon, and hit a pole. Elizabeth Ashenden, a passenger in the car, received a fractured leg; Mr. Ashenden received cuts and bruises on the body. They were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Aldermen Attack Policy of Newton School Department

Criticise Refusal to Appoint Inexperienced Newton Girls

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night sharp criticisms were made by several of the members on the policy of the Newton School Department in refusing to appoint Newton girls to positions as teachers in the schools of this city unless they have had prior experience in other schools. Alderman Holden of Ward 6 brought this matter before the Board after the rout in business had been completed.

Mr. Holden said that the younger citizens of Newton are unable to find employment in this city. If a young graduate applies for a teaching job in the Newton public schools, he or she is turned down because they lack experience. Mr. Holden stated that it is impossible for Newton young men and women teachers to get this experience in other cities or towns because they are told when they endeavor to get appointed elsewhere—

"We are taking care of our own." He said that he does not want to try to interfere with the School Committee, but some action should be taken to enable young residents of Newton who have graduated from colleges to have an opportunity to get positions in our schools, instead of having such positions given to outsiders. Alderman Sprout of Ward 1 agreed with Alderman Holden and said he hoped an investigation will be made and some action taken.

President Collins of the Board commented—"I hope the newer aldermen will be more successful in this matter than older aldermen have been."

Alderman Temperley said that former Supt. of Schools Spaulding gave appointments to young, inexperienced teachers of promise, starting them at low salaries. Temperley commented that the Aldermen should show more interest in regarding the Newton schools. President Collins stated that he believes the aldermen have no authority to pass any ordinance specifying that Newton residents shall be given preference in appointments to teaching positions, and City Solicitor Bartlett agreed with him.

Alderman Gallagher of Ward 1 said that for 20 years Boards of Aldermen have been trying to do something with School Committees, and have not succeeded. The various school committees in the past have refused to allow Newton girls to teach in the Newton schools without salaries, according to Gallagher. He stated that the school committees have taken a "Holler than Thou" attitude, and the only recognition they have given the aldermen has been to ask for $1,500,000 appropriations to run the schools.

Unchained Dogs Being Caught

For the past week an automobile has been cruising the city for the purpose of rounding up dogs which are not restrained in conformity with the 30 day quarantine recently ordered by the Board of Aldermen. The "dog catching" car is operated by John L. O'Dea of West Newton, and the dog catcher is Benjamin Thomas, Jr., of West Newton.

On Monday afternoon 400 dogs were brought to the gymnasium behind the Newton High School to be immunized against rabies. Dr. Boutelle was assisted by two men in handling the dogs during the operation. A short fight between an Airedale and a police dog, the former being the aggressor. On Wednesday afternoon about 400 more dogs were brought to be immunized.

Missile Thrown By Hoodlums Strikes Woman

Mrs. Bert Thomas of 27 Fuller st., Waltham, a passenger in a Boston Elevated car which arrived at Newton Corner about 6:45 Wednesday evening was hit in the face by a tomato hurled by one of a group of young hoodlums near the corner of Park and Washington sts. The missile went through an open window and knocked off Mrs. Thomas' eyeglasses. Patrolman Taffe was told of the matter when the car stopped at Monument Square, where when he reached the scene of the assault the boys had vanished.

Election Tuesday On Repeal of 18th Amendment

City Will Also Vote on Beer
Licenses

Next Tuesday, June 13th, is the day on which the special election will be held to elect delegates to the Constitution Convention called to take action on the retention or repeal of the 18th Amendment. Ten States have already voted in favor of repeal, including the erstwhile "dry" stronghold—Indiana, which voted on Tuesday of this week. Thirty-six States must vote in favor of repeal before the 18th Amendment would be revoked. The "dry" candidates in the 9th Congressional District, which includes the City of Newton are—Alice M. Morton, Brookline; Sidney R. Porter, Newton Centre; Elizabeth Tilton, Cambridge. They are opposed to repeal. The "wet" candidates are—James Roosevelt, Cambridge; Daniel H. Coakley, Jr., Brighton; B. Loring Young, Weston. They favor repeal.

The polling places for Tuesday's election are as follows—Ward 1, Precinct 1, Stearns School, Ward 2, Precinct 1, Fire Station, Washington st.; Ward 2, Precincts 1 and 5, vacant store at 841 Washington st.; Precincts 2 and 4, old Clafin School building; Precinct 3, Hose 8 building, Nonantum; Ward 3, Precincts 1 and 2, Davis School; Precinct 2, Pierce Burr School; Precinct 2, Lower Falls Library; Ward 5, Precinct 1, Emerson School; Precincts 2 and 4, Hyde School; Precinct 3, Angier School; Ward 6, Precincts 1, 3 and 4, Newton Centre Woman's Club; Precinct 1, Parish House, Hammond st.; Ward 7, Precincts 1 and 2, Underwood School. The polling places will open at 7 a. m., and close at 8 p. m.

In addition to voting for delegates to the Constitutional Convention which will decide on the repeal of the 18th Amendment, the citizens of Newton will next Tuesday vote on the question—"Shall licenses be granted in this city for the sale therein of wines and malt beverages?" Malt beverages of not more than 3.2% alcoholic content have been on sale in this city the past couple of months by permission of Mayor Weeks, with the approval of the Board of Aldermen. Thirty-four licenses for the sale of beer in bottles by grocery stores and markets were granted. This is the limit allowed in this city by the law enacted by the Legislature. There are 8 other applications for licenses on file. Thirty-five licenses were granted to commercial victuallers for the sale of beer to be drunk on the premises. Each type of license cost $50 for a three months' period. The sale of beer has not been large, but the market and grocery men in the city desire them because customers would go to out-of-town stores and trade if the local dealers could not supply the malt beverage to those who desire it.

The "dry" organizations in this city have been working quietly and persistently and will poll most of their strength next Tuesday. There are voters in Newton who will vote in favor of repeal and against local licensing, and there are other voters who will favor the sale of the light beer, but who will oppose the repeal of the 18th Amendment.

On Monday afternoon 400 dogs were brought to the gymnasium behind the Newton High School to be immunized against rabies. Dr. Boutelle was assisted by two men in handling the dogs during the operation. A short fight between an Airedale and a police dog, the former being the aggressor. On Wednesday afternoon about 400 more dogs were brought to be immunized.

MORE PEOPLE BUY BUICKS THAN ALL OTHER EIGHTS IN ITS PRICE RANGE COMBINED!

BECAUSE BUICK GIVES MORE AND BETTER MILES

People look at the 11 eights in Buick's price range, and buy more Buicks than all of the rest combined.*

There are 600,000 more people driving Buicks than the next most popular car in Buick's price range.

Every state in the Union purchases more Buicks than any other automobile priced above $1,000.*

Five times as many people buy Buicks as any other car priced above $1,000—eights, twelves or sixteens.*

Every city with a population of 125,000 or over buys more Buicks than any other car priced above $1,000.*

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

TWO-MILE RELAY QUARTET SETS NEW MARK AT STATE RELAY

The two-mile relay quartet of Newton High school set a new mark at the annual State Relay championships at Fitchburg last Saturday in the feature race of the afternoon. Medford High after a stirring battle with Newton High carried off the team honors in the Class D competition for larger high schools with a total of 13 points, three more than scored by Newton. Medford's victory shattered Newton hopes of returning the present trophy as the orange and black had twice previously captured honors. It was Medford's second victory and another year it should be a great battle between Newton and Medford for first honors.

The Newton two-mile record was one of three marks to be improved as Medford in Class B and Fairhaven in Class C set new records in the mile and the 880-yard relays in their respective classes. Hugh Owens, Roger Maynard, Capt. Tom Fitzgerald, and Allan Freeman were the wearers of the orange and black who turned in the new figures. They were clocked in 8 min. 26 seconds to lower the figures of 8 min. 29 5-10 seconds set by Quincy High a year ago.

Medford piled up a substantial lead on the first two legs of the race before Maynard turned over his baton to Freeman. Freeman, who is largely a sophomore, turned in a half-mile leg of 2 min. and 2 sec. to burn up the track. He wiped out Medford's lead and turned over a 25-yard advantage to Captain Tommy Fitzgerald, racing anchor. Fitz held the margin as he turned in a half-mile leg of 2 min. 3 1-5 seconds. Medford was nearly disqualified in this race as one of its runners tucked his baton inside of his jersey while he ran. After a conference the remainder of the field was warned not to do likewise or disqualification would result.

Medford's team victory came through the quarter-mile sprint relay, the next to the last event in the Class D division. Newton despite poor passing of the baton at times was leading the field with a 45 3-5 seconds timing. Medford, with smooth stick-handling, breezed over the tape in 45 1-5 seconds to wrest the honors from Newton.

Sloane, Quigley, Wilkes and York were the Newton quartet in the 440-yard relay and Wilkes, Davis, York and Sloane the four in the 880-yard event. Second place in the former and third place in the latter came Newton's four in their respective classes. Myrick and Fitzgerald turned in a third place in the mile event for another point and the two-mile quartet's first place brought the additional five points to give Newton its ten point total.

Sports Briefs

Spencer deMille, former Newton high and Wentworth Institute athlete, pitched for the Wentworth alumni last Saturday in its annual game with the varsity. deMille fanned five and passed seven in losing 15 to 2 as the varsity belted his offerings for the victory. Albie Fletcher tripped for one of the two extra base blows in the Yale game with the Harvard Grads last Saturday which the latter won 12 to 5. Francis Gleason singled in the sixth inning of the Harvard-Holy Cross game last Saturday driving in a teammate with the only run of a 6-1 defeat for the Crimson. Mrs. William Ferris (Harriet Ellison) and Clark Hodder were defeated in the second round of the State mixed-four-some golf championships at Dedham last Saturday—the local pair lost 1 up to Miss Richards and W. O. Ken. The winners after winning their first round match from Mrs. E. H. Baker, Jr., and W. Faversham, 3 and 2. Miss Marie Bournet and her brother Henri of the Harvard golf team, from Chestnut Hill, won their first and second round matches in the match second division on Sunday. The local pair breezed through the semi-final and final rounds to win the honors in their division—meanwhile Jesse Guilford of Brae Burn and his partner Miss Jean Scribner won the State championship in the main event downing Miss Parkinson and Hunter in a 19 hole final match. Mel Hemen of Lower Falls played in eleven of the Univ. of Penn's 12-game intercollegiate schedule and wound up with a batting average of .317 for ninth place in the list issued Monday.

The local youth is tied for first with Snow of Dartmouth and his team mate Powell for total hits, each having 13. Hemen's record shows 11 games played, 41 times at bat, 9 runs scored, 13 hits, 4 stolen bases, 3 runs batted in, for a batting average of .317. Vice-President Carl Ell of Northeastern University and a Newtonville resident will pitch for the Husky faculty tomorrow in a baseball game with the Class of 1933 at the annual field day of the Hub school at Riverside—the Class challenged the faculty and the latter has named the weapon as a "soft" baseball.

Bradford Dyer, N. H. S. '32, has been elected captain of the Bridgton Academy baseball nine—he has also earned varsity letters in football and basketball as well as being an honor pupil throughout the year. Roger W. Cutler of Newton sailed this week for England with the members of the Kent School of Commerce, varsity crew. The crew will participate in the Henley regatta in its third attempt to lift the Thames Challenge Cup next month—the Philadelphia National league team played an exhibition game with the Lowell Club of the New England league Monday night at Lowell winning 11 to 7. It was a free hitting game with nine home runs going over the short right field fence. Bill Hunnefeld, playing short for Lowell made one of the four made for Lowell players. Nashua took over the Quincy franchise in the N. E. circuit recently and Wednesday night defeated Lowell 8 to 6. Tommy Gilligan, playing left field for Nashua,

NEWTON CLOSES SEASON WITH WIN OVER BROOKLINE

The Newton High School baseball team closed its season last Saturday afternoon with a 4-3 last minute victory over its ancient rival, Brookline High at the Clafin field diamond in Newtonville. Incidentally the victory enabled the orange and black to tie Rindge Tech for second place in the Suburban league race this year and pushed the Brooklines into the cellar. Prior to the game Newton and Brookline had been tied for the lowest rung on the ladder. It was Pete Morrison's timely hit with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth that pushed Capt. Huston over with the winning run after the score had been knotted at three-all for several innings.

The visitors took a two-run lead in the second inning after Giles had re-fired three batters in the first frame without a lookin'. In that second frame Walsh, the first batter, caught hold of one of Giles' pitches and drove it down the right field foul line for a home run. Flanagan followed with another lousy sock that was good for three bases. He later scored on an out at first.

Meanwhile Freedman was finding little difficulty in turning back Newton. In the fourth Brookline added another run to its lead after Friani had misjudged Walsh's fly to left and the hit had gone for two bases. Then Newton got back into the game. Houghton singled and Kevorkian lifted a loft fly to right field where Flanagan lost the ball in the sun and it went for a home run as Kevorkian chased Houghton around the bases.

In the seventh Huston singled, stole second, moved along to third and infield out at first and scored on Houghton's single, tying the score at three runs each.

Brookline threatened in the eighth and the ninth but Giles tightened in the pinches and staved off any score. In the first of the ninth Brookline threatened but Giles tightened in the pinches and staved off any score.

Then Newton came through with the fireworks after Giles fanned to open the inning. Huston drove a hard single to centre field and promptly stole second base. Flagg singled to short left field and Huston was held at third. Houghton beat out a punt down the third base line for another single filling the bases. Kevorkian popped out and Morrison strode to the plate. The husky Newton catcher had tried four times previous to connect but had failed to reach first. After Flagg had reached first Coach Fitzgerald of Brookline yanked Freeman and sent him to the mound in an effort to stem the tide. Houghton's punt was the first greeting to Mullen and with Morrison in the batter's box and two away Mullen went to work. Morrison saw one he liked and drove a sharp single into left centre sending Huston across with the winning counter.

Last week Friday Cambridge Latin pounded out an 11 to 2 win over Rindge Tech to retain the Suburban League championship for the second successive year. The final league standing:

	W.	L.	Pts.
Cambridge Latin	4	2	8
NEWTON	3	3	6
Rindge Tech	3	3	6
Brookline	2	4	4

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Manager J. N. Snyder of the Paramount Theatre, Newton, announces that dreams of movie fame and fortune may be realized by Newton aspirants. There are soon to be screen tests open to this community which may send the successful candidates direct to Hollywood. Paramount Productions, Inc. is conducting a nationwide search for new talent. Thirty young people, girls and boys, will be selected on the test of physical perfection, who will have parts in the forthcoming Paramount production, "The Search for Beauty." Registration blanks will be provided at the theatre, and applicants will be required to submit photographs of themselves.

RESCUE TWO FROM DROWNING AT NORUMBEGA

Sunday evening at 6:15 a canoe containing a young man and woman capsized in the Charles River about 300 feet from the Norumbega motorboat float. Kenneth Prior and Roland Freeman went to the rescue in a motor launch. When they reached the spot the young woman had gone down once. She and her companion were pulled into the launch and Freeman freed the girl's lungs of water and started resuscitation while the boat raced to the float. The unconscious girl was taken to the Metropolitan Police station in the police launch and revived.

scored three runs making three hits. The double by the Harvard varsity defeated the Harvard Grads Wednesday 4 to 3 in an 11-inning game. Frank Gleason, playing first for the varsity and batting fourth was prominent in the victory—he made three hits, two of which were doubles, and scored three runs. Gleason's four runs, one of which was the winning tally—his double in the sixth with two out and crossing the plate after a wild pitch tied the score at one-all. Gleason's double in the ninth and a pinch hitter's single brought the Newton boys home with the tying run, one after the other had taken the lead—again in the tenth Gleason's single and two passes filled the sacks and another pass forced Gleason home with the winning run. George Bennett and James Murphy were the two Newton youths to earn freshman baseball insignia at Northeastern University this season.

OUR LADY HIGH DROPS TWO GAMES AS RACE NEARS END

Our Lady High dropped two games the past week to practically eliminate itself from the race for honors in the Greater Boston Catholic High School league circuit. The defeats dropped the local nine, 1932 champions, from second place to fourth and leaves it with the barest chance of repeating. A week ago four teams were, and the St. Mary High teams of Immaculate Conception High of Revere, and the St. Mar High teams of Brookline and Waltham. The Revere nine was the first to drop out of the picture and with its two losses this week Our Lady High is almost out, leaving the race narrowed down to the two St. Mary nines. The pace-setters, St. Mary's of Brookline, have two more games to play and in winning both would clinch the title. By dropping one of these games, however, an opportunity would exist for the Waltham St. Mary's outfit to tie by winning both of its two remaining contests. The only possibility that Our Lady High has of tying for honors is to win all four of its remaining games while the Brookline team is losing both of its games and the Waltham team is losing one of its two contests to be played. In this event all three would be tied for the championship.

Both of the games Our Lady High lost this week were by the margin of but one run. On Tuesday the locals lost a 7 to 6 decision to St. Clement's of Medford and on Wednesday dropped a 6 to 5 game to Immaculate Conception High. In this game played at Newton the visitors got off to a 3 run start to handicap the locals. Our Lady got back into the game with two runs in the second frame and single tallies in the sixth and seventh brought the count to 4-all as Immaculate Conception had tallied once in the third inning. In the eighth a two-run rally put the visitors out front again and although Our Lady threatened in the ninth, scoring one run, the tying score was not forthcoming.

Sacred Heart High of Newton Centre, cellar occupants of the league, also dropped two games this week. On Tuesday after piling up an 8 run lead on St. Charles of Waltham, the Newton Centre nine then went to pieces and had all kinds of trouble with the Waltham team eventually winning, 22 to 10. On Wednesday, Sacred Heart High almost crashed into the win column for the first time but lost a tough game to Cathedral High by the score of 7 to 6. Leo Mouzan, Sacred Heart High twirler, limited the opposition to four hits but his mates kicked the game away.

The present league standing:

	W	L	RF	RA	P.C.
St. Mary's (B.)	11	3	113	65	.786
St. Mary's (W.)	10	4	141	73	.714

Hill and traffic performance? Yes—beyond every other stock-car in the world. But every proof of Essex Terraplane performance is also proof of Terraplane stamina and ruggedness.

Terraplanes stand up and perform so well because they are unit-built. They are the lowest-priced cars in their respective classes because Hudson unit-construction is more efficient—engineers say it is the biggest advance in motor-car building in 15 years.

Just drive the new, larger Terraplane Special Six, with 113-inch wheelbase—the biggest, roomiest, longest car in the lowest-price field. Here is genuine big-car room and comfort at small-car cost, with Terraplane performance, stamina and operating economy. A car you can't afford to miss, no matter how big and costly a car you've been used to.

He is survived by his widow, Mary Alice (Johnson), a sister, Abbie G. Chamberlain, two brothers, Edward G. of Auburndale, and Daniel A. of Gardiner, Me., and two nephews and three nieces. Funeral services were held in Session's Home Chapel, Friday, Rev. Harrison L. Packard officiating. A delegation of Old Fellows conducted their ritualistic service. Burial was at Newton Cemetery.

MRS. EMMA A. ADAMS

Mrs. Emma A. Adams, widow of Enoch C. Adams, died on June 6 at her home, 170 Otis street, Newtonville. She was born in Perry, New York, in 1851. Her father, Schuyler Haff, was a descendant of one of the pioneer Dutch families coming to Newton. Prior to her marriage with Mr. Adams in 1879 she taught in school at Plattburgh and Utica, New York and in New Jersey. After their marriage Mr. Adams was principal of high schools at Beverly, Newburyport, and New Britain before coming to Newton as principal of the Newton High School in 1897. He continued in this position until his death in 1921.

Mrs. Adams was a member of the Newton Hospital Ladies Aid, West Newton Junior Club, president of the Newtonville Women's Guild and the Episcopal Church.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hubert L. Carter of Newtonville and Mrs. Melville H. Haskell of Tucson, Arizona; three sisters, Harriet Haff of Newtonville; Mrs. Helen Belden of Bradstreet, Mass.; and Mrs. Will Smith of Saratoga, New York; and a brother, Frank Haff of Frankfort, Kentucky.

Her funeral service was held yesterday afternoon in the chapel at Mount Auburn Cemetery; Rev. William E. Gardner of Trinity Church, Boston, officiated.

MILDRED E. SIMPSON

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Karstens of California, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips of Northboro, with whom she made her home. She was a member of Mizpah Chapter, Eastern Star. Her funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2.30 at her late home on Whitney st., Northboro.

MRS. ELLEN CAMPBELL

Mrs. Ellen Campbell of 12 Fayette st., Newton, wife of John Campbell, died on June 2. She was born in Leitrim, Ireland, 74 years ago and had resided in Newton for over 50 years. Besides her husband she is survived by one son, Joseph A. Campbell of Newton; four daughters, Mrs. Rose Nicholson of Norwood, Mrs. Helen Quinn of West Newton, Miss Katherine Campbell of Newton and Mrs. Agnes Murphy of Watertown; and a brother, John Farrell of Newton. Her funeral service was held on Monday at Our Lady's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Rotary Club

"Government is secondary to the needs of the individual and the purpose of the state is to serve the individual," said William Frayer, formerly of the University of Michigan Faculty, and now of the Bureau of University Travel, to the Newton Rotary Club at their regular noon day meeting on Monday at the Brae Burn Club.

Mr. Frayer gave a scholarly discourse on the underlying philosophy of democracy. He claimed that the real basis and origin of current principles of democracy were created when, through the bloodless revolution of 1688 in England, the "Divine Right of Kings" theory was abandoned and the great thinkers of the day, headed by John Locke, justified a new philosophy—the principles of the inalienable rights of man. Such a recognition of rights imposes on members of a state the subscription to corresponding obligations and duties of the individual. Democracy, then, is sound and to justify his claim Mr. Frayer showed that only those countries which had a democratic form of government have subsisted during the War and Post War periods.

FRIENDS OF NUN IN ALASKA WILL HOLD BRIDGE PARTY

The Arctic Circle, composed of friends of Mother Mary of The Blessed Sacrament, who is stationed at St. Mary's Mission orphanage in Alaska, will hold its annual Bridge and Whist Party on next Monday evening at Bonnet Valley Room in Watertown sq. Mother Mary, formerly Miss Mary Hargadon of West Newton, Her orphanage and school in Akulurak, Alaska, contains over one hundred Eskimo children, who are being educated to meet modern conditions. Her Mission has been handicapped by the depression and a special effort is being made to keep this Mission active. Rev. Richard J. Cushing, Diocesan Director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, will be the guest at the party, and the committee on arrangements comprises Mrs. J. W. Donnelly of Watertown, Mrs. Frank Connelly of West Newton, Mrs. Fred Scribner of Auburndale, Mrs. William Dowling of West Newton, Mrs. John O'Halloran of Brighton, and Miss Mary E. Connolly of Brighton.

CIVIL ENGINEERS INSPECT SEWER

Street Commissioner George E. Stuart, officially welcomed the members of the Sanitary section of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers at Shaft No. 1 on the High Level Sewer, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Stuart and Mr. William P. Morse, City Engineer, as hosts, took the delegation on a tour of inspection of the High Level Sewer Construction. A short speech of welcome by the Street Commissioner gave a brief history of the physical and financial characteristics of Newton as well as a general outline of the passage through the City Government of the necessary legislation to make the High Level Sewer Job possible. Among those present in addition to Mr. Stuart and Mr. Morse were the following members of the firm of Metcalf and Eddy: Harrison P. Eddy, Almon L. Sales, E. Sherman Chase and Mr. Arthur Shaw.

Kiwanis Club

Edward M. Rowe was the speaker at the Tuesday noon luncheon at the Kiwanis Club, at the Charles River Country Club.

"Our System of Administrative Law and Its Future." This branch of our law has developed greatly in the past 40 years until it seems that we shall have as great a body of administrative law as the nations of continental Europe.

"Our Federal Government, with its Interstate Commerce Commissions, Federal Reserve Board, Federal Trade Commissions, Department of Immigration, Prohibition Enforcement Service, Department for the Collection of Internal Revenue, our State Government with its Industrial Accident Commissions, Public Utilities Commissions, State Board of Health, Department of Public Welfare, our City Governments with their Boards of Safety, Park Commissions, School Boards, Zoning Commissions, are all examples of agency of administrative law."

"The growth of this system seems to be inevitable, and is probably desirable, for it provides machinery for men to adjust their numerous social and economic problems."

"With the powers duly given to the President and the program for relief of agriculture, Rehabilitation of the Railroads, Regulation of Sales and Securities, Regulation of Public Utilities, Reform of our Money and the Banking System, there is every indication of a greater measure of administrative law than we have ever had before."

"The calling to Washington of such men as Raymond Morley, Adolph A. Berle, and John Dickinson, the last an authority in the fields of administrative law, strengthens the indication."

Annual Play Day Held at Community Ctr. in W. Newton

The fourth Annual Play Day of the West Newton Community Centre, Inc. was held on the Eden Avenue Playground, West Newton on Thursday afternoon, May 18.

The program opened with a three-legged race. Boys under nine: Won by Ned Edwards and Harold Henley. Boys over nine: Won by Robert Hackett and Edward Tolan. The dashes were won by William Mean and Roy Mack. The winning team for the Potato Races were Lawson Ogilvie, Bobbie Monroe, Phillip Nagle, Harold Henley, and Donald Chalmers, for the younger boys and Clifford Marshall, George Marshall, Robert McCarthy, Walter Tharl, Ralph Burns for the older boys.

The winners for the girls' 25-yd. dash was Mildred Coleman, and the winning team for the Potato Race consisted of Michaelaena Galla, Ruth Johnson, Mildred Coleman, Eunice and Venus Shamlan.

The Doll Carriage Parade was won by Phyllis Mayer, for the best carriage decorated by a child, and Claire Heald, for the prettiest carriage.

Jean Foote won first place for the largest doll in the doll show, Nita Bennett had the smallest doll, Shirley Bennett had the prettiest doll and Barbara Boegner the funniest.

Victor Morgan won the prize for the decorated bicycle, and Loring Kidder for the decorated Scooter Bike.

Dances in costume, and a playlet "Silver Bells and Cuckoo Shells" by members of the folk dancing group finished the afternoon performance.

An exhibition of handwork, made by the children who are members of the clubs of the Community Centre, was open throughout the day in the Club House.

NEWTON POLICE EXAMINATION HELD MONDAY

The examination to determine who will be promoted to the office of Captain in the Newton police department was held on Monday in the aldermanic chamber at City Hall. It started about 10 in the morning and those taking it had finished at 1 p. m. The examination is to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Captain Joseph H. Seaver. Ordinarily, only the officers in the department with the rank of Lieutenant, would have taken this examination. But, the civil service rules specify that at least four persons must take such an examination, and as there are only three members in the department holding the rank of Lieutenant, it became necessary to allow the sergeants to also take the examination.

Those taking the examination were: Lieutenants Moan and Veduccio and Inspector (Lieutenant) Shaughnessy; Sergeants Bannon, Burke, Crowley, Cullen, King, Leehan, Mahoney, Meehan, Moran, Sheridan. The result of the examination will probably be announced within a month's time.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

Twenty-eight boys and girls of the Stearns School Centre presented a delightful operetta entitled "The Playroom at Night" by Gertrude Tohrer and an Old English Morality Play entitled "The House of the Heart" by Constance D'Arcy Mackay on Monday evening. A goodly number of mothers and friends attended the performance and were quite pleased with the entertainment provided for them by the children.

Those taking part were Mary Bibbo, Antoinette Nardone, Anne Bradley, Mary Ruffo, Josephine Dalo, Eva Mylou, Louise Shardiell, Marion Quirk, Margaret Battista, Annie Papilian, Nancy Forte, Rita Allen, Eleanor Salvucci, Mary McMahon, Fanette Fried, Annie Palmieri, Lillian DeRubeis, Dorothy Delaney, Mary Paradiso, Edna Langill, Caroline Narina, Margaret Sadler, Josephine Salvucci, Angelina Bibbo, Edmund Dangelo, Michaela Farina, Patsy Proia, Francis Salvucci.

WANTED—A LARGE VOTE

Next Tuesday the voters of the Commonwealth will go to the polls to ballot for delegates to attend a Constitutional Convention called to ratify or reject a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Under this amendment, officially designated as the twenty-first article, the 18th amendment is repealed. For several years past the subject has been debated at length and has even become a leading political issue. One result of Tuesday's election will be to eliminate that angle of the situation in the problem. There is little doubt but prohibition has been of benefit to the people of the United States in many respects. There is, on the other hand, not much doubt but what prohibition placed a powerful weapon in the hands of bootleggers and racketeers. Many of those who seek repeal of prohibition do not hesitate to declare that they want no return of the open saloon. By its text the proposed amendment does not prevent the return of the saloon although Republicans and Democrats alike have promised legislation of this character which will become necessary by public demand if repeal is ratified. Regardless of whether you favor repeal or are against repeal, cast your vote on Tuesday. Only by a clear majority vote will the true feelings of the voters be expressed.

'TIS JUNE, THE MONTH OF ROSES

'Tis June, the month of roses. While this beautiful flower is just coming into bloom the gardens throughout the Newtons have been resplendent with iris, peonies, rhododendrons and other beautiful blooms. A stranger to Newton at this time of the year can readily see where Newton gets its name of "The Garden City."

AND GRADUATION

And June is also the month of graduations. Thousands of college and high school graduates are concluding their studies and preparing to take their place in the world. They are changing their economic status from one of dependence to one of independence. From among their number will come the statesmen, industrialists, scientists, educators and other leaders in their chosen fields. While it is true that they are entering a world rendered uncertain by economic problems their ideals, ambitions and incentives may be regarded by future historians as the solution of our present difficulties.

The Civic Arts Association is rendering a valued service in the creation of interest in the fine arts. If you have not witnessed the Pageant at Crystal Lake it will be well worth your while to do so tonight, the concluding performance.

Many owners of dogs in Newton are apparently ignoring the 30-day restrictions. In the spirit of community interest these persons should co-operate or it may be necessary to lengthen the period of restrictions.

The Aldermen should promptly and forcefully discourage any effort on the part of selfish individuals to break down the zoning laws to the detriment of the city.

Next Wednesday is Flag Day—honor its stars and stripes and the country for which it stands.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The Metropolitan District officials who control Revere, Nantasket and other bathing resorts, have again issued rules which prohibit near nudity by bathers at those beaches. Any men or youths who appear uncovered from the waist up, or who even let down the shoulder straps on their bathing suits, will be arrested and prosecuted. Youths attending Newton High School are not restricted by such a regulation. They indulge in games on the athletic field at the school garbed only in diminutive tighties, and naked from the hips up. In some of the informal games, so we are informed, shirts are discarded by the boys playing on one team, so that they can be distinguished as they run about in the buff. Such opposing teams might be designated "the shirts" and "the shirtless." Puritanical inhibition isn't being practiced at the Newton High School athletic field.

Did you read that the House of Morgan through just one of its holding companies controls 22% of the gas and electric public utility companies in the United States, covering areas in which live over 50,000,000 people? And that when this matter came out before the public, old Senator Glass got real peeved. Mr. Glass characterized the investigation "as a circus, and the only things lacking now are peanuts and colored lemonade." Well, this country has been having a circus for some years, and

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

Newtonites are familiar with the Junior High School and know that it was organized to meet the needs of early adolescence, bridging the ages of twelve to fifteen, covering grades seven, eight and nine.

Beyond these points it might not be amiss to explain that this type of educational offering, in contrast to the eight year grammar and four year high school, is known as the 6-3-3 plan, with six years in the elementary grades, three in the intermediate or junior high school, and three in the senior high school.

Newtonites, furthermore, did not commit themselves to this newer trend in education without giving the matter very serious consideration. The past decade has served to show the wisdom of this choice. Angelo Patri, widely known to parents as a powerful contributor to modern educational practice, has this to say in 1933:

"The school designed for these children cannot be merely a place of lessons. It should be in essence a mode of living, a place where the hunger of a newly created person are allowed to find satisfaction. Why learn if not to serve? Why possess if not to give? Why suffer if not to comfort? The junior high school therefore, is NOT a place that prepares children for a definite trade. It is not a technical or professional school. Examinations, courses of study, methods of teaching have no prior right there. The junior high school is a place where this child of unstable moods, of tremendous energy, unfolds his powers naturally and easily. It is a place where mistakes and adjustments are expected and understood. It is a place where the danger of excess is recognized. The school knows that the child is likely to go beyond his powers for he is a creature of excess. His mental and physical health must be guarded. Marks, ratings, promotions are of secondary importance. Applause and appreciation and guidance and sympathy are the very life of the school. . . ."

With the trend definitely toward more leisure time our educational offering should strive more than ever to develop in children lasting interests and appreciations that will hold down into purposeful hobbies. More than ever will our children be confronted with the problem of constructive living with one's neighbors. These experiences cannot be talked into children nor preached to them. They must be lived. The "three R" stage of half a century ago hardly seems to offer a rich enough background on which to weave the warp and woof of modern good human relations.

To further substantiate the fact that the junior high school seems to have built itself rather firmly into the American educational program, another recent quotation is submitted from the pen of Professor Philip W. L. Cox, the junior high school authority of New York University. He says:

"The junior high school is a consummation of the desires of intelligent and forward looking men that children be freed from the hampering restrictions of traditional imposed learning, and by vigorous and purposeful efforts to learn and accomplish. In this new environment, therefore, teachers help boys and girls to set up objectives for themselves which are dynamic, reasonable, and worthwhile. Moreover, they help youths, so far as possible, to achieve their objectives. Hence, they become guides, philosophers, and friends of children rather than their task masters."

Under The Gilded Dome

With the end of the present legislative session practically in sight the House and Senate are giving their consideration to several important matters. Chief among these are bills seeking to relieve the pressing burden of taxation upon real estate in the various cities and towns and a petition requesting the Governor to remove Judge Stone from the District Court bench in the Cambridge Court. Debate on the latter matter has been postponed until next Wednesday. The Committee on Judiciary which held many hearings upon the petition has filed a majority and minority report which will be printed for the benefit of the members of the Legislature. The committee reported that Judge Stone was guilty of willful and fraudulent misappropriation of funds entrusted to his care as an attorney and fiduciary officer. The minority report is based on the belief that the Stone case is not the type contemplated by the State Constitution for exercise of the removal power and that his actions as a fiduciary officer had nothing to do with his position as a judge. The minority further reported as unfortunate the lax method of bookkeeping used by the judge.

With the burden of taxation upon real estate having increased by many millions in the past year one of the most important matters under consideration is that of relieving cities and towns from financial stress. Governor Ely's tax program which has been much discussed was sidetracked last Monday by the House. The Governor's program to relieve cities and towns would distribute thirty million dollars without obligation upon the part of the cities and towns to repay, thus resulting in the almost certain possibility of lower local tax rates. Under this program the Commonwealth would borrow thirty millions of dollars by a bond issue and repay these bonds by receipts from a sales tax, changes in income tax exemptions and taxes upon dividends of Massachusetts corporations. In place of this so-called omnibus tax bill the House of Representatives substituted a bill authorizing the state to issue bonds for twenty millions of dollars and loan the money to the cities and towns upon the basis of increased welfare expenditures in 1932 over 1928. The cities and towns would have five years to repay the sums borrowed in yearly installments. Under this program no relief was in sight for local tax rates as the amount to be repaid would eventually fall upon this source of revenue. Representative Pratt of Saugus, who had previously tried without success for the Governor's program to substitute a bill calling for the raising of money to relieve local real estate taxes by raising the income tax rate from 1½ to 3%, imposing a 10% tax upon dividends of Massachusetts as well as foreign corporations, etc., then offered a part of his bill as an amendment to the borrowing bill as a method of raising the necessary money. He was successful in this effort on a roll-call vote of 185 to 46 after having lost in his previous effort by a roll-call vote of 94 to 127. Prior to the vote on the Pratt amendment an amendment was adopted by a voice vote by which the revenue received under a 6% tax on dividends of Massachusetts corporations and other present tax-exempt securities would be distributed to the cities and towns upon the basis of valuation now used in apportioning the state tax instead of to only those cities and towns which borrowed under the provisions of the main bill.

Thus the bill as it was passed to be enacted, and which will be debated in the Senate shortly, is briefly described as follows: The State will issue bonds to the amount of $20,000,000 (which with an amount estimated at from eight to twelve million dollars are to come to Massachusetts under the Wagner Lewis act now being passed by Congress will bring the total of thirty millions needed); cities and towns desiring can apply to the State emergency finance board for a loan to be used to meet welfare expenses, maturing debts, or in anticipation of revenue and enabling a reduction in local tax rates; these loans to be repaid in five yearly installments and the finance board to have certain control over local expenditures while any loan remains unpaid to the full amount; new revenue received under the tax upon intangibles, etc., to be distributed on the basis of valuation whether the city or town had borrowed from the state or privately or not; but any city or town which borrowed under the provisions of the bill would have its allotment held by the State Treasurer as a payment on the outstanding loan; the tax would hold for three years to cover the loans made in one year. Unless the bill is amended further by the Senate and falls to pass the House on the enactment stage by a two-thirds vote it will go to the Governor for his signature within a few days. If the Governor signs the bill and it is not certain that he is entirely in favor of it in its present form, the Legislature may prorogue the session for one week. If the bill does not meet the Governor's approval it will remain in session some time longer.

Annual Meeting 1st Church Christ Scientist, Boston

to the fund for the building of the new $4,000,000 home now being erected for The Christian Science Publishing Society need be made after July 1, was announced at the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist this week.

Announcement was made of the election of the following officers: President, Miss Mary G. Ewing of Brookline, Mass.; Clerk, Ezra W. Palmer of Brookline, Mass.; Treasurer, Edward L. Ripley of Brookline, Mass.

The new building is intended to provide adequate facilities for the publishing of our religious periodicals, daily newspaper, and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy. But it does something more, much more in fact, than simply meet a physical need, great and pressing as that need may be. It stands and will continue to stand through the years to come, as a silent but none the less impressive witness to that unity, stability, and demonstrated resourcefulness which all times characterize the organized efforts of Christian Scientists, and which in this instance have made possible the completion of the new Publishing House without delay and without debt.

Miss Rosamond Wright, manager of the Department of Branches and Practitioners, cited the establishment of a new branch of The Mother Church in Kenya, Africa, situated 2000 miles from the nearest branch church; also, our first branch in Egypt, at Cairo; and two new branches in Brazil, South America, as well as five additional branches in Australasia. These represent the distant points to which the arms of The Mother Church have extended since our last meeting.

In addition, 21 new branches have been formed in Europe, and 42 in North America. Twenty-six Christian Science Societies have qualified for the title of Church. Five new college or university organizations have been formed. The Mother Church now has 2639 branch churches and societies, and 47 college and university organizations.

"The growth of The Mother Church goes on unfettered," Ezra W. Palmer, clerk, told members at the Annual Meeting. "During the past year devoted men and women from all walks of life have been received into membership."

"The Relief Fund of The Mother Church, which is available for temporary assistance following major disasters, has been drawn upon during the year for assistance to flood sufferers in England, and in West Virginia; for aid to hurricane victims in Puerto Rico; and for help in a section of California following the recent earthquake."

"Some relief work has been done in other sections of the United States, and in Germany, Holland, Estonia, Austria, Poland, Finland, and Canada. The charitable work carried on by the local congregation of The Mother Church through its local Charity Fund was augmented this last winter by a Special Unemployment Relief Fund which was established in cooperation with the city campaign for the Relief of Unemployment. A Committee Supply Committee has aided by distributing clothing and other necessities in this field."

Oddments

Some Newton folks (Good luck to 'em) have already shovelled off for a summer's outing. Others are planning to start shortly and quite a few are postponing for this or that reason firmly intending to go somewhere at some time. Personally, I'm not identified with any of these groups. This column, however, is "resting" hoping to resume its labor with zest and sparkle and everything. By that time we may have learned among other things who is and who isn't going to be a candidate for Mayor, what has happened to the gold standard, how many new taxes must be paid, the proposition to repeal prohibition, the depression, world peace proposals, the fashions in bathing costumes, the results, if any, of the Morgan investigation, whether the garden was up to snuff or not and the success or otherwise of the Chicago World's Fair. We've got a lot of things to look forward to if you only stop to think.

Some people are more sensitive than others when made the subject of playful jest. At a dinner given by a business organization one of the invited speakers jocosely remarked, "You fellows make a good living and yet you don't kill yourselves—that's the secret of life." A trifle nettled, the president of the concern interrupted with, "Come down to our place and see us work some day." Whereupon the speaker, a quick-thinker, replied, "Thanks, what day do you work?"

So What?

Floyd Gibbons started it, of course, when along at a mile-a-minute clip on the radio with his more or less timely remarks about the news of the day, sandwiched in between the readings of the box score on the Literary Digest poll on some Presidential straw vote or other.

And that's how news commentators were born!

Now everybody's doing it, dishing up the day's doings via the airwaves, taking a slant a trifle different from that of the newspapers, but trying, at the same time, to keep their topics current enough to be fit subjects for radio talks known as "news comments."

Poor indeed is the radio station which hasn't at least one witty one-liner to slip Mr. and Mrs. John J. Radio Listener the real "lowdown" on the story behind the headlines in the daily journals.

Granting that some of the news printed in the papers may very well require more or less interpretation in the eyes of some newspaper readers or that it can be pleasant enough to deceive oneself into believing that a more intimate contact is being made with the happenings of the hour because a pleasant voice relates incidents with an air of authority or as though he were still out of breath from hurrying to the microphone from the side of the President, there is still a modicum of doubt in the minds of many thoughtful persons regarding the exact value of radio news comments.

The purpose of my observation is not to "debunk" such broadcasts, mind you, but merely the voice of one querulously seeking the reason for it all. The radio news commentator certainly hasn't superseded the newspaper. In fact his errant remarks cannot be followed unless the listener has a fair conception of what the day's papers have had to say on the subjects he discusses.

Of course many newspaper stories are provocative of thought, and there, no doubt, is where the news commentator comes in. He eliminates the necessity for thinking which the reader might feel was incumbent upon him if he had no radio, for instance.

Time was when people had an absurd notion that it was rather an accomplishment to do one's own thinking, but of course that may be just an old fashioned idea, entirely out of harmony with present day progress. At all events, thought is quite unnecessary nowadays, as far as a clear understanding of the news is concerned. All anyone has to do is skim through his evening paper and then plunk himself beside the family radio, from which will issue, in a surprisingly short time, as many as six interpretations, all more or less different, of the accounts contained in the papers.

Or, if he prefers to do so, one may take his car out of the garage, after reading the paper, and as he drives through the beautiful countryside at twilight, hear as many news comments as he cares to listen to by means of the auto radio . . . heaven forbid!

Queer Neighbors

"If I am correct in thinking you are interested in mysteries then here's something that may appeal to you," writes a column reader. "We have a little place in the country to which we retreat as many week-ends the year round as the weather and our pocketbook together permit. Of course we make it our headquarters in the summer because it is one of those sort-of-farms that afford a delightful and inexpensive vacation. Never have we paid much attention to our neighbors nor they to us. In fact the nearest is about a quarter-mile distant, except for a small house almost directly across the road. We even got this latter place I would write."

"There was a long time that no one crossed its threshold and we all thought it a pity because it is attractive and with a little fixing-up might appeal to many a Newton resident, like ourselves, who find enjoyment in a rural habitation not too many miles from the Garden City. We even got to thinking that we might some day buy this other place and let our oldest son occupy it when he is married. But that's all part of a dream. Now for realities."

"One morning we awoke to find the little house had been opened and that there were persons living in it. We didn't see the people but we noticed that there were signs of life. Whenever I could spare the time—and I am not especially curious—I tried to notice who our new neighbors were. Finally, it must have been several days, we all of us were in our front yard in the early evening when we observed a big car coming out of the barn. It was driven by a young man who had three companions. They didn't even look our way. For a while after that there was every evidence the place had been locked up. We were surprised to find a few days later that our neighbors had returned. Then we began to watch more closely and finally discovered that our neighbors did their coming and going at night."

"On one or two occasions we saw, by daylight, a nice looking young man who smiled when we passed the time of day but did not encourage further acquaintance. It must have been some weeks that this went on. Suddenly one afternoon a cavalcade of State troopers and men we later learned to be detectives descended on the place only to find its occupants had flown. They asked us a lot of questions and I have an idea we were under suspicion ourselves for a time. Finally, the officers became confidential and informed us that the little house was the hide-out, as they called it, of as tough a group of gangsters as ever existed. We were thrilled and feared for a while that the members of the gang might return. That perhaps was silly, inasmuch as they had been discovered, but no more so than our replies to the questions of the police. All we could say was that the band of men made exceedingly quiet and well-behaved neighbors."

Women's Club Activities

Newton Highlands Garden Club

Those who have enjoyed the Annual Flower Shows given for the past few years by the Garden Club, originally formed by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, are reminded that the Fifth Annual Show is to be given at the Workshop on Tuesday, the 13th, from 11 a. m. to 9 p. m.

With seventeen classes of exhibits, including roses, peonies, and all manner of colorful perennials, it is sure to be a most attractive and artistic affair, and interest in those who enter the contests will run high.

A visit to the Workshop sometime during the day will be well worth while.

Waban Woman's Club

There will be a picnic next Wednesday on the grounds of Dr. Oliver A. Lathrop on Neshobe road, Waban for members of the executive board chairmen and members of committees of the Woman's Club.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A very successful Spring Flower Show sponsored by the Garden Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club, was held at the Auburndale Club House last Tuesday afternoon and evening. Mrs. Charles Grover, the chairman of this group, was assisted in carrying out this colorful exhibition by Mrs. John Brown, Jr., Mrs. Wilbur Gilpatrick, and Mrs. Ralph Keyes, all members of her committee.

A very popular exhibit with both parents and children was that by children, Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer being in charge. Martha Mason and Paul Lewis Young won the first and second prizes and Elliott Keyes, Horace Bunker, and Bob Maloney received Honorable Mention. Containers, purchased at Five and Ten Cent Stores, and filled with blossoms, comprised another class, with Mrs. Bernard Maloney in charge. Miss Florence Tower won first prize, honorable mention going to Mrs. Arthur Shaw and Miss Gertrude Herrick. Mrs. George A. Follett supervised a display of luncheon tables at which color harmony, perfection, and originality counted. Mrs. Guy Winslow took first prize, Mrs. George St. Amant, second, and Mrs. Graham Bates, Miss Florence Eager and Mrs. Herbert Farrier were given Honorable Mention.

A veritable "Sunshine" corner, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Guy Winslow, contained nothing but yellow blossoms, and the first award went to Mrs. F. E. Davidson, the second to Miss Agnes Strang, and Honorable Mention to Mrs. W. F. Fullerton, and Mrs. C. E. Sweet.

The only entry, where the display need not be grown by the exhibitor, was for flower arrangement of blossoms not costing over one dollar, under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. A. Balch. Mrs. N. Coulter and Mr. A. H. Handley took the first and second prizes, Honorable Mention going to Mrs. Charles Floyd, Mrs. Charles Sweet, and Miss Mae Cranshaw.

Mrs. William DeWitt was in charge of a table of single blossoms. Miss Alice Henney taking first prize, Mrs. Arthur Shaw, second, and Honorable Mention going to Mrs. William De Witt and Mrs. James Patterson.

The display of peonies was divided into two classes, both in charge of Mrs. F. Chandler. Class A, which consisted of single specimens, awarded first prize to Dr. Charles Ansley; second to Mrs. William B. Smith, and Honorable Mention to Miss Florence Tower. Class B, which covered arrangement, was won by Mrs. Charles Valentine and Miss Mary Hanney, with Honorable Mention to Miss Tower.

The same classifications were made for iris, Miss Florence Tower having charge. Miss Mary Davidson took first prize, Mrs. Roland Allen, second, and Honorable Mention went to Mrs. Harold Knowlton.

A most gorgeous display was that of California poppies, with Mrs. Arthur Shaw as chairman. Miss Agnes Strang and Mrs. A. W. Coulter took prizes in Class A. Miss Edith Kimball receiving Honorable Mention; while Miss Strang and Mrs. Heibek took prizes in Class B.

Small tables for a Living-Room were most attractive, with close competition. Mrs. Guy Winslow won first prize, Mrs. Charles Grover, the second, and to Mrs. Roland Allen and Mrs. John Brown, Jr., went Honorable Mention.

A committee of three, none of them Club members, Mrs. Joseph D. Snell, Mr. Matthew F. Ruane, and Mr. Frank Allison, acted as judges.

By public acclaim the verdict for the outstanding feature of the exhibition was a vase of lupins displayed by Mrs. Julia Middleton Coulter.

Through the courtesy of the Auburndale Nurseries the platform was made most attractive, while the City Forestry Association co-operated in furnishing shrubbery.

State Federation

ANNUAL MEETING. (Continued from last week). The final day of the three days at Swampscott maintained the delightful standard of blue skies and sea and balmy breezes of Tuesday and Wednesday, and clubwomen had reason to feel real pleasure in their Annual Convention, with background and environment so auspicious. Thursday morning, May 18th, the closing session of the seven that made up the Convention, gave many reports worthy of thoughtful consideration. Meeting the problem of the second generation, has been the concern of Mrs. William I. McAnulty, of Revere, chairman of Interracial Unity, who urged that language classes in the native tongue of the parent, for the young people, be carried on as a parallel to the adult English classes.

A plea for the women in State Institutions was made by Mrs. Ethel Rogers Limbach of Brookline, chairman of Social Welfare, who deplored that on release women do not receive even the $10 allotted to men. She commended the display of handicraft from the Reformatory for Women at Framingham, a new departure enabling them to earn a little money of their own. The suggestion of Mrs. Limbach that the clubs appropriate a certain amount, as they do for scholarships, to be used for women in institutions of the state, met with wide approval. There is special interest in these at the Reformatory for Women, Framingham, where the clubwomen have assisted materially this year. An astounding amount of work done by club members throughout the state, is reported by Mrs. Limbach on behalf of the less fortunate in their several communities.

With an increase from eight to 18 better film councils and the promise of more in several other communities, in the fall, Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell, of Wallast, chairman of Motion Pictures, finds the better things of life decidedly on the upgrade. She reports local chairmen in 309 clubs of the state working in the interest of better pictures, encouraging children's matinees and week-end family programs.

She cited Springfield, Worcester, Allston, Cliftondale and Malden as outstanding among the communities working for better pictures.

In closing, Mrs. Blaisdell offered a quotation: "Censure if you must the industry with its weakness and its errors, but remember the world would be a dreary place if there were no movies."

That there is a need for real assistance to be given to persons physically handicapped, is the finding of Mrs. Elmore MacPhie, of West Newton, and her committee working for this cause. She urges that clubs sponsor congenial handicapped persons, making a friendly contact, and endeavoring to understand their problems. In just one year this new committee has gone far in disproving any belief that women's clubs are interested solely in their own cultural programs.

Clubwomen were delighted with Mrs. MacPhie's announcement that the members of the convention had contributed $240 in the collection taken for Miss Mary Rollins, a blind musician, who entertained at the meeting on Wednesday. She urged that each club hold at least one sale a year when physically handicapped persons can display the articles they make.

Mrs. John H. Kimball, second vice-president, who presided during this session, told of the new Headquarters of the Federation at 115 Newbury st., Boston, which will be open daily except Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. until August first. Headquarters will remain closed from that date until September 15th.

Mrs. Bennett, in her final address, told of her three objectives of the year, the completion of paying for the State Forest at Petersham, the inauguration of the highway beautification contest, and the continuing of Federation Topics, the club magazine.

As noon drew near the audience became expectant. With the outgoing of officers and directors who have won their way to many hearts, and with the presentation of incoming, newly-elected officers and directors, the moment had arrived when a very lovely ceremony of tender, grateful tribute of friendship and appreciation of service, made pulses throb and tears spring unbidden. Many members of the Meetings committee, gowned in simple white, formed in processional and advanced down the aisle to the platform, a moving column of glorious color and imagination. If not actually realized, fragrance, for in their arms they bore blossoms of every hue—roses, snapdragons, orchids, violets, sweet peas, carnations, callenulas, tulips, forget-me-nots; and also boxes tissue-wrapped that betokened some treasured gift to last the long years through in token of friendships won and work well done. Yes, a lovely ceremony—and the 41st Annual Meeting was adjourned.

General Federation

BIENNIAL COUNCIL MEETING. Clubwomen who could not join the party leaving Boston on Sunday, May 21st, to spend a delightful week in Richmond, Virginia, attending the Biennial Council Meeting of the General Federation, will be interested in a resume of the highlights of the affair.

The State Federation of Women's Clubs of Virginia, Mrs. L. J. Giles, president, played a delightful hostess, offering the John Marshall hotel as official headquarters, and entertaining with gala dinners and teas and receptions, and whisking visitors around to beautiful and historic spots, of which this first Commonwealth has so many. Not the least of honors paid the clubwomen was the tea paid the executive mansion given by Governor Pollard on Wednesday afternoon, the 24th.

Five hundred women representing 48 states heard the plans of national chairmen and helped to formulate the policy which will guide 14,600 clubs and 2,500,000 women during the coming year. Juniors from 19 states had their own meetings, describing their programs of civic helpfulness.

Hot Springs, Ark., is the place, and the week of May 21st the date, for next year's Council meeting. Detroit, Chicago, St. Paul, and Kansas City are contenders for the Triennial Convention of the organization in 1935 and a choice will be made later at a meeting of the Executive Board. Including special funds the Federation handled $209,284.79 this year, according to the report of the treasurer. The budget of expenditure for the year is $72,105.09, of which $52,723.59 had been paid at the end of the first nine months, leaving a budgetary allotment to be completed, and spent of $19,381.50 by July first.

One-tenth of a proposed Endowment Fund of $2,000,000 has been raised, said the chairman of the board of trustees. One-half of the sum is to go to the General Federation and one-

truly automatic HOT WATER means merely "turn the Faucet"

Automatic hot water is fast becoming standard equipment for EVERY home. Like a mechanical robot, an automatic gas water heater releases you from all care... just a turn of a faucet and clean, piping hot water instantly flows—all you want of it—whenever you want it.

Yet automatic hot water with gas is NOT expensive. On the contrary, you can enjoy all its advantages for but a few pennies a day. Easy to install—costs little to operate. A lifetime investment bought on easy budget plan with small down payment.

With hot and dusty summer days ahead, decide today to banish tedious, wasteful, old-fashioned water-heating methods forever. Enjoy at once the health and pleasure of abundant hot water always at your instant bidding. Ask for details and demonstration at our nearest showroom—or phone and without obligation a representative will call.

half is to be retained by the states that contribute.

At present the national organization has received $104,078.58, and an equal sum is on deposit in the various states. Massachusetts heads the roll of honor, having contributed the largest sum of any state.

"The sun never sets on the General Federation of Women's Clubs," said the Extension secretary for International Clubs, who reported a membership of 62 clubs under 24 flags. Five new clubs have been added this year—Pretoria, S. Af.; Monterey, Mex.; Tampico, Mex.; Cordova, Alaska; and the Canal Zone.

Mrs. W. H. Lunt, of Shanghai; Mrs. O. H. Charles, of Manila; Mrs. C. A. Hearne, of Cristobal; Mrs. George A. Curry, of Havana; and Mrs. P. S. Higginson, of Montreal brought greetings, emphasizing the union of women's clubs for world peace.

Not only are women's clubs holding their own in points of interest, attendance at conventions and membership, at the Membership chairman, but they are proving a boon to women whose curtailed incomes are causing them to turn from expensive pleasures to the clubs, with their friendly contacts, social life, cultural interests, and opportunities for service, all at a minimum cost.

During the year, 295 new clubs, with a membership of 7119, have been received, and two clubs have been reinstated. Missouri heads the list with 31 new clubs. Ohio comes next with 29, and Kansas third with 27.

By an overwhelming vote Miss Edna St. Vincent Millay has been chosen the first poet laureate of the Federation.

A thrilling moment for the convention came Tuesday evening, in a message from the President of the United States.

Introduced by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, national president, Col. Louis McHenry Howe, secretary to President Roosevelt, as he stood in the Richmond Mosque, in simple language, quietly and gently uttered, told the women what they ought to do and how they should do it.

"It is not the men but the women who lead who are needed by the President of the United States," he said. "The support of men, is of course, priceless, but when one strikes out boldly into new paths for a new kind of country, it is not the men who lead, but you women." Continuing, (Continued on Page 9)

ATTACK LACK OF LIGHTS ON
BOYLSTON ST., UPPER FALLS

Alderman Temperley at the Board meeting on Monday night again criticized the failure of the city to provide lights along Boylston st. at the Upper Falls and Newton Highlands.
His protest occurred when the sum of $50,000 additional was appropriated for the new sewer which is being constructed. He said that if the city has this much money to spend, it should spend some to place street lights on Boylston st., which has been without them for many months. He called attention to the fact that in a few months the new Worcester turnpike will have been completed, thousands of cars will be speeding along Boylston st., and there will be no lights there.

Alderman Gallagher agreed with Temperley. He said Boylston st. has been a "Hell Hole" for months and it is a miracle that residents along this street have not been killed. He inquired "Who is responsible for the failure to have this street lighted?"

Alderman Murray answered that about a year ago Mayor Weeks and City Solicitor Bartlett asked the State to assume responsibility for lighting this street; the State refused, and to his knowledge, nothing has since been done, other than the Edison Company presenting estimates of the cost of lights.

Alderman Gallagher said that someone should take action. Alderman Cronin inquired if the Aldermen have not the power to take action? President Collins replied that the initiative on this matter must come from the Mayor.

THE "TERRAPLANE" REALLY FLIES

Last Tuesday we took a ride in the new Special Six ESSEX TERRA-PLANE with Mr. Evans of the Newton Hudson-Essex Company. This wonderful automobile is well-named.
It certainly does fly over the ground.
It gives a comfortable, smooth ride, that one would expect only in a much larger car, and it possesses power and pep which enable it to pass about anything on the road. At traffic lights it

Myrton F. Evans

leaps ahead like a jack rabbit, and it can climb the steepest grade on high speed without any effort. It took the 12% grade up Newtonville avenue, Newton, in high speed from a standing start at Lewis Terrace, and it maintained a 10 mile gait up Prospect avenue, Newtonville, from Walnut street, without any strain on the motor. See if your car can do this.
It travels at a 50 mile speed with an ease and smoothness that cause you to think you are only going at a 30 mile rate. If you want to get a revelation of the marvelous qualities of this car, which sells for as little as $505 (f.o.b.) arrange with Mr. Evans for a demonstration, which he will gladly give.

Four Hundred Ninety-Five Members Newton High School Senior Class Graduated

Outstanding Awards Go To Margaret May, Douglas Sloane, Euan Davis and Warren Huston

The 495 members of the graduating class of the Newton High School received their diplomas at the commencement exercises which were held in the Dickinson Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

The outstanding awards were the senior cups presented to Margaret Sargeant May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. May of Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, and to Douglas Sloane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sloane of Prospect ave., Newtonville. The Meserve Scholarship of $250 was presented to Euan Davis, son of Rev. and Mrs. George L. Davis of Madison ave., Newtonville, and the Dickinson Memorial Cup went to Warren Huston, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Huston of Court st., Newtonville. The presentations were made by Principal Paul E. Ellicker.

Miss May has been on the honor roll and the basketball team for the four years of her course; Sloane has been captain of the track team, in 1932 was both indoor and outdoor state champion in the 100 yard dash and was president of the H-Y Club; Davis is a member of the National Honor Society and has been prominent in student government and athletics; and Huston has been captain of his baseball, football and basketball teams.

In addition to the above awards these others were given: Harriet Badger and Albert Walker received the American History prizes awarded by the Sarah H. Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution and the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution; Verne Frost and John Gallagher, Jr., were presented with the May Scholarships for Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Virginia Rudolph and Charles Steinsieck, won the Amy Bridges Rice Scholarship for Boston University.

Club scholarships were awarded to the following: Community Club of Newton, Eleanor Conroy; Lenda-Hand Masque, Barbara Phinney; Newton Rotary Club, Robert Cotton and Robert Ohler; Newton Centre Neighborhood Club, Barbara Burr, '32; Newton Centre Woman's Club, Carol Bloom; Newton Highlands Woman's Club, Edna Mitchell and Margery Prescott, '32; Newtonville Women's Club, Margaret Caswell; Social Science Club of Newton, Mary Louise Harrington, '32; Waban Women's Club, Alice Burton; West Newton Woman's Educational Club, Constance Hartwell, '28. Other awards were given by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs to Dorothy Liscomb, '32; by the Newton Centre School Association to Helen Lowcock; by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club to Elizabeth Sherman; by the Waban Woman's Club to Robert Irwin.

The invocation was pronounced by Dr. Edward T. Sullivan of Newton Centre, Mayor Sinclair Weeks presented the diplomas and Superintendent John Lund introduced Payson Smith, State Commissioner of Education, who gave the address.

Celebration Marks Opening of Silver Anniversary Year

On Saturday afternoon and evening the first of a long series of events in celebration of the beginning of the Silver Anniversary year of the Newton Catholic Club will be held. The initial enterprise will be a monster Lawn Party and Field Day and will be conducted on the club grounds. Throughout the coming year the club is planning many special activities commemorating this important milestone in its history. For years it has enjoyed the enviable reputation of being one of the important civic factors in Newton. The beautiful club house and auditorium on Washington st. stands as a monument to the splendid group of men who twenty-five years ago recognized the need for such an institution in Newton and who made such a structure possible.

Saturday's gathering is primarily an occasion for a reunion of all the folk who have been actively engaged in the work of the club during the past twenty-five years. Hundreds of people who formerly resided in Newton are expected back for this big day. Many features have been arranged. Opening the celebration at 1 P. M. and continuing through the afternoon and evening it is expected that this day will be made one long to be remembered in this section.

In the afternoon many special features will be conducted for the children. A baby contest for children six months to three years of age will be held starting at two o'clock. At two-thirty a doll carriage parade will be started with many prizes for the participants. Boys and girls ages three to six years may enter this contest. Miss Mary Welsh is chair-lady of these two contests.

A midway has been constructed and various games will be played through the afternoon and evening. Many special contests, races, etc., have been arranged. A large refreshment stand under the supervision of the ladies who have been active in club work will be open all day and evening with a luncheon supper being served between five and eight o'clock.

A committee comprising more than seventy-five men and ladies of the club have been engaged for the past few weeks making plans to insure the success of this affair. Walter J. Connor, president of the club, is general chairman with Mrs. James J. Powers in charge of the Ladies' Committee.

Newton Lawyer Brutally Beaten At Watertown

John Finelli Lured To Vacant House and Assaulted

John Finelli of Ashmont ave., Newtonville, a lawyer with an office at 132 Adam st., Nonantum, was lured to a vacant house at 135 Watertown st., Watertown on Monday evening and brutally assaulted. The house where the assault occurred is about one-quarter mile from the Newton line and was formerly the residence of W. H. Keith. It was recently owned by Pasquale Cetroni of Winchester rd., Newton. Finelli had been engaged in bankruptcy proceedings which involved the sale by foreclosure of the house at Watertown. The foreclosure sale was scheduled for last Monday but it was not held. Monday evening Finelli went alone to the house, in response, it is believed, to a telephone call from some one who asked him to go there. At 7:45 Monday evening Mrs. Peter Caracostas of 8 Belknap st., at the rear of the house at 135 Watertown st., saw Finelli dragging himself towards her home covered with blood. The Watertown police were notified and a hurried trip was made to the Newton Hospital with the injured man. His right shoulder was fractured, his body badly bruised, his head and face battered and cut. It was first feared that his skull had been fractured.

Neighbors told the police that they had seen Finelli enter the house Monday evening in company with another man and that later two men ran from the house and through the yard of the Parker School, which is across Watertown st. About 9 o'clock Monday night a telephone message was received at Watertown police headquarters from a man who gave the information that a victim of an assault would be found in the cellar of the house at 145 Watertown st. This telephone call was traced to a pay station at a fruit store on Main st., Watertown, almost across the street from police headquarters. Watertown police rushed to the fruit store and were informed that the telephone call had been sent by a man riding a bicycle; this man had ridden off towards Waltham. Lieutenant Riley of the Watertown police interviewed Finelli at the Newton Hospital on Tuesday morning and obtained whatever information the victim could give of the attack.

Eight Girls Receive Golden Eaglet Award

Impressive Assembly Held In Memorial Hall

At a Golden Eaglet Assembly held on Monday evening, June 12, at Memorial Hall, City Hall, Newton Centre, eight girls received their Golden Eaglets, which is the highest honor that can be conferred on a Girl Scout. The following girls received the award: From Troop 14, Waban, Betty Bierer, Peggy Howatt, and Jeanne Minchin; from Troop 15, West Newton, Barbara Dales, Jean Eddy and Dorothy Liscomb; and from Troop 20, Newton, Virginia Partridge and Roxanna Martin.

The ceremony began with "Assembly" played by Jane Hayden. While the Pledge of Allegiance, Star Spangled Banner, and Scout Promise and Laws were led by Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Director for Newton, a representative from each troop in Newton carrying an American flag stood at either side of the huge flag which formed the background—making a colorful as well as inspiring group. Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, former Commissioner, welcomed those present and Mrs. Sargent H. Well man, Commissioner of Massachusetts and Regional Representative on the Board of Directors. Mrs. Wellman spoke to the Scouts about the many responsibilities of being a Golden Eaglet and then awarded the eight new Golden Eaglets to the Scouts. The girls felt very much honored in having Mrs. Wellman, who is so well known in Scouting, make the presentation. Following this, the new Eaglets were greeted by 16 Scouts who already hold this award.

Mrs. Redfield then introduced Dr. Boynton Merrill, prominent Newton pastor, who gave the address which judging from the keen attention of his audience of 300 was most interesting as well as inspirational. Among other things he said that it is better to do a few things beautifully than to try to do too many things. And the Newton Council feels that these new Eaglets have done their Scouting in that way.

Ex-Mayor Childs May Run for Mayor In Coming Election

Mayor Weeks Has as Yet Made No Declaration of Candidacy

From present indications there will be a real contest for the office of Mayor at the municipal election in this city next December. Former Mayor or Edwin O. Childs, as a result of importunities by many of his friends, is giving serious consideration to the possibility of serving in this capacity and will probably run again for the office he occupied for so many years.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks has, as yet, made no announcement as to whether, or not, he will run for a third term. When Mr. Weeks assumed the office of Mayor it was generally supposed that he would serve in this capacity for four years. It is known that he has been strongly urged by his supporters to again be a candidate for the office, but he has made no definite decision.

Other prominent citizens of Newton whose names are being mentioned as probable candidates are two men who, in the past, were frequently spoken of as likely to become the head of Newton's city government. These are: Thomas W. White of Newton Upper Falls and Hon. Arthur W. Hollis of Newton. Mr. White, now about to end his occupancy of the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, has been in public life for over 27 years. He has served as Alderman of Newton, Representative in the State Legislature, Chairman of Administration and Finance Commission of Massachusetts. Mr. Hollis has also served as Alderman and Representative in the Legislature, and he is now serving his third term as State Senator from this district. Senator Hollis has stated that he is not responsible for the rumor of his intended candidacy, and has not authorized it.

There are a number of lesser political lights in the city who would be pleased to serve as Mayor of Newton, and who would announce their candidacies if both Mr. Weeks and Mr. Childs decide not to run. In such a case there would be a battle royal for the office. But, from present indications, the aspiring gentlemen are apt to be disappointed. As things look now, either Mr. Childs, or Mr. Weeks, or both, may again be candidates for Mayor.

Newton Goes Wet Nearly Four To One and Gives Majority For Beer Licenses

Every Precinct in City Elected Repeal Candidates—One Precinct Against Beer

The City of Newton, in common with the country in general, has gone "wet", decidedly wet. This erstwhile stronghold of the "dry" cause at the special election on Tuesday gave overwhelming majorities to the three candidates pledged to the repeal of the 18th Amendment, and for the sale of beer in this city. The fact that the prohibition advocates had been conducting an active campaign in this city, and that the vote up to noon-time Tuesday was exceedingly light here, caused many to predict that the vote in Newton would show a majority against permitting the continued sale of beer. The result was quite to the contrary. During the afternoon and evening a considerable number of voters went to the polling places, and when the polls closed at 8 o'clock, 12,240 ballots had been cast, showing that more than 40% of the registered vote had been cast. Every precinct in the city gave big majorities to the "repeal" candidates. One precinct voted against the sale of beer in this city. It was Precinct 2 of Ward 4 at Newton Lower Falls.

A few days ago merchants and lunchroom proprietors in the city received questionnaires from the License Commission of Newton asking them how their business had been affected by the sale of beer in their stores and restaurants. As a result of these questionnaires the Commission gave out the information that food sales in Newton lunchrooms selling beer have increased about 15% during the seven weeks that the sale of beverage has been in effect. Some of the grocery stores and markets reported a considerable sale of beer in bottles. Others state that they have sold little, and some of the merchants will probably not renew their licenses.

The Newton License Commission announced Tuesday night that the annual license fee in Newton will be as follows—for common victuallers and clubs, $200; for retail stores, $150. These licenses will run from June 30, 1933, to June 30, 1934. The commission reported that since the sale of 3.2% beer has started in Newton, no unfavorable criticisms have been received.

Men Getting Aid To Work Fewer Days

Starting this week a large number of unemployed men who have been obtaining aid from the city, and who have in recent weeks been compelled to work 5 days each week if they were receiving $12 weekly, have been returned to the three days per week schedule formerly in effect. The reason given for the return to the former schedule, following a conference between Mayor Weeks, Miss FitzGerald, Director of Welfare, Harold Young of the Mayor's Relief Committee and Edmund Dungan, Soldiers' Relief Director, was—that by limiting the men to three days work each week, they will have more time to seek employment from private sources. The men will continue to receive the same amounts of money weekly.

While in some cities, notably textile centres, the improved business conditions in mills have provided employment for many, there has been no appreciable change in the employment situation in Newton, and apart from the young men who obtained employment in the reforestation project, the number of unemployed getting aid from the city remains about the same. At the municipal farm in Oak Hill on the Hartmann and Janse estates, 54 men are employed under the supervision of Supt. of Playgrounds Hermann. They are now working in two shifts; one shift employed Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays; the other shift on the last three days of the week. Thirty-nine men are employed at the City House in Newton Highlands have been divided into two shifts, each working three days a week. Forty-two men working at Edmonds Park will work the first three days of the week. Ninety-six men are working for the Street Department; 21 of these are employed on the resurfacing of Otis st.; 10 on the drain at South Meadow Brook; 65 with the Forestry Division, spraying trees, and cutting grass on city owned properties. Six men have been working under City Veterinarian Bontelle, immunizing dogs against rabies; 8 men have been working on playgrounds; 42 men are employed on the water reservation at Needham. Men receiving aid from the city on a dole basis, and not working in return for the aid received, number 154.

Brook At Jackson Road Will Soon Be Covered

Culvert Will Be 1132 Feet Long and 12 Feet Wide

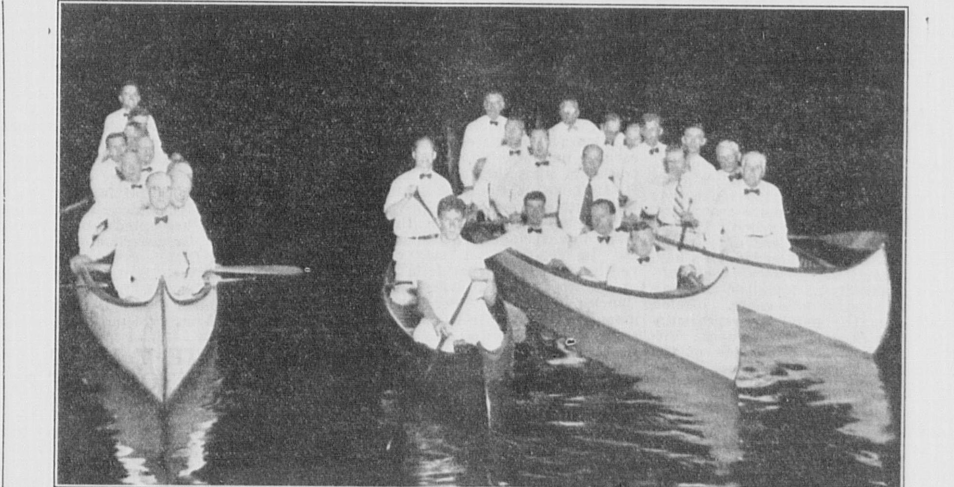

That part of Laundry Brook which runs alongside Jackson road, Newton, south of Pearl st., will soon be covered. Bids for the construction of a concrete culvert will be opened at City Hall today at 11 o'clock. This culvert will be 1132 feet long, 12 feet wide and 5½ feet high. This stretch of the brook is one of the few parts uncovered between Bulloagh's Pond and the Charles River at Watertown. Laundry Brook was, in colonial days known as Smelt Brook because of the yearly migration up it for spawning of many thousands of the small fish from the tidal waters of the Charles. It is one of the principal water courses within the city, and for many years has carried more surface drainage than any other brook in the Newtons. Into it empties Cold Spring, Hammond, Edmonds and other smaller brooks.

Before the construction of Jackson road about 35 years ago, the land on which Jackson rd. was constructed was part of the Potter estate. This road, bounded by huge willow trees on the Potter estate, which was later purchased and beautified by Joseph Flanagan, and the choice collection of trees on the Maskell estate, was an attractive public way with the brook coursing parallel with it in a gently sloping little valley. In recent years the land to the west of the brook has been divided into house lots and has become thickly settled. Part of the brook from Washington st. northerly for several hundred feet, was covered many years ago. The remaining open stretch of brook became less attractive; its banks for some years had a high growth of grass, although for the past few years the grass along it has been kept well cut under the supervision of Supt. George Rogers of the Forestry Division.

Large Crowds Attend Water Pageant; Artistic Floats Delight Audience

Weather Perfect for First Night's Performance—Subjects Taken From Famous Light Operas With Accompanying Music

The second annual Water Pageant of the Civic Arts Association of Newton was held last week at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, with large audiences, appreciative of music and the finer arts, in attendance. Although the heavy shower early Friday evening made it necessary to postpone the second performance until Saturday evening, weather conditions on Thursday and Saturday were ideal. Much credit is due those who had part in preparing and presenting the beautiful scenes from various light operas and other floats which comprised the program.

The lighting arrangements which were in charge of C. Hassler Capron, director of the pageant, were extremely effective and the amplifying arrangements under the direction of the Garden City Radio company were most excellent. These two factors played an important part in making the entire affair most successful.

Each float was introduced with a few appropriate remarks from Edward W. Whiting, President of the Civic Arts Association.

As darkness fell the program opened with a presentation of a float depicting a scene from that popular light opera "The Red Mill" by Blossom-Herbert with the accompaniment of record music by the Victor Light Opera orchestra. Four characters with the Rev. Raymond Lang as a Dutch boy, Mrs. Thomas J. Brown as a Dutch girl, and Miss Eugenia Martin and William Parker as lovers portrayed their roles.

The first float was followed by another offering a scene from "Pin-afore," a Gilbert-Sullivan light opera of considerable fame. This float represented a portion of the deck of the S.S. Pinakado with Donald Cunn as the captain, Mrs. R. A. Grammer as Little Buttercup and John Eneess, Brenton Bullock, Prentiss Drew and Calvin Cronin as sailors.

The third float, which was one of three which departed from the field of light opera, had for its setting "India." Miss Cora May Perry as a dancer and Raymond Green as a snake charmer were the sole characters represented. The previous floats had passed before the audience on the bank of the lake accompanied to the music. The "India" float was brought to the centre of the scene before the audience and remained stationary amid an effective arrangement of floodlights while Miss Perry did a beautiful dance during the playing of the famous "Kashmiri Song" sung by the famous baritone Reinhold Werrenrath.

"Roses in Ceyland" with Mrs. J. Wesley Dynes as the French Doll, Mrs. Willis E. Pattison as the Toy Soldier, Miss Madeline Barrett as Raggedy Ann, Mrs. Glenn Barclay as Little Bo-Peep, Miss Marcella Renard as a bird, and Mrs. Harold E. Keller as Little Boy Blue portrayed the leading roles of the Mikado and his daughter-in-law elect, Mrs. James Mitchell and Miss Helen Brown as ladies in waiting and Messrs. Richard Jarrell, and Francis Broughton as gentlemen completed the cast of this float. Musical selections from the "Mikado" provided the accompaniment.

Following the offering of these five floats a diving exhibition was presented by Frances Love, Esther Morrison, Peggy Wilder, Robert Richey, Elmer Larson, Paul Snyder, and William Casey. Their place on the program proved to be an interesting and entertaining diversion.

After a brief intermission one of the highlights of the entire program was offered by the Highland Glee Club, Newton's own male singing club, which gave an account of itself in its usual excellent manner. Starting with their own theme song, with echo effects from canoes spotted all over the lake, the club, under the direction of the conductor, D. Ralph MacLean, presented many of the old-time favorites. Among these were "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" and "Home on the Range." With canoes lashed together in groups directly in front of the grandstand, the club sang that stirring nautical hymn "Kyrie at Sea" by Durrner. Paddling back to the boathouse the last soft notes of "Good Night, Ladies" gradually fading away, the effect of singing across the moonlit waters was both unique and lovely.

A scene from "Burma" with Peter Karalekas as a British soldier and Mrs. Hazel Sands Welch as a Burmese girl was the subject of the first float of the second part of the program. Lighted similarly as that of the scene from "India" and with the music from "The Road to Mandalay" as sung by Reinhold Werrenrath, this (Continued on page 4)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

WEEKS SCHOOL WINS IN ANNUAL JUNIOR HIGH TRACK MEET

The John W. Weeks Junior High School captured two of the three annual junior high school class track meets on Tuesday with the Levi F. Warren Jr. High winning the third. A total of 205 junior high school coming athletes participated in the affair which was held at the high school track at the Dickinson Stadium.

Competition was held in the three different grades in the junior high schools, the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. In the seventh grade contests the Warren School, scored 19 points followed by the F. A. Day School with 12, the Weeks school third with 11 and Bigelow with a solitary point. Weeks scored 19 points in the eighth grade meet with Bigelow making its best showing of the day in second with 11 points and Warren's 7 points just topping the Day school's 6. The Weeks School repeated in the ninth grade competition with 19½ points in a close race with the Warren School which totalled 18½. The Day School edged in with 5½ points to keep the issue in doubt until the final event of the day, the relay which the Weeks school captured.

The summary:—

HUSTON NAMED ON INTERSCHOOLISTIC BASEBALL TEAM

Captain Warren Huston of Newton High was named on the list of the leading all-scholastic teams chosen annually at the end of the baseball season. The Newton athlete who concluded his scholastic career last week when he graduated from the local high school has contributed in many ways to the school's athletic history. He was the first Newton athlete to captain three varsity sports in one year having been the leader of the football eleven, the basketball five, and the baseball nine. He also found time to play almost regularly on the hockey team thereby winning four varsity letters this season. For the past several years he has starred in all sports in which he participated.

He was named an all-scholastic shortstop on the team selected by the Boston Globe schoolboy sport writer, Jerry Nash, who has the following to say about his selection: SHORTSTOP—Warren Huston at Newton is good enough so he worked out in the St. Louis National infield at Braves Field one fine morning and was officially stamped by the Cards as a hurler. Slowed up by a football injury last year, played fair baseball. This year he has burned up the Suburban League. Newton played nine games and Huston threw 18 sacks to those nine games. He is 19, weighs 168 pounds, stands 5 feet 11 inches, is a senior. He has clicked the bat for the astounding average of .625. He throws and bats right-handed.

The Globe writer gives honorable mention to Pete Morrison, catcher, Charlie Houghton, first baseman, Charlie Flagg, second, and Joe Mastropieri, outfielder of the Newton nine as well as to Charlie Gallagher, third baseman, and Bill O'Connell, outfielder of the Our Lady High nine, and Leo Bouzan, outfielder on the Sacred Heart High nine.

Schoolboy sports writer Vic Stout of the Traveler places Huston at second base on his first team with "Specks" Kelly of Boston Latin at the shortstop berth. Stout has the following opinion of the Newton star: Warren Huston of Newton gets the call at second base, although he played shortstop all season. This shift was occasioned by the fact that "Specks" Kelly had to be at that shortstop position and Huston was too good to keep off the club. As a fielder, Huston has few peers. At bat, he is no fence buster, but he is a consistent hitter he probably was the best in the business. He hit for the cool average of .615 and stole no less than 15 bases.

Honorable mention is given in the Traveler to the following: pitcher Phil Giles, first baseman Houghton, second baseman Flagg, and outfielder Mastropieri and Kevorkian of Newton High and second baseman Tabaldi, third baseman Gallagher, and outfielder O'Connell of Our Lady High.

On the Transcript team which is chosen by a consensus vote of the coaches of teams in the Suburban League and confined to players on these teams Huston was named at shortstop and Flagg at second base as the two Newton representatives on the nine. With Cambridge Latin and Rindge Tech having fought the closest race for the league honors this year the majority of positions go to these two nines.

ALUMNI NOTES

Arthur Chamberlain was one of the marshals at Boston University's graduating class. Robert Lawrence was picked for the sophomore fraternity. Locke of the business school, Thomas Mariner is the recipient of a scholarship which allows him foreign study.

Alice Bourneau received the Whitney Scholarship at Radcliffe entitling her to a year fellowship. Helen Brooks is the publicity representative of the Student Government. Virginia Townsend is a member of the Community Chest Committee.

Jeannette Houghton is in the Science Club at Simmons College. Florence Kennison made her numerals in basketball. Elizabeth Ayon is devoting her spare time to archery. Eileen Geary is on the college tennis team. In the college tournament Miss Geary went as far as the quarter-finals.

Norman Harris received a major letter M. tennis at I. L. Stanley Johnson made a fitting climax to his freshman year by jumping 22 ft. 2 3/8 in. for a new interclass record. He also has won consistently in the high and low hurdles this year. Richard Jarrell who had great promise for an outdoor winning quarter-miler suffered another set back to his game leg. He received the highest award, a straight "T" in indoor track. Robert Wedd made his freshmen numerals in crew as the coxswain.

Robert Ashley is the number four man on Bowdoin's varsity tennis squad. George Hildreth made a letter in basketball as catcher to add to his varsity hockey letter. Edward Campbell is on the gymnastic team. Malcolm Whitney is a hurdler on the track squad. Thurmon Phillon is participating in college dramatics.

Arthur Quincy, Frank Mahoney, and Daniel Lombardi are members of the Newton Boston College Club. Quincy is also a member of the rifle team. Lombardi, who plays third base on the baseball team, is the college's leading batter.

William Babcock, number two on the Browne and Nichols tennis team, has won seven matches without the loss of one set.

Douglas Chalmers, varsity cox, and Edward Bonelli, number four, are on the Rollins' varsity crew while competing against M. I. T. and Harvard.

At the annual Longwood Tournament two Newton girls reached the finals. Eleanor Ciccone and Caroline Everts. Eleanor Ciccone, seeded no one, breezed her way to the finals with only the loss of one game, while Miss Everts lost only six games. Both

ST. MARY'S TRIMS OUR LADY TO TAKE TITLE FROM LOCALS

St. Mary's High of Brookline trimmed Our Lady High 14 to 3 last week Friday at Victory field to clinch the 1933 Greater Boston Catholic High School league title and wrest the crown from the defending Newton team, winners in 1932. The local nine took a 2 to 0 lead in the early innings. An error permitted Lombardi to score in the second frame with the opening run of the game and Bill O'Connell's double in the third inning with Tallball on base accounted for the home team's start. In the fourth inning St. Mary's stepped out in front with a three-run rally when two bases on balls by Marino followed by an infield out, a single and a triple did the damage. The very next inning the visitors cracked six hits which with base on balls, and a couple of Our Lady errors accounted for seven runs and the game was on ice. Two more runs in the sixth and two in the ninth were enough for invaders to bring their total to fourteen. Charlie Gallagher came through with a home run in the sixth inning just to give the local fans a little something to cheer about as Lefty Joe Sullivan of St. Mary's, the league's leading pitcher, twirled a good game to halt any threat on the part of the locals.

The victory just about settled the race for the league title although not beyond mathematical possibility and a 13 to 8 win over Mission High on Monday to make it certain.

Although all the teams did not play their entire schedule of sixteen league games it being impossible to oust the Brookline nine from its throne the postponed games remaining will not be played and the final standing is as follows:

	W	L	RF	RA	P.C.
St. Mary's (B)	13	3	140	78	.813

Sports Briefs

Philip M. Andrews of Newtonville has been a prominent member of the freshman track team at the U. of Vermont this spring—six Newton boys won a total of ten athletic awards at Northeastern during the school year just closing. Herb Gallagher, cap-elect of varsity hockey, led the list—he will be a senior next year and has a good chance to become the Huskies' leading athlete as far as number of letters is concerned—this year he won his third letter and his third baseball letter, bringing his total to seven as he also has won in soccer. Gallagher was the leading pitcher on the 1933 nine and the only college pitcher to defeat the strong Rhode Island State college team—last winter he led the hockey team in scoring.

George Lamb as a sophomore won two letters, one in cross-country and one in track—Francis Tuscher won freshman numerals in football as an end and his track numerals as a regular on the relay team and in the 300-yard indoor races. Bob Buell, another freshman, won numerals in football and in hockey.

George Bennett completes the list winning numerals as shortstop on the freshman nine this spring—Robert B. McGuire of Chestnut Hill won a major athletic award at Norwich University as a member on the track team this spring—Win Barba won his in fencing—a trio of local youths won spring athletic insignia at Brown—Norman Appleyard, Charles E. Perry and Elrod as members of the freshman baseball team were the three—Art Wilson, B. U. captain, hit his seventh home run of the season last Saturday in the game with Harvard which the Crimson won 8 to 4 to even the series with the Terriers.

Stan Johnson of Newton Centre, a former Newton high school star, took second in the track star took second in the 120 yd. high hurdles at the B. U. alumni field day last Saturday—Arthur Lynthwaite of the Newton Y took second in the 440—John R. Perry of Newton Centre, a member of the class of 1933 of Mass. State College, was among a number of graduates who were awarded "A" certificates as athletes in college previous to the time awards were made—Tom Martin of West Newton was defeated in the men's State tennis championship this week in his fourth round match with R. S. Bowditch—Martin was seeded fifth—Malcolm Hill won his fourth round match from Sam Fitch who is his partner in doubles—this pair won their third round match in the doubles tourney as did Martin who teamed with Carter—Caroline Everts of Newtonville was elected captain of the 1934 Newton High girls' tennis team—she has been a star player on the team for three years and is the present Longwood girls' champion.

of these girls as is shown completely dominated the field. In the finals Caroline Everts displayed her best form in beating Miss Ciccone. However, Eleanor Ciccone came back to win the mixed finals. William Daniels and Albert Everts reached the quarter-finals in the boys' singles, while Caroline and Albert Everts reached the semi-finals in the doubles.

Winston Sharpe is captain of Brown's freshmen tennis team. Francis Chase is playing on Dartmouth's tennis team.

Oscar Jarrell is on Harvard's tennis house team.

Daly Post V. F. W.

A Mardi-Gras under the auspices of Sgt. Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr. Post No. 2384, V. F. W., will be conducted at Victory Field, California st., Newton, during the week of June 19, 24 inclusive. Many attractions are to be presented at this affair which is the first endeavor of its kind since the institution of the Post. Comrade George F. McNamee is chairman of committee in charge of arrangements which promises to be the outstanding event of the year.

Past Commander Keane, Middlesex County Council will be the guest speaker at the regular Post meeting to be held on next Monday evening, June 12, at V. F. W. hall. As this is the final meeting prior to the State encampment it is expected that a large attendance will be present on this night. A detailed report on Memorial Day activities will be presented at this season by Patriotic Officer Thomas Treddin, who was in charge of arrangements of school speakers invited guests of the day and various other tasks which required untiring efforts.

American Red Cross

Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, Jr., treasurer of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross, presented ten Mason School Boy Scouts with First Aid certificates at the Court of Honor at Noblet on May 28th. They included Ian Macdonald, Joseph Waters, Charles Angell, Earle Vaughn, Harold Bronsdon, John Embach, John Roman, George Engle, John Fallows and Norbert Brady.

First Aid certificates were also presented to the following list of boy and girl scouts of the Day Junior High School: Donald Reid, Walter Crane, John Costa, Ralph Hinckley, Nicholas Paradiso, James Cochrane; also Gladys Cameron, Janet Carver, Helen Sleeper, Florence Ames, Marcia Hunnefeld, Josephine Shardielli, Ruth Mountain, Lillian McMahon, Mary McMahon, Florence Reynolds, Eleanor Salvucci, Nellie Frederick, Barbara Conrad, Lorraine Clements, and Geraldine Sullivan.

Twelve girl scouts at Newton Centre have earned certificates in Home Hygiene, to be presented later. They are Winifred Gregory, Jane Underwood, Evelyn Clune, Dorothy Merrill, Geraldine Graves, Betty Goodband, Ruth Ohler, Mary S. Lord, Marjorie Moncrieff, Gladys Coffin, Donna Lillie and Harriet Jane Graham.

TWO-STATE Y MEET AT NEWTON JUNE 24

The Annual Track meet of the Mass. and N. Y. M. C. A.'s will be held on the afternoon of June 24th on the track and field of the Newton High School at the Dickinson Stadium. As the competition is close between many associations and because of the attractive location an interesting afternoon is expected for those who witness these events. Our local "Y" will have a team of runners and jumpers. No admission charge should mean a good audience.

PRESENTS OPERETTA

The very pretty operetta "The Garden of Shah" was presented by the girls of the No Plus Ultra Club of Newton Centre, in the auditorium of the John Weeks School last Saturday evening.

It was a very creditable performance on the part of the entire cast. The feature of the evening was the beautiful singing of Miss Shirley Flynt, who portrayed the leading role of Ted Harding, a young mining engineer in love with the beautiful daughter of the Shah, played by Dorothy Leu.

The audience remembered Miss Flynt, who with her pleasing soprano voice took the leading role in last year's operetta "Penny Buns and Roses."

Miss Flynt shows every promise of a brilliant future as she sings with perfect ease and has wonderful range and flexibility for one so young.

THE DRAMATEURS OF NEWTONVILLE

At a recent meeting the Dramateurs of Newtonville elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Alfred G. Kengott; Vice President, Allan Bliss; Treasurer, E. Donald Robb; Secretary, Miss Kittie Thompson. It was decided to give three plays, as usual. The club has been in existence seven years.

Women's Club Activities

Auburndale Woman's Club

The Art committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, under the direction of Mrs. John Heibek, Chairman, announces a trip to the Hammond Museum, Gloucester, on Wednesday, June 21st, the group leaving the Club House at 10 a. m. If stormy the trip will be taken on Friday, June 23rd, at 10 a. m.

Historic old Salem, with its beautiful old homes, many with doorways so wonderfully carved as to make them famous, was visited by a group of members from the Auburndale Woman's Club last Wednesday. Sponsoring the trip was the Art committee of the club under the chairmanship of Mrs. John D. Heibek, assisted by Mrs. Mervyn Bailey, Mrs. Willard Dodge, Mrs. Edgar Butz, Mrs. Earl Comer, Mrs. Thomas Ferguson, Mrs. John Ferguson, Mrs. Bruce Gardner, Mrs. Charles Hector, Mrs. Ray Lamb, Mrs. Ralph Phipps, Mrs. Robert Walters, Mrs. Lewis Young, and Mrs. William Jarvis, all of whom are members of the Art committee for the coming year.

The Pioneer Village, erected to commemorate Salem's 300th anniversary, was the first stop, followed by luncheon at the East India Tea Room, where many rare antiques were on display.

The House of the Seven Gables, made world-famous by Nathaniel Hawthorne, was the next stop, the guests climbing the secret stairway to the attic where access was afforded to the various "gables."

The Essex Institute and the adjoining old Phipps Mansion which has recently been willed to that institution, the former containing exhibits of interest to all ages, was the next point of call, and was of so much interest that the remainder of the afternoon was spent there, leaving several places of interest to be visited at a later date.

The final trip for the summer, sponsored by the Art committee will be a visit to the Hammond Museum at Gloucester as above announced, on Wednesday, June 21st, many of those who took the trip last year, requesting that it be repeated, now that the Museum is entirely completed. What ever previous arrangements may be made for the day, all must meet at the Museum promptly at 2 o'clock for the personally-conducted tour through the buildings.

General Federation

BIENNIAL COUNCIL MEETING. Continuing the account of events and reports from last week's Column of the meeting in Richmond, other speakers of note who appeared before the convention made the following points:

At a luncheon conference Mr. David L. Lawrence, of the United States News, Washington, D. C., in a very fine address, pictured the present months as the most vital period in the history of democracy. What is needed, he said, is a great trinity, the church teaching selflessness, the schools fundamental knowledge, and the home character. The three together constituting the greatest influence in an effective democracy.

Following the days of private philanthropy there has come definite recognition that unemployment is a national problem and relief of destitution a national obligation. Mr. Frank Bane, director of the American Public Welfare Association, said in a speech describing national relief measures.

At a joint luncheon given under the auspices of the American Home and Fine Arts departments, Miss Katherine Fisher, of Good Housekeeping Magazine, urged safety and serenity in the home, pointing out that fear and preoccupation are causes of accidents and that worship of the minutes leads to hurry and lack of reasonable precautions.

Of great interest to Massachusetts was the stirring speech of Dr. Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education for the State of Massachusetts, who stated that for the third time in 100 years, education stood at the cross-roads and the question must be answered whether it would take the road up or down. In 1837 and in 1786, these tests have come and been answered for the advantage of education and he said he believed the next would be.

He spoke with disdain of the "city which is featuring a century of progress exposition and has not paid its school teachers for almost a year."

Looking at figures, spent upon matters that are far removed from one so admittedly valuable as education, it is amazing to realize that the nation's sport bill amounts to $650,000,000 a year, with 6,000,000 hunting licenses and 7,000,000 fishing licenses. Mr. Harry B. Hawes, former United States Senator from Missouri, so stated in urging conservation.

Massachusetts had cause to be proud of another speaker from this state whose talk before the Public Welfare department Luncheon Conference on Thursday, May 25th, was favorably commented upon. Dr. George H. Bigelow, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health, spoke on the topic "Is Personal Hygiene Valuable."

An outstanding report of department accomplishments was given by Mrs. Joseph Lindon Smith, adviser, who stated that better home care for Indians and the building of a comprehensive library on Indian life had been major activities of the division of Indian Welfare. The Federation is cooperating with the Indian service of the Government in Indian home-yard care, home care, home-made furniture for homes, and better bedding. Fifteen reservations in seven states were reported as working on these projects.

Among interesting personal items, Mrs. Curtis Brown, of London, Eng., president of the American Women's Club of London, and also of the Federation of American Women's Clubs in Europe, was made an honorary member of the United States organization. Mrs. Brown will be one of the Federation hostesses when a party of Federation members sails on July 24th from New York City for a tour of Europe.

In prize contest awards Massachusetts fared well. Mrs. Walter W. Seymour, of Chicago, Ill., presented a prize of $10 to the Women's Club of Goldboro, N. C., and one of $5 to the Junior Women's Club of La Salle, Ill., for the best programs of the year on the American home.

For participating in the penny-raising campaign to buy art, pictures were presented to New Jersey, Massachusetts, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Michigan, and Maryland.

Mrs. Ivie H. Jones, of Las Vegas, N. M., received a home-made quilt for the best program submitted on community service, with honorable mention to Mrs. Leon P. Dutch, of Winthrop, Mass., and Mrs. O. B. Hughes, of Pittsburgh, Penn.

Mrs. Anne Ganster, of Marshfield, Wis., received a prize of $50, and Mrs. D. K. Marlowe, of West Lafayette, Ohio, a prize of $25 in a contest for an essay on international relations, having 27 groups to her credit.

Among resolutions adopted, the Council went on record as favoring power for the President of the United States to forbid, after consultation with like-minded nations, the exportation of arms and ammunition to a country engaged in war or on the verge of it, which was recommended by the Resolutions committee, with a qualifying phrase added from the floor, "Which shall constitute a menace to the peace of the world in violation of the Kellogg Pact."

Another resolution calls attention to the present tendency of law-making bodies to lower standards of public education, public health and child welfare, "through mistaken ideals of economy," and "protests depriving both children and adults of adequate education and health opportunities."

Interesting intimate personalities of the convention of special Massachusetts appeal are that the President's Aide was Mrs. Carl L. Schrader; that her assistant parliamentarian for assistance in complicated business of the sessions, which might arise, was Mrs. George A. Mellon, chairman of Club Institutes in the Massachusetts Federation; that on Wednesday evening, State Directors' Night, the Processional, played for their dramatic entrance, was the Grace Morrison Poole Victory March, written by our own Grace Warner Gulesian, of Chestnut Hill, and two other events of that evening, thrilling or delightful. When the directors entered the auditorium of the Mosque they were led by Mrs. Schrader, director from Massachusetts, carrying a sheaf of pink roses. The Massachusetts delegates, all in evening gowns—as was the entire assemblage—occupying the seats of honor, the two front rows, since their state claimed the distinction of the president, stood as the procession passed, and waved, each one, a long stemmed pink rose, in time to the music. This was the episode that held intimate thrills.

The delightful episode was introduced by an announcement that this day was the birthday of the national president—Mrs. Poole, Mrs. Schrader, in behalf of the delegates, presented her with an exquisite toilet set of black enamel with silver trimmings. Her own home club, the Brockton Woman's Club, presented her with a mammoth basket of flowers. Here it might be added that during the entire week the Massachusetts delegation kept her room supplied with fresh flowers and also arranged for corsage bouquets for her to wear each day. The even more intimate episode of the evening came, however, after the return to the hotel, when Mrs. Poole was given a surprise party in her room, with a birthday cake and candles, which it took Mrs. Poole three blows to put out. She cut the cake and shared it with her unexpected guests in a merry party.

On this same evening during the program, which was a Directors' Symposium, on "Filling the Hop's Chest," quite the most outstanding musical treat of the session was enjoyed, and really unforgettably enjoyed. Mrs. Louise Homer Stires, Soprano, of Richmond, wife of the Rev. Ernest Van R. Stires of All Saints Church, and daughter of the famous Metropolitan prima donna, Madame Metropole Homer, sang "Rose Softly Blooming," by Spohr; "Wiegand," by Brahms; and "Adieu, Forests," by Tschakowsky, from "Jeanne d'Arc."

An intensely appealing event of Tuesday evening was the request by the General Federation, after hearing a poem of Angela Morgan's, read by her for the first time, and most evidently descriptive of President Roosevelt, that this poem be dedicated by the Federation to him. Angela Morgan, who has been called the American Poet Laureate, gave a very fine program, of which this tribute was the climax, explaining "What It Means to Write a Poem," and reading from her own works.

Monday evening was the gala night in a reception in the ballroom of the John Marshall hotel and tribute from Virginia, through the hostess Federation, and daughter of the famous Metropolitan prima donna, Madame Metropole Homer, sang "Rose Softly Blooming," by Spohr; "Wiegand," by Brahms; and "Adieu, Forests," by Tschakowsky, from "Jeanne d'Arc."

SANITONED

HOW often you've said that dresses never look the same after they've once been cleaned. You can't say that about a dress that's been Sanitoned.

For this amazing new beauty treatment takes nothing from your dresses but the dirt. Its touch is so gentle that it leaves silks and satins, chiffons and velvets—even the fragile, weighted materials—full-bodied, with the same exquisite finish they had when new.

It goes so far beyond any other method of cleaning that it removes almost any kind of spot and stain—even perspiration—along with the soil, and brightens colors to a lovelier radiance that gives you new pleasure in your frocks each time you have them Sanitoned.

Special events planned for the benefit or entertainment of the visiting clubwomen had already been announced in detail preceding the meeting, but on occasion greatly enjoyed may be spoken of here. Following the Tuesday afternoon session, automobiles were waiting to take those who wished to go all about Richmond on a sight-seeing trip, and to the beautiful gardens of Mrs. E. M. Crutchfield, "Reveille"; Mrs. Douglas Vander Hoot, "Windmills"; and Mrs. John G. Hayes, "Western View," where refreshments were served by these three hostesses amidst a glory of roses, peonies, bachelor buttons, and everywhere hedges of honeysuckle.

The Juniors enjoyed a similar outing on Wednesday afternoon, ending up with a Tea at the Country Club of Virginia; followed by dinner that included chicken and ice cream at the Jefferson Hotel, and a dance that evening with a choice group of young men of the town. They also enjoyed the Play Day with the senior clubwomen on Friday in the trip to Williamsburg (the oldest incorporated city in America; settled in 1633, and the seat of the Colonial Government from 1699 to 1799). Jamestown, and Yorktown; the Tuesday evening session of the senior club at the Mosque, and Luncheon at the John Marshall hotel on Wednesday with the seniors. On Thursday afternoon the Juniors were given a Bridge Tea at the Lewis Ginter Community House.

Resume of the Biennial would not be complete without some mention of the sessions of the Junior membership. The Jefferson hotel was their headquarters, where registration took place on Monday, May 22nd, with hostesses from the Richmond Junior Clubs on hand to greet the arrivals. Tuesday was their Big Day, with their Conference at this hotel opening at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Edward M. Land was chairman of Junior activities. The Conference opened with the same formalities as comprised the senior club's—singing of "America the Beautiful," "Salute to the Flag," repetition of "The American Creed," written by William Tyler Page; Invocation, and Addresses of Welcome, in this case by chairman of Richmond and Virginia Juniors, Miss Francis Crutchfield and Mrs. D. S. Gates. Among Greetings, two were from the Junior department of the General Federation; and then "Our President," Grace Morrison Poole, graced their platform, a gesture that is typical of her understanding, gracious character. The Address was given by Mrs. Land, the chairman of activities. Discussion included worthwhile and inspiring information on such topics as Maintaining a Kindergarten, Building a Clubhouse, Teaching the Adult Illiterate, Organizing a County Library, Our City Beautiful Program (Beautifying methods of cities and towns), and A School for Crippled Children, all of which projects are possible for Juniors to undertake.

GEORGE E. HARRISON

George E. Harrison of 655 Grove st., Newton Lower Falls, died on June 11th at the Newton Hospital as the result of a ruptured appendix. He was born at Newton Lower Falls 53 years ago, the son of Robert S. and the late Katherine (Sullivan) Harrison. He had been a member of the Newton Fire Department for 27 years, serving with Engine 1 and Engine 6. He was a member of the Foresters of America. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Louise (Fisher) Harrison; a son, William R. Harrison; his father; and two sisters, Mrs. Alice McLean of Newton Lower Falls, and Mrs. Roger Haynes of West Newton.

His funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Lower Falls; Rev. Guy Wilber Miner officiated. The church was filled by friends of the deceased. Forty members of the Newton Fire Department, headed by Chief Randall, and Deputy Chief Boothby, formed a guard of honor, in conjunction with a delegation from the Foresters of America. Among the present were Chief Slamin of the Wellesley Fire Department and Hon. Edwin O. Childs. The pall bearers were—Captain Seaver, Lieuts. McNeil and Corcoran, and Firemen Eneggers, Farrell and Hurley of the Newton Fire Department. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, where committal prayers were read by Rev. Miner.

MRS. FRANKLIN M. ELMS

Tuesday afternoon at the Upton family lot in the Newton Cemetery in the presence of members of the family the Rev. Richard G. Preston, of Grace Church, Newton, conducted the committal services over the ashes of Mrs. Franklin Merritt Elms who died at her home in Phoenix, Arizona, Friday, June 2. Mrs. Elms was Isabel Penno Upton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Upton, long residents of Newtonville, and was born in Boston, coming to Newtonville with her parents when a young girl. She was educated in the Newton schools and was married to Mr. Elms by the Rev. George W. Shinn at Grace Church on Dec. 23, 1898. Both before her marriage and after it Mrs. Elms was active in church work, first at Grace Church and afterwards at St. John's in Newtonville of which latter church she was one of the original members. In the early 1900's with her husband she moved to Montclair, N. J. Seven years ago they went to Phoenix, Arizona. For years they made their summer home in Nanucket. Mrs. Elms is survived by her husband, her daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Black, and two grandchildren, Franklin Elms Black and Myra Nancy Black, all of Phoenix, and a sister, Mrs. John Cutler of Newtonville.

MRS. MARGARET R. JERAULD

Mrs. Margaret R. Jerauld of 40 Nesbitt rd., Waban, wife of Albert E. Jerauld, died at the Newton Hospital yesterday, June 15, in her 32nd year. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Bartlett of Newtonville, and had been a resident of this city for 20 years. She is survived by her husband; two children; her parents; and two sisters—Mrs. H. T. Drury of Vermont, and Mrs. L. C. Volckings of Glenview, New Jersey. Her funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 in the Newton Cemetery chapel.

A TRIBUTE TO MISS CLARA M. HAYES

The death of Miss Clara M. Hayes, Superintendent of the Rebecca Pomroy Home for Girls, occurred Wednesday, June the seventh, at her home, at 24 Hovey st., Newton.

Miss Hayes was a native of New Hampshire. She was the daughter of the late Rev. Joseph Hayes of the New Hampshire Methodist Conference.

For thirty-five years Miss Hayes was the very efficient and faithful Superintendent of Pomroy Home.

During all these years under her able direction Pomroy was so wisely and so beautifully managed that, at all times, it was the joy and pride, not only of its Board of Directors, but of all our increasing number of friends.

The girls, however, were her absorbing interest and her great joy. Her constant thought was for their physical, mental and spiritual welfare and scores upon scores of girls, not a few of whom knew no other Mother, had the blessing of her rare and gracious spirit. Their lives have been made better and richer because of her beautiful influence upon them.

A simple service, in keeping with Miss Hayes' wishes, was held at the home, Friday afternoon, June the ninth. This was followed by the interment at Salisbury, Mass., in the family burial lot.

EDWARD F. MILLER

Edward F. Miller of 538 Ward st., Newton Centre, professor of mechanical engineering at Mass. Institute of Technology, and head of that department for 22 years, died on June 12 at his home. He was born in Somerville 67 years ago and graduated from M. I. T. in 1886. Following his graduation he joined the teaching staff of the institute and in 1905 was appointed professor of steam engineering. In 1911 he was made head of the mechanical department. During the World War, Professor Miller established and directed eight schools throughout this country which trained thousands of engineer officers. He was a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Boston Society of Civil Engineers and American Society of Civil Engineers. He was the author of a number of books on engineering subjects.

MRS. ELIZABETH J. WELCH

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Welch of 4 Elm court, West Newton, died on June 14. She was a native of Malloy, Cork, Ireland, and had resided in West Newton for 65 years. Mrs. Welch, who was the widow of Maurice Welch, is survived by two daughters, Mary E. Welch and Mrs. Andrew Prior; a son, John M. Welch; seven grandchildren and a great-grandchild, all of West Newton. Her funeral service was held this morning at St. Bernard's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH GERRAUGHTY

Mrs. Elizabeth (Mills) Gerraughty of 50 Dalby st., Nonantum, wife of Patrick Gerraughty, died on June 10. She was born at Tallow, Waterford, Ireland, 64 years ago, and had resided in this city for nearly 50 years. Her funeral service was held Monday morning at Our Lady's Church and burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. She is survived by her husband; four sons, John, James and Joseph Gerraughty of Newton, and George Gerraughty of New York; two daughters, Mrs. Amos Switzer of Needham, and Mary Gerraughty of Newton; and a brother, James Mills of Newton.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

In the assembly Friday, June ninth, two plays were presented by the social studies classes. The titles of the plays were "The Trail of Fire" and "The Homeland." The plays were very well done and they were thoroughly enjoyed by the students.

On Friday evening, June ninth, an entertainment for the benefit of the athletic fund was presented by students of the school. It included plays, music, and recitations. The storm prevented a few people from coming, but the interesting program provided everyone with an enjoyable evening.

HERE AND THERE

Everyone extremely busy—preparing for finals and College Boards. But Tech is over—and Newton's Herbert Grundman, Paul J. Pettinmet, Malvin J. Mayer, William Barkley, William Hanley, have joined the ranks of M. I. T. alumni. Waban's John Stuart Patterson, received his M.S. degree. At Tech also, Lou Bloomfield, taking entrance exams, for Mt. Holyoke. Good luck, Lou. Spied Ray Gelineau, of Detroit, now of Auburndale, and Bob Van Patten Stieger, another Auburndale, watching Lasell Class night—Saturday last. El Stearns, home from a two weeks' visit at her Arlington Hall roommate's home, in Lakeview, Florida. It's a gay town, and has plenty of swimming, with nineteen lakes. Welcome back, El, preceding her sorority dance, a short time ago. Mig Brandt, was hostess, at a large dinner party, at the Hotel Puritan, where everyone had a simply swell time, at both the dance and the dinner—how about it, Mig and Stevie. Several Wanabites, to serve at a tea, given in honor of the Rotarians, from all over the world, at the Wellesley College, June twenty-nine.

BOUQUETS TO Newton's Robert Kengott, whose paper, on "Wireless Transmission Power," won second prize, in the Stratton prize final competition. ## POLICE NEWS

Mary Hallahan of 89 Rowena rd., Newton Centre, was in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with keeping a barking and biting dog. Robert Wilkey of Rowena rd., and his daughter, Ruth Wilkey, testified that the Hallahan dog, a chow, had on a number of occasions, attacked their dog, C. H. Denton of 80 Rowena rd. also testified that the Hallahan dog was of a fighting disposition. Witnesses who testified in favor of the accused dog included Daniel Hagen, 74 Rowena rd.; Roger Musset, 29 Rowena rd.; Martin Connolly, 29 Rowena rd. Judge Lynch of Milford, who presided at the case, found the Hallahan woman not guilty.

Thomas Kerrivan of Natick was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday for driving while under the influence of liquor. Alva Stone, Jr., of Kenilworth st., Newton, was also found guilty on a like charge and fined $100.

H. M. Wahl of Cummings rd., Newton Centre, was arrested at West Newton on Friday night by Patrolmen Taffe and Stanton charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor, after the car he is alleged to have been driving hit two parked cars and a pole. He will be tried on June 22.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

A car driven by Robert Hayes of Ashland hit the rear of a car operated by Catherine Turbert of 87 Grove Hill ave., Newtonville, when the latter car stopped at a red traffic light at Beacon st., Newton Centre on Tuesday night. Miss Turbert and three other young women, who were in her car reported that they had received injuries.

Marjorie Underhill of 406 Walnut st., Newtonville, drove a car into an automobile parked on Bowen st., Newton Centre on Tuesday night. Mrs. Annie Scott, 65, of Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre, who was seated in the parked car, was reported as having been injured. The Underhill girl was taken to the hospital. She was accompanied by James Leach, 19, of 258 Homestead st., who had a driver's license.

A car driven by Mrs. Barbara Baker of 227 Walnut st., Newtonville, ran into a tree on Common st., Belmont on Monday afternoon. The car got out of control when a front tire had a blowout. Mrs. Baker's nose was broken. Mrs. George Auryansen of 43 Judkins st., Newtonville, who was a passenger in the car received numerous cuts and bruises on the body and head. The two women were taken to the Cambridge Hospital and are making favorable recovery from their injuries. They will be confined to the hospital for about a week.

Playground Supt. Injured in Crash

Ernst Hermann, superintendent of Newton's playgrounds, received injuries to his chest and face on Monday when the car he was driving hit another car at Concord. A wasp which alighted on his hand caused him to lose control of the car. He was driving from his summer home at Harvard to Newton when the accident occurred.

NEWTON BOAT CLUB EXTENDS ENTERTAINMENT PRIVILEGES

The attractive facilities of the Newton Boat Club at Charles st. on the Charles river in Auburndale are now open for public engagement. The decade hall with its 250 guest capacity is already proving a popular place in which to hold select parties. Canoes may also be rented by other than club members. This represents a change in policy of one of the oldest social organizations in the Newtons and one which for many years was considered exclusive.

The club was organized in 1876 for the encouragement of boat racing on the Charles. Through the generosity of R. M. Pulsiver, the present site was purchased in 1886 and the present building was erected. The club grew so rapidly that it was soon necessary to limit the membership to 300, which left a long waiting list.

For many years the club provided band concerts during the month of June which were recognized as an important social diversion of the city. During the winter months the club remained open with dancing and bowling.

The membership of the club now extends outside the Newtons, and it is expected that this change in policy will greatly increase the popularity of the resort.

The officers of the club are as follows: President, Lester E. Hodges; Vice President, Kenneth Rogers; Secretary, Kendal A. Woodrough; Treasurer, Walter B. Riedl; Captain, Howard M. Goff.

Judge Excludes Signed Statement

In the Newton court last Friday Thomas F. Hickey of 18 Atherton rd., Brookline, was found not guilty of drunk driving by Judge W. Lloyd Allen. Early on the morning of May 24th a car owned by Hickey hit the traffic signal on Commonwealth ave. and Lake st., Chestnut Hill, badly damaging it. When the police arrived on the scene they arrested Hickey on the charges of drunkenness and drunken driving. With Hickey were two girls, whose names and addresses the police took. These names and addresses subsequently proved false and the girls could not be located and summoned into court.

Inspector King of the Newton police prosecuted the case and endeavored to introduce as evidence a statement signed by Hickey some hours after he had been arrested, and after he had been assigned in the Newton court. In this statement was an alleged admission by Hickey that he was driving the car when it hit the signal. Hickey admitted that the signature on the statement was his, but he denied that he had intended to sign a statement that he was the driver of the car. Judge Allen refused to allow the statement to be used as evidence. Hickey claimed that one of the girls who were his companions in the car, was the driver. He also claimed that he did not know who the girls were. Judge Allen found him not guilty of drunken driving and placed on file the charge of drunkenness against Hickey.

SONS OF VETERANS HOLD ANNUAL OUTING

The Massachusetts department, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and their Auxiliary held their annual field day and supper at the Gov. John A. Andrew Home on Washington Park, Newtonville, on Saturday afternoon, June 10. A catalpa tree was planted in memory of the late Wilfred A. Wetherbee, former National Senior Vice-Commander of the G. A. R. The women of the Auxiliary planted two rose bushes in memory of the late Mary Warren, past president of the S. of V. Auxiliary.

Music was furnished by a trio from Cambridge and refreshments were served at the Home. The special guests were Frank Kirchcassner of Jamaica Plain, National Senior Vice-Chairman of S. of V. ## LOCAL POLITICS NEXT

With the special election pertaining to the repeal of prohibition out of the way Newton voters are turning their thoughts to local politics. Although the city election will not be held until next December the fact that this is "mayoralty year" in Newton focuses attention on the situation much earlier than in "off" years. The near future will undoubtedly see developments which the voters will receive with interest.

HAVE YOU A JOB TO OFFER?

While the general unemployment situation has improved somewhat there are still many men in desperate need of employment in Newton. The Mayor's Relief Committee has many reliable men and women capable of filling any type of position. If you have any opportunity to give part time or temporary work you will be performing a community service by calling the committee headquarters.

NEWTON GOES WET

Forty per cent of the voters of Newton cast a large majority of "wet" votes last Tuesday while sixty per cent remained at home. It has been many years since a special election brought forth even a 40% share of the voters showing the interest that many voters are taking in the prohibition situation.

Under The Gilded Dome

Not a single Newtonite will participate in the proceedings June 26 at the State House when Massachusetts officially ratifies the repeal of the 18th amendment. However, a neighbor from Weston, B. Loring Young, former speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, may be chosen to preside over the repeal convention on that date, and there ought to be a measure of solace in that, if anyone really feels downcast about Newton's omission in the delegates elected.

The Newton delegation in the House of Representatives split, 2 to 1, against asking Gov. Ely to remove Judge Arthur P. Stone from his office as justice of the Third District Court of Eastern Middlesex. When the question of ordering to a third reading the resolve seeking Judge Stone's removal came up in the House Wednesday afternoon, Representative Baker cast the only Newton vote in favor of the Judge's dismissal. Representatives Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted against it.

Under the provisions of a bill signed by the Governor this week the whole schedule of tax assessment and payment procedure is advanced by two to three months and enables cities and towns to have the use of a portion of the tax money earlier in the year and thus reduce their borrowing. The measure has the hearty approval of State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long. As provided in the new law assessment of taxes as well as the annual listing of voters will take place January 1 instead of April 1 as in the past. Tax bills will be issued in June. The taxpayer may have the privilege of making installment payments beginning July 1, and be enabled to spread his payments over a considerable period, although not requiring to complete payments earlier than under the present system.

A unique sort of holiday is likely to be included in the calendar of Massachusetts if approval is given by the voters of Suffolk County of the plan to make June 17, Bunker Hill Day, a legal holiday. The bill, signed this week by the Governor, provides for a referendum at the State election in 1934 to the voters of Suffolk County on whether June 17 shall become a holiday in that county. This would mean that the rest of the State could celebrate or not on Bunker Hill Day while Boston, Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop would be obliged to recognize the occasion.

Under another bill that has been approved by the Governor the State Department of Agriculture is given concurrent power with the director of the Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station in the enforcement of laws and regulations governing the testing of milk and cream.

Conferences have been held this week by Governor Ely and the presiding officers of the Senate and House over the question of what action the Legislature shall take to obtain the benefits of the Federal Industrial Recovery Legislation. The Governor has had a survey made of proposed improvements which are said to total about $100,000,000. It is expected that next week the Governor will send a special message to the Legislature.

SCHOOL CHATS

After a careful study of over two years of the junior high school, the High School Masters' Club of Massachusetts reported that "With the completion of the sixth grade, the school situation begins to assume a different character, any general consent of the most careful students of education, the pupil has mastered the facts and processes which justify and demand a new departure. It is precisely in this period that the old organization of the schools has failed oftenest to interest and hold the pupil. It is also a time of unrest, uncertainty, and, oftentimes, of a distaste for those studies and pursuits sanctioned by parents and teachers. The junior high school meets this situation in the first place by offering the pupil a choice of the work that he may do.

In 1929 the School Committee of Newton approved the recommendation of a joint committee of the school committee and the Board of Aldermen "That the junior high school policy be adopted" for the city. Mr. Everett E. Kent, chairman of the committee that year, said in his annual report that "this system has numerous and important educational advantages; and is approved as the coming universal system by officials, state and national, public and private, to whom we look for responsible leadership in education."

In that same year a survey, by a "board of outside experts", of the conditions, and a comparison with conditions and practice in other communities comparable with Newton, was made by a Commission consisting of James H. Van Sickle of Springfield, George A. Myrick of Harvard University, and E. E. MacNary of the U. S. Shipping Board.

One of the questions put to this commission was—"would it be wise for Newton, in view of its division into numerous scattered villages, to adopt the junior high school system?" The answer was that "the geography of Newton and its distribution of population make the junior high school plan feasible, and it will give to each district the sort of school it needs. The junior high school organization is better fitted to meet the educational needs of Newton than the present organization of eight elementary grades and four high school grades." The commission recommended that two junior high buildings be begun in 1931, one at West Newton and one in Newtonville, and that three others be provided within three years.

Accordingly, the erection of the first Junior High School, the Frank A. Day, on Walnut Street, Newtonville, was begun in 1931, and occupied in September, 1932. This building contains 17 classrooms with a total of 595 sittings and a combination assembly hall and gymnasium, and provides school facilities for pupils of junior high school age from Newtonville, Nonantum, and a part of West Newton. Under able leadership and a loyal faculty this school pioneered in the development of the junior high school movement in the city.

At the same time the Board of Aldermen was requested to provide a new building near the corner of Washington and Greenough Streets, West Newton, for a junior high school to be ready at the earliest date possible.

January, 1927, saw the Bigelow School reorganized on a modified junior high plan. No change was made in the building itself, but one small room was equipped for a kitchen and two classrooms were used as lunchrooms. This condition remains today, although the sixth grade has been replaced by a ninth and the regular curriculum is followed. As early as 1922 the Committee was assured that alterations would be made in the Bigelow building so that a second unit could be organized the next September. Every annual report of the committee since has stressed the need of accommodations. A double gymnasium was built in 1931, thus greatly facilitating the health and physical training of the pupils. Another addition, providing a cafeteria, science, art and practical arts rooms is urgently needed.

In 1924 a joint committee of the School Committee and the Board of Aldermen made definite recommendations "that a new Junior High School in the West Newton-Auburndale District be built." The Aldermen adopted this report, land was purchased at the corner of Washington and Myrtle Streets, plans were drawn, and the building was occupied in September, 1927. Twenty classrooms, 17 seats for 735 pupils, adequately equipped shops and laboratories, a convertible gymnasium, an assembly hall, and a fine playground offer school facilities to the children of West Newton, Auburndale, and Waban rarely equalled in any community.

For several years the people of the South Side of the city had been asking for better school accommodations. Studies by the joint committee of the School Committee and the Board of Aldermen had been made at various times and finally a recommendation was offered that relief be given for the congestion in the Mason, Hyde and Emerson districts. Accordingly, land was purchased in Newton Centre and money was appropriated for the erection of a building. This third unit in the junior high school system was completed and the school was opened in September, 1931. At the request of the School Committee it was named "The John Wingate Weeks Junior High School" in honor of one of Newton's most distinguished citizens. Containing twenty-five classrooms, shops and special rooms, an auditorium, two gymnasiums, this building "provides for the necessities and convenience for a progressive and up-to-date junior high school."

2706 pupils are now enrolled in the four junior high schools in the city. When the vitally needed addition referred to above is made to the Bigelow plant, the School Department will be equipped with ample junior high school facilities for caring for the pupils of this age in all parts of the city excepting Newtonville, which has definitely outgrown the F. A. Day, which seemed twelve years ago to be of ample size.

More Dogs Die of Rabies; Quarantine May Be Extended

A robust Newton young man who passed the physical examination for enlistment in reforestation work, was sent back home from Camp Devens because his teeth needed some repairing. It would seem that some of the functions assigned to the details of this big project, are unnecessarily fussy; unless the young men employed in the forestry project will have to use their teeth in biting off twigs. If they are going to be so exacting, why not hire some of our unemployed young dentists to fix up teeth at Devens? How do the wise officials at Devens expect that a fellow who has been out of work for years can pay for expensive dental treatment at home?

Our pal, France, that allegedly wonderful nation of idealists over which we blathered so much during the years of the World War. The country saved from conquest by the Germans through the aid given freely by the United States in 1917 and 1918, France for whose recovery from the devastation of the war the people of this country loaned billions following 1918. France, which said to the Germans "They shall not pass," now says to this country, "We shall not pay." Vive la France. Let's form an alliance with it. It is so honorable; so sportsmanlike.

George Harrison of Engine 6, Newton Lower Falls, who died last Sunday won the respect of the many who cherished him as a friend because of his simple, straightforward character. George detested sham, and his honesty, his fairness in his dealings with others were evidenced throughout his life. With so many men unemployed, and with the city trying to find work for

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 18.

The Golden Text is: "Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens; when I call unto them, they stand up together" (Isaiah 48: 12, 13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. . . . And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; . . . So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them. . . . Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them" (Genesis 1: 1, 26, 27; Genesis 2: 1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If God, the All-in-all, be the creator of the spiritual universe, including man, then everything entitled to a classification as truth, or Science, must be comprised in a knowledge or understanding of God, for there can be nothing beyond illimitable divinity" (p. 127).

Weeks Junior H. S.

Approximately 25 girls from each of the junior high schools took part in the Play Day on Monday. The color teams, composed of a mixed representation from the junior highs, participated in baseball, dodge ball, Philadelphia kick ball, and hit-pin baseball. The winners, the gold team, received bags of candy as a reward. The tennis champions for the Weeks were Elena Ciccone and Annie Taliani. The Weeks team was victorious in a relay race between the separate schools.

The Junior High Track Meet was held June 13 at the High School. A team of forty boys will compete from the Weeks.

The Student Council and Patrol members enjoyed a day of sight-seeing on Monday. Among the places visited were Bunker Hill, Charleston Navy Yard, House of Seven Gables, Salem and Marblehead.

The Girls' Varsity baseball team defeated the Alumnae 14 to 2 in a recent game at the school.

Many generous bundles of clothing were donated by the pupils during last week. This week was set aside for the collection of material which might be of use in the welfare work.

Warren Jr. High

The school officers for next year have recently been elected. They are: Community President, Allen Liberty; Barclay Feather, Boy's Vice-president; Virginia Ramsay, Girls' Vice-Pres.; Sec'y, Joyce Bennett.

The ninth grade president is Lincoln Morton and Raymond Anderson is vice pres.; Eleanor Chase and Charlotte Ennis are Sec'y and Treas. In Grade VIII Robert Black was again chosen to lead his class. Ellen Duggan is vice pres. and Virginia Wilson is sec-treas.

Athletics

The girls' varsity baseball team has been chosen. The members are: M. Collins, F. Boudreau, Marie Cavallo, M. Medlicott, M. Hanlon, E. Moody, V. Amesbury, N. Durbin, J. Kent, R. Fulton, S. Cram, M. Carter.

The Practical Arts and Art Department held an exhibit and demonstration of work on June sixth and seventh. There was a display of sheet metal, wrought iron, printing, woodwork, budgeting, nutrition and preparation of foods, dressmaking, lamp shades, decorated boxes and similar articles.

Patrolman Walker Catches Thief

The alertness of Patrolman Charles Walker of the Newton police caused him to capture an automobile thief on Central Ave. at Newtonville yesterday afternoon at 5:18; 45 minutes before the theft of the car came on the teletype from Boston, Walker noticed a car being driven on Central Ave. without a front number plate, and in an uncertain manner. He jumped on the running board and forced the driver to stop. He placed the driver under arrest for driving without the influence of liquor. The prisoner gave his name as Patrick Durran, and his address as 204 West 8th st., South Boston. It was later learned that the car had been stolen from the yard of the Mack Motor Company, North Beacon st., Brighton. It was the property of A. G. Johnson, 142 Manning st., Needham.

Two little children were drowned in it. Another objection to the open brook has been the fact that for some years past during certain months each year the sanitary sewer system of this city became overloaded because of the rapid growth of Newton, and it became necessary to divert some of the sewage into the brook. This condition was particularly bad during March and April of this year.

A few years ago one of the then Aldermen from Ward 1 endeavored to have the brook covered in conjunction with the improvement of Boyd Park, but this work was postponed because of financial conditions. When the condition of the brook became unusually obnoxious a few months ago the Ward 1 Improvement Association, under the leadership of its president, Miss Julia Enegees, started to agitate for the covering of the brook. The co-operation of Aldermen Sprout, Murray, Gallagher and Hawkins was procured and Mayor Weeks made a couple of visits to the locality to observe conditions. The Mayor then promised that he would have the brook covered this year, if possible, and the work will be started even sooner than persons residing in the vicinity expected.

Water Pageant

float was one of the most beautiful offered.

Two following floats with scenes from "The Student Prince" and "Rose Marie" were enthusiastically received. Miss Elizabeth Henry as the bar maid and John Wales, John Grey, Donald Whitehill, and Fred Danten, as students in the former, comprised the cast of the former with music from that light opera as an accompaniment. Mrs. Raymond A. Green as Rose Marie, and William Pattison as a Canadian trapper were the characters on the latter float. The beautiful music of the two outstanding songs from the opera "Rose Marie" and "Indian Love Call" were most effective.

The program was brought to a close by a float representing "Days of the Wicwam" with the roles of Indians portrayed by the following Newton Boy Scouts: Roger Cox, Harold Jenkins, Walter Michaels, and Pete Bennett.

Badly Injured Cutting Wood

William H. Bosworth, 57, of 57 Henshaw st., West Newton, received a serious head injury on Sunday night while chopping wood in his yard. Bosworth had raised an axe above his head when it hit a clothes line. The axe was deflected, hit him on the head and made a deep gash. He was rushed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and eight stitches were taken to close the wound. It was feared he had received a possible fracture of the skull.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

A series of four Play-as-You-Please Piazza Parties is being planned for the four Saturday afternoons in June at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill.

Among the Newton ladies sponsoring these parties are Mrs. Ernest H. Evans, Mrs. Harry E. Moore of Newton Centre; Mrs. Maurice E. Peters of West Newton; Mrs. Otto A. Lawton, Renshaw Smith, Jr. and Roger B. Tyler of Newton.

The hostesses in charge of the bridge party for June 3 are Mrs. Harry H. German and Mrs. Alec R. Kellie. They will be assisted by Mrs. F. J. Blake of Newton Centre and Mrs. A. A. Schaaf of Newton also by Mrs. Alfred E. Knight of Winchester; Mrs. Paul F. Butler and Mrs. George H. Poirier and Mrs. George L. Wehrle of Boston. An afternoon tea will follow the piazza party.

The second in the series of Play-as-You-Please Piazza Parties at the Commonwealth Country Club, Chestnut Hill, was held Saturday afternoon, June 10. Mrs. Charles E. Murnan and Mrs. Robert E. Green are directing this party of the series and they will be assisted by Mrs. Sidney R. David, Willard J. Freeman, O. Glenn Hopper and John A. Horner.

NEWTON K. OF C. ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual election of officers of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, was held Tuesday evening at Elks' Hall in Newton. There were contests for only two offices. The following were chosen for the ensuing year: Grand Knight, Paul M. FitzGerald; Deputy G. K., Austin Morgan; Chancellor, Francis Frazier; Warden, Edward C. White; Recorder, Algonon McCarthy; Treasurer, George Linnehan; Advocate, William Geegan; Inside Guard, Kerin Conroy; Outside Guard, Raymond Keegan; Trustee, John J. Monahan; State Delegate, Thomas Waiters; Chapter Delegate, Coleman Conroy.

GETS $375 FOR FALL ON SIDEWALK

Mrs. Catherine McDonald of Tremont st., Newton, was awarded $375 damages Monday night by the Board of Aldermen. She fell on the sidewalk in front of her home some months ago and received injuries. Mrs. McDonald stated that there was a defect in the sidewalk. Recently the city has paid several such claims. In past years persons who received injuries by falls on alleged defective sidewalks in this city were consistently turned down.

USUALLY

when you apply for a job, you are asked for your telephone number. Next to your name and address it's the most important thing on the application.

First call usually goes to the man or woman who can be reached quickest. Employment managers say they are likely to choose those who are able to give telephone numbers when applying.

Factory and employment offices list telephone numbers of employees and applicants. Plants on part time call their people back to work by telephone. Telephone service costs little compared to the help it can give you in getting work and in many other ways.

Camp Mary A. Day Starts Eleventh Season June 26th

Girls Will Build Outdoor Kitchens In Which They Will Do Their Own Cooking

Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout Camp, on Nonesuch Pond, Natick, will start its eleventh season on June 26, and will remain open eight weeks. The camp accommodates 48 girls at one time totalling a family of 65 with counselors and staff.

Mrs. Henry Skelton, Chairman of the Camp Committee, will spend the summer at camp again this season as business manager and Miss Caroline L. Freeman, Director for Newton, will be the camp director again this year.

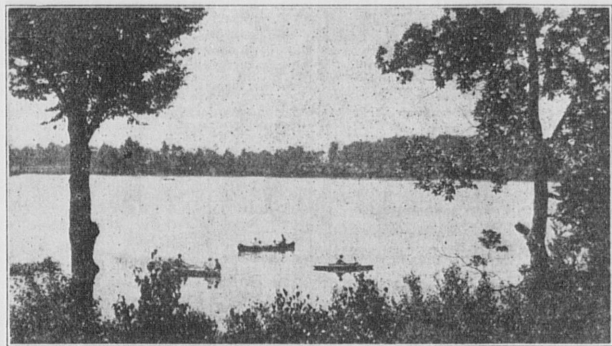

The enrollment is rapidly filling up and although there are still a few places left, it is expected that the camp will be full before the season opens.

The aims of the camp are to offer the opportunities for outdoor living and wholesome recreation to the Girl Scouts of Newton. To interest and give them instruction in various charge of the outdoor tests in the Second Class program.

This season the camp will be divided into three units. Each group of girls will build an outdoor kitchen with fire place, table, wood shelter, and any other gadgets which they wish to develop. Outdoor cooking in these unit kitchens will play a large part in the summer program and special emphasis will be placed on nature projects, swimming and boating. A new line of craft work has been planned and the girls will be able to make all sorts of attractive articles at a low cost. Christmas presents for father, mother, sister and brother have been thought of in planning this work.

The Newton Sea Scouts are putting the boats in order. Their new canoes have been purchased and the "after supper" water program looks attractive.

outdoor activities and to surround the girls with an atmosphere of co-operation, self-reliance, and loyalty. The life at camp also promotes the wholesome development of each girl through the responsibilities which each girl is supposed to share in keeping up the high ideals for which the camp has always stood.

A great deal of thought has been given in choosing the counselors. Among those who will share the responsibility of leadership at Camp Mary Day this season are: Miss Betty Cudworth, Miss Bouve's School 1935, who has been assistant waterfront counselor for two years, will this year have charge of that very important part of the program. Miss Sally Tarbell, graduate of Miss Bouve's School, will direct camp athletics, hikes, etc. Miss Lisbeth Leighton will have charge of the nature program. This year will have the pioneer work this year and will be head counselor in the unit for older girls.

Miss Betty Oakes, Centenary College 1933, will have charge of dramatics, stunts, and special programs. Miss Virginia Laynes, Radcliffe 34, will have charge of the nature program. Miss Ruth Hubbard, Simmons '35, will direct the craft work. Miss Mary Carrick, Middlebury College '34, and Miss Eleanor Brown, Wheaton College '34, will direct the First Class Scout work while Miss Marcia Meyers and Miss Barbara Dales will take Miss Lillian Ferry, graduate of Faulkner Hospital, will be camp nurse and have charge of the health program. Mrs. Lillian Pierce and her assistant, Mrs. Albert Leighton, will have charge of the cooking and judging by the good things she gave the girls last year, meal time will be an event each day.

"Middy" will be waiting impatiently to greet the first arrivals and has already gathered sticks and balls for her after-supper-play. She looks forward to a pleasant summer in spite of the arduous duties that lay before her as camp watchman.

During the last two weeks, many of the villages have had "get-together meetings" to celebrate the last meeting of the troops and give out badges and awards.

First Class Badges have been awarded to the following girls: Marjory Brown, Barbara Phinney, Yvonne Goethel, Marjorie Collins, and Lieut. Wheeler, of Newtonville; Margaret Wilson, Vyriling Rawson, a Newton; Elizabeth Wright and Barbara Wilson, of Newton Centre; Marie Bailey, and Betty Barram, of Waban; Carolyn Hayden, of West Newton; Millson Shedd, Ruth Wildman, Betty Egan, Olive Payne, and Grace Nichols, of Newton Upper Falls; and Louise Coleman and Evelyn Hoffman of Newton Highlands.

Scouts Will Taste Real Camp Life

Will Do Own Cooking, Sleep on Self Made Beds

This year Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts is offering a new plan of summer camping with opportunities for a maximum of fun and training in true Scouting. Instead of the formal type of camp, where Scouts will sleep on camp-type beds, made by themselves, will do their own cooking and will specialize in woodcraft, Scoutcraft and campcraft.

There will be three divisions of the "Pioneer Camp"; one at the Nobscot Reservation; one on the banks of the Sudbury River, above Saxtonville, and one on an island in the Sudbury River. Scouts will be assigned to the camp on the Reservation; they will be promoted to one of the other camps after they have reached a stage of experience necessary.

On the river and island camps, there will be specialized work in life saving and canoeing, with canoeing expeditions, exploring the waterways of that section of the State, going down to the Merrimack, Charles and Concord rivers and camping along the banks each night.

The camp staff will be headed by the Scout Executive, L. A. Bruce, Jr., as Camp Executive, and the Assistant Scout Executive, W. R. Speirs, in charge of activities and program. The balance of the staff will be composed of trained, competent and responsible men and young men who are Scouts or Scouters. Mr. Leslie St. Lawrence, Scoutmaster of Troop B, Waban, will be in charge of the craftwork.

The cost for this camp will be $4.00 per week, including the cost of food; each Scout will bring his own equipment and a tent, if he has one. If 75 percent of a bona fide patrol from a troop of the Council attends the camp at the same time, there will be a discount of 12 1/2 percent.

If a troop attends and provides everything there will be a charge of 50c per Scout per week for general supervision; for a troop or Patrol attending and buying food through the camp commissary, there will be a charge of one dollar per week, for general supervision and services rendered.

This camp will be under the general supervision of the Division of Camps and Camping of Norumbega Council, headed by Mr. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., as Director, with Mr. A. C. Blunt, Jr., Chairman of the Short-Term Camping Committee as treasurer of the Pioneer Camps.

For individual Scouts, the cost including food and everything except personal equipment will be four dollars per week. If 75% of a regular Patrol attend the pioneer camp for one or more periods together, the cost will be $3.50 per Scout per week.

Camp opens at 3 P.M., Sunday, July 2d, and the first period ends Saturday, July 8th at 3:00 P.M. All periods are for one week each, starting at 3 on Sunday and ending at 3 on the following Saturday. For Scouts staying more than one period, there will be a charge of 60 cents per week-end for food for the three extra meals.

Camp Staff

The Camp Executive will be the Scout Executive of Norumbega Council, Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr., who has had twenty years' experience in Scouting. The Director of Activities and Program will be the Assistant Scout Executive, Mr. W. R. Speirs, who has had eighteen years' experience in Scout work. Others on the staff will be Mr. W. Bradford Gove, Scoutmaster of Troop 6, Newtonville, who had training at Ebor Park, Ontario, Canada, under the famous Gilwell plan; Mr. Leslie St. Lawrence, Scoutmaster of Troop B, Waban, who will have charge of craftwork; Mr. J. H. Dodge, Jr., formerly Scoutmaster of Troop 2B, Wellesley, who was on the Camp Barker staff and is now on the faculty of the Albany (N. Y.) Academy; Judson Parker, the Red Cross Life Saver in charge of waterfront work and others with good Scout training and experience.

Full information may be obtained from the Council Headquarters, 259 Walnut street, Newtonville, Mass., telephone Newton North 7410.

PRICES FOR TRAVEL IN AMERICA NEVER SO LOW

A series of personally escorted tours, of three weeks' duration will leave Boston on July 7, 28 and August 18, under the management of Colpitts Tourist Company. The rate covers every expense, that is, all meals for entire trip, hotel accommodations, Pullman, sightseeing and motor travel at all places visited. The parties will visit San Antonio, Old Mexico, Los Angeles, Hollywood, San Francisco, Portland Seattle, Vancouver, Canadian Rockies, Banff, Lake Louise and the World's Fair at Chicago. Mr. Colpitts says that, during his 30 years in business, he has never had the opportunity of offering a tour around America at such a low price. Information and literature may be had at the Company's Office, 262 Washington st., Boston.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

dertake as their work. Excellent speakers, experienced in their lines, presented these topics. In some cases Junior delegates gave actual experiences in endeavor.

At one o'clock, a Luncheon-Conference was held, and the speaker was no less a personage than Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, a past president of the General Federation.

Throughout, business was relieved by splendid singers, who gave enjoyable groups of songs.

Facts concerning the Junior movement of the General Federation worth knowing may well be presented here. Pennsylvania, which cradled the birth of our nation in 1776, also inaugurated the Junior movement in the General Federation. It was their delegation which in 1922 at the Biennial in Chautauque, New York, suggested that Juniors be adopted by and made a part of the national organization. The parent body formally recognized its child, and Miss Florence Dibert, then president of the Pennsylvania Federation, was made national chairman of Juniors. Recognition of Junior activities as a committee in this State Federation had been inaugurated four years earlier, namely, in 1918; and the first Junior section of a Woman's Club had been organized five years before this, in 1913, by a Woman's Club of the Quaker State. Pennsylvania Juniors support financially two State projects, the Braille Fund and Girl Scouts. Girls in Scout Troops make excellent Juniors because of their valuable experience as trained executives or leaders. The Braille Fund has grown miraculously. In 1929, $775 was subscribed for the "First and Second Books of Modern Verse." In 1930, $500 was given for the "Black Camel" and "Appreciation of Poetry." These books were printed in Braille and distributed to the sixteen libraries in the United States and Canada handling Braille. In 1931 the American Foundation for the Blind suggested that the Juniors of Pennsylvania help financially in the publication of a quarterly magazine in Braille, "The Outlook for the Blind"; to this was subscribed $1000. In 1932 the Juniors repeated the gift of $1000 to the Foundation and established, as well, a Fellowship in the Seeing Eye of $375. The Juniors' Seeing Eye was given to a young man blinded in an explosion who was taken from the ranks of the unemployed and made able to support his family.

Which gives a background to the Junior movement which may indicate why they are accomplishing so much in so many interesting fields. A brief summary lists these: They raise money to buy supplies for various Children's Homes, Homes for the Aged and for the Unfortunate, in many states. They adopt needy families to furnish them with food and clothing. They adopt children similarly. They dress reconditioned dolls, and give toys at Christmas to children. They have established in many states day nurseries, Scholarship Loan Funds, Community Chests, soup kitchens. They make layettes for hospitals; dressings for Nursing associations. They supply milk and hot lunches for undernourished school children. They have planted trees along public highways. They have established story Telling Hours for children. One state—Kentucky—boasts of a Junior Club that managed and conducted, unassisted, a Red Cross Membership Drive, that netted the Red Cross over $1000. They have, also, in communities where they have no separate Junior Clubs but are a branch of the women's club, assisted materially in paying for Club Houses, financing philanthropies, and raising scholarships.

It is apparent that the Juniors are adding materially to the activities of club life toward achievement and happiness of the individual, as well as of the community.

A statement made by Col. Howe, in delivering the message of the President, as given somewhat fully last week, should be gratifying to the club women of the nation, and that his opinion of women will be justified, even strengthened, by the sincere devotion of senior and junior members to their cause, should be indicated by the reports of their accomplishments and aims. Said President Roosevelt's secretary: "Other presidents have given lip service to the efforts of women in politics. Under the Harding administration Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt was appointed assistant Attorney-General, a position she held for eight years. Mr. Roosevelt, however, is the first President to give women substantial recognition. The new President does not talk merely to ingratiate himself momentarily with the women. He really believes that women have a definite place in politics and give a higher tone to the political world."

Mrs. Poole's stirring address, broadcast by radio, entitled "The Extravagance of Thrift," is a call to arms of all loyal womanhood that replies in terms of readiness to the President's belief in them. No more fitting close may be made to this summary of events of the Biennial Council meeting than to quote from her words. Her appeal for the right kind of thrift, coupled with a rapid-fire statement of the aims of the Federation, caused not only those club women who were so fortunate as to be at Richmond, but all clubwomen "listening in" to thrill to the call to arms of their national leader—"Massachusetts' favorite daughter." She urged adequate support for schools and government agencies, stating that saving may in the long run prove too costly.

"A great enemy threatens the future of our land," declared Mrs. Poole. "The enemy of indifference and selfish shortsightedness. I call upon the clubwomen of our beloved land to rouse themselves and save the tomorrow of civilization."

Paul A. Hoyte With Dimock and Turner Co.

Because of the many requests for electrical work, Dimock & Turner, Inc. have decided to extend their field of work to electrical contracting.

Paul A. Hoyte, for five years superintendent of the Watertown Electric Co., has been engaged by the concern which up till now has specialized in radio. Mr. Hoyte has a wide experience in various forms of electrical contracting.

The company has enjoyed a steady growth since the partnership of Dimock and Turner was formed. Both are well-known in Newton and in a short period they were forced to enlarge their business to cope with conditions. In taking over the large store now located at Sumner Street and Langley Road, they incorporated and added a complete line of General Electric Household Appliances.

Mr. Hoyte is prominent among the builders of Newton with whom he has had cordial business relations. He will also specialize in repairs and motor work for Dimock & Turner, Inc.

MASONIC PUBLIC INSTALLATION

The Annual Public Installation of Officers of Norumbega Lodge, A. F. & A. M., was held in the Masonic Temple in Newtonville last evening. The officers who installed were the Right Worshipful Fred M. Loud; Tyler, Winthrop Sargent; electrician, Burton Moore.

After the installation ceremony there was a reception and dance. There was a large audience in attendance, including many distinguished guests in Masonic circles.

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE

At the Bowdoin Sq. Theatre, beginning Sunday the management offers a gigantic and entertaining picture and vaudeville show that is of the superior type. This particular show is suitable for all members of the family and the surroundings are cool and comfortable. "Hell Below" will be seen with a cast that includes Robert Montgomery, Walter Huston, Madge Evans and Jimmy Durante. The story deals with submarine warfare. The picture is one to arouse the real spirit of patriotic pride.

GOES WITH STETSON FUEL CORPORATION

Edgar A. Butters of Needham has become associated with the Stetson Fuel Corporation, distributors of the Heil Combustion Oil Burner, and especially refined fuel oils.

Mr. Butters for several years has been connected with the William Carter Company of Needham Heights. Mr. Butters states that because of his fuel oils being especially refined, he can show consumers a saving in their fuel bills. He also states that it does not apply necessarily to the Heil Burner, but that every reliable gun type burner is able to handle this oil with the corresponding percentage of saving. He is spending a considerable amount of his time working with owners of Hot Air furnaces, as he claims the Heil Combustion Burner is especially adapted to this kind of heating.

Mayor Orders Lighting of Boylston Street

Action Finally Taken After Prolonged Discussion

Action has been finally taken to have street lights placed along Boylston st. from the Charles River bridge at Upper Falls to the Brookline line. This old thoroughfare has for the past couple of years been evolving into the new super-automobile highway and will again be the Worcester turnpike. And, for the past couple of years residents on this street and side streets off it have been groping nightly in the dark over trenches and piles of dirt, not to mention pipes and other obstacles. The street has not been lighted.

Alderman Temperley several times pleaded for relief for his constituents in Ward 5, but without result. He is a persistent fighter, but not pugnacious enough. At the second meeting of the Aldermen he made another appeal, and he was joined by Alderman Gallagher of Ward 1. This new Anglo-Celtic alliance produced results rapidly. On last Friday Mayor Weeks announced that he had authorized the Street Department to install the Edison Company to install 167 lights of 600 candlepower each along the new turnpike. The lights will alternate on either side of the big highway at intervals of about 137 feet. The Edison Company will provide the lights and charge the city $58.50 yearly for each; this will total about $10,000 yearly to Newton for lighting Boylston st.

Two Alarm Fire in Lumber District

A two alarm fire caused damage estimated at $10,000 in one of Newton's fire danger spots early Tuesday morning. At 1:50 a passing autoist discovered a blaze in a frame building at 34 Crafts st., Newtonville, occupied by the Strangman Manufacturing Company, a wood working concern making builders' finish. When the firemen arrived in response to an alarm from Box 242, the blaze had made considerable headway and dense smoke impeded the efforts of the fire department. At 2:01 a second alarm was ordered and this also brought Engine 1 of the Waltham Fire Department. The fire spread to an adjoining building used by the Strangman Company, and threatened the Curtis Lumber Yard on the opposite side of Crafts st., as well as nearby houses. The fire was under control in less than an hour, but it was nearly 7 o'clock before the firemen had completely extinguished all the flames. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin and the State Fire Marshal has been asked to conduct an investigation.

Bonfire Costs Centre Man $753

In the Newton court on Saturday morning Judge Weston awarded Mrs. Maud Jennings of 71 Hancock ave., Newton Centre, $753.50 for damages to shrubbery, trees and plants at her yard caused by a fire which spread from the yard of Thaxter Williams, 68 Park lane, Newton Centre. Mrs. Jennings testified that on April 4, 1932 the fire which destroyed her property started in an incinerator in Williams yard, burned through the grass over the Cochituate aqueduct reservation, which separates the two properties, and reached her yard, George Lovegren, government weather observer, testified that there was a strong wind on that day. Williams testified that he was burning grass and leaves in the incinerator, and left the yard for a few minutes. He testified that when he returned the fire had spread only a few feet from the incinerator.

Community Chest Makes Report on Boy, Girl Scouts

All Have Worth While Programs

The second of the series of monthly bulletins issued by the Newton Community Chest, which was recently distributed, reviews briefly the work of the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, The Young Men's Christian Association, and the Stearns School Centre, during the current year.

The Chest calls particular attention to the fact that while each of these organizations has been obliged to carry on its activities on a reduced budget, the amount of service rendered has been increased in relation to the amount of money spent. In view of the fact that the unemployment emergency has necessitated the allocation of more than 75 per cent of the Chest's funds to its members relief agencies, leaving only 25 per cent to carry on the work of the organizations mentioned above and the other organizations usually classified as character-building agencies, it is felt that the results obtained during this year reflect an exceptionally able administration of the money available.

Girl Scouts
Typical is the report of the Newton Council of Girl Scouts, whose enrollment this year numbers 825 girls in 27 troops, covering nine villages in the city. This is in addition to 175 girls aged 7 to 10 who are members of the eight Brownie Packs for younger girls. During the year, the Council has added one new Girl Scout Troop and three new Brownie Packs. Some 800 merit badges have been earned by Girl Scouts this year, and nine Golden Eaglets, the highest award in Girl Scouting, have been given. This is the largest number the Newton Council has ever presented in one year. The percentage of First-Class Girl Scouts has also increased.

Girl Scouts have made 500 garments for welfare agencies, collected and refitted 100 bags and instrument cases for the District Nurses, made up more than 100 Christmas bags for the Red Cross, collected 500 pieces of clothing for the Mayor's Relief Committee, filled and delivered Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets and performed numerous other services for the benefit of the Community.

Y. M. C. A.
The report of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association concerning its work during the current year is in line with that of the other member agencies of the Community Chest, in that it shows no letup in activities despite the depression and a reduced budget, according to the Chest's June bulletin, just released. Some 1500 men and boys are members of the Association at the present time, and an additional 500 have been making use of the facilities of the physical department of the Association during the year. This is in accordance with the Association's policy of working in cooperation with the other organizations of boys throughout the city.

A successful Sunday School basketball league was conducted, bowling tournament, tennis and baseball, squash, track, volleyball and wrestling teams formed. Both organized and unorganized exercises and recreation were offered for business men.

"A home away from home" was found by 43 men during the year on the Association's dormitory. For young men unemployed or hard pressed for funds, the Association found work, extended credit, and provided a place to stay. More than 100 members of the H-Y Clubs, standing for clean living, clean sports, clean speech and clean scholarship, met weekly.

Nearly 350 boys participated in the annual Free Swimming Campaign and 185 learned to swim.

Boy Scouts
A tremendous jump in camping was the outstanding feature of the recent report made to the Chest by the Newton Council of Boy Scouts of America. During the first four months of 1933 there was a 150 per cent increase in the number of Scout-nights spent at Nobscoot Reservation, in comparison with the number registered during the same period a year ago. In addition, two Scout troops have been reorganized during the past year, and one new troop has been formed. During the last 6 years, the Norumbega Council has not lost a single troop, a record which, it is believed, has been equaled by only a few other Councils throughout the country.

All told, 843 boys are now registered in Scouting, Sea Scouting, and Cubbing. Cubbing, for younger boys, has already made great progress and is still moving forward rapidly.

All but one of the fifteen member agencies of the Newton Community Chest have already formally notified the Chest of their decision to continue their membership next year. It is expected that this one agency yet to be heard from will again join.

Eleven More Take Pasteur Treatment

Eleven more residents of this city, all members of the Holmes Park Prospect st., West Newton, applied to the Newton Board of Health during the past week for Pasteur treatment. A dog owned by this family had died of rabies. Forty-three persons in this city have since taken the treatment since the outbreak of rabies among Newton dogs about a month ago. Fifteen Newton dogs have died of the disease. Of the estimated 3500 dogs in the city, 2000 were brought to Newtonville to be immunized by Dr. Boutelle and his assistants. Prior to the outbreak of rabies and the resultant 30 days quarantine on dogs in Newton, about 2000 canines had been licensed. During the past 30 days about 1000 more dogs have been licensed.

One of the victims of a bite from a rabies afflicted dog was Joseph Sillaber of Roxbury, who was attacked by the dog on Sunday while at work on the Archer estate at Dedham st., Oak Hill. Sillaber captured the dog and turned it over to the Animal Rescue League.

Broken Water Meter Causes Damage

Arthur Higgins of 115 Waban Park, Newton has filed a claim against the City of Newton for damages amounting to $42.50. He states that a water meter burst in the cellar at his home and damaged the oil burner in a heater there. Other claims against the city are from the U-Drive Rental Company, for damages to one of its cars by a city owned truck; and from Saddle Mountain of Williams st., Upper Falls for medical expenses incurred in the treatment of her brother, Richard, who was injured at the Weeks School.

Pres. Roosevelt Passes Through Newton Saturday

Many Catch Fleeting Glimpse of Chief Executive

President Roosevelt journeyed rapidly through this city Saturday afternoon en route from Groton to Marion. He followed Route 123 from the Walnut line, via Crafts, Walnut and Needham sts. to the Needham line. Thousands of Newton citizens caught a fleeting glimpse of the President as he was whizzed through the city in a closed automobile escorted by a detail of State Police. The President appeared to be in excellent physical condition for one who has been through the terrific strain which he has faced since assuming office on March 4. He gave friendly salutes as he rode by the people who lined the streets. According to the schedule printed in the newspapers, it was expected that the President would reach Newtonville about 2:45, but it was 30 minutes later when he arrived.

Annual Outing Of Employees At City Hall

Seventy Journey to Stow Golf Club

The annual outing of the City Hall Associates, comprised of employees at the Newton City Hall, was held on Tuesday afternoon, June 20 at the Stow Golf Club. About 70 were in the party which left City Hall about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and proceeded in a fleet of cars to Stow. Paul Mullen was in charge of transportation. Arriving at Stow, a program of sports was enjoyed under the direction of City Clerk Grant. He was assisted by Mrs. Hovgaard and Misses Schwartz and Howard of the Playground Department. The horse-shoe throwing contest was won by Clarence Hosmer, with Alderman John Temperley, second.

Dinner was served at 6:30 and Charles Mahoney, president of the Associates, was toastmaster. Among those who spoke were Mayor Weeks, his secretary, James Dempsey; and Aldermen Gordon, Holden and Temperley. Department heads present included City Treasurer Newhall, City Engineer Morse, Building Commissioner Hageman, City Clerk Grant. An entertainment followed, which included piano solos by Edward Hanlon, and a pianologue by Miss Katherine Kimball, assisted by Charles Mahoney. For the remainder of the evening dancing was enjoyed.

Watertown Police Arrest Two In Finelli Assault

Clever and persistent work on the part of Lieut. Reilly and other members of the Watertown police resulted in the capture on Monday of the alleged assailant of John Finelli, Nonantum lawyer. Raymond Cornell, 26, of 11 Beacon ave., Providence, was arrested in that city. He was arraigned in the Waltham court Tuesday morning and held in $20,000 bail for a hearing on June 27.

On the evening of June 12 Finelli was lured to the house at 145 Watertown st., Watertown, near the Nonantum line. Finelli had been engaged in litigation involving this house. After he arrived there he was brutally attacked by two men, and nearly murdered. He is still in the Newton Hospital recovering from serious injuries. According to the charge of the Watertown police, Cornell was the "strong arm" thus engaged to attack Finelli. They believe they have enough evidence against Cornell to convict him. Pasquale Cedrone, 44, of 50 Winchester rd., Newton, a contractor and builder, was arrested at his home last night by Watertown police. He is charged with being an accessory before the fact in connection with the assault on Finelli. Cedrone had owned a house at 145 Watertown st., Watertown, and he became involved in bankruptcy proceedings which caused a foreclosure sale of the house. Finelli represented some of Cedrone's creditors and had charge of the sale of the house.

About Town

Residents of Nonantum square have asked us to comment on the practice of operators on Boston Elevated cars, which have that square as the end of their route during early morning hours, of hanging the seats in the cars as they turn them over, causing persons residing nearby to be awakened. It is also suggested that these cars wait between trips at the wide part of the square, next to the traffic island, instead of at the narrowest part of the street.

Perhaps some of Al's friends won't think Harvard is so "stuck up" from now on. Dr. Smith may not know Greek, but he is a great philosopher, notwithstanding. Harvard and Mr. Smith have given a fine illustration of real democratic spirit. Would that it could sink in to the skulls of the 22 calibre social climbers who display their inferiority complex by snobishness towards persons from humble walks in life.

Protest Against Gravel Pit at Lower Falls

Alderman Cutler Says Agreement Has Not Been Kept

A number of protests were made at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night against the petition of the Woodland Sand & Gravel Company (by Cataldo Marchionni) for another extension of its permit to operate machinery and equipment at the gravel pit on Washington st., Newton Lower Falls, opposite Beacon st., George B. Cutler of 2075 Beacon st., was the first speaker to oppose the petition. Mr. Cutler read a copy of the permit granted a year ago for extended operation of this pit. He asserted that neither the owners of the pit nor the city officials had complied with or enforced the conditions specified in this permit.

Mr. Cutler said that excavations made at the pit the past year have been to a lower grade than specified in the permit, and that the City Engineer has not checked upon the excavating. He read that section of the permit granted last year which specified that the deep excavation at the gravel pit, which has been dug out for several years, should be filled in to a width of 10 feet parallel with Beacon st. extension for a distance of 270 feet from Washington st., and that the owners of the pit should start to make this fill within 180 days from July 27, 1932, or the permit was to have been revoked. The City Engineer was to have seen that this condition was fulfilled. Mr. Cutler said that this condition has been ignored; only a fill 2 feet in width has been made, instead of a 10-foot width; the fill has not gone in 270 feet, and the owners of the pit did not start to make this fill until last week. Mr. Cutler also called attention to the fact that the row of trees which were to have been planted between Washington st. and the pit, as announced by a Ward 4 Alderman last year, have not been planted. These were to act as a screen against the sand blowing into nearby houses.

George Dennis of 2122 Washington st., Lower Falls, protested against the machinery at the gravel pit being started as early as 6 o'clock on some mornings, and preventing further sleep by persons residing in the neighborhood. Waldo G. Leland of 3072 Washington st., Lower Falls, said that his family has resided at this location for over 50 years. Mr. Leland commented that when he was a boy Newton was known as the "Garden City," but now it is in danger of being known as city of eyesores. He said that visitors coming into Newton by way of Washington st. see this enormous gravel pit, which has become a ghastly thing. He said that the big gravel pit at Riverside ruined a large area 50 years ago, and this area has never been developed for residential purposes, and probably never will be. He commented that the big pit of the Woodland Sand & Gravel Company is having the same result.

He said that where the pit is now, was formerly a beautiful spot, surrounded by a fine growth of trees. He argued that the pit has destroyed values of nearby properties and that stagnant water which has gathered in it is a menace to health. He objected to further use of the pit. City Clerk Grant read letters of protest against extending the permit from the Newton Savings Bank, which owns a house near the pit; and from former Alderman F. W. Webster.

$23,000 More For Welfare Relief

An appropriation of $23,000 was made at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night to care for sick poor of Newton, other than those at the City Home. This includes the care of citizens of Newton who are being cared for in institutions outside the city and it is expected to finance this expense until December 31. Another appropriation of $10,000 was made to provide relief for persons in need who are not being aided through the projects on which unemployed men are working. It is believed that the city will have to spend at least another $100,000 to aid the poor before the end of this year. The Aldermen also appropriated $3500 to afford relief to men engaged in improving Edmonds Park and the new Cold Spring play ground. This will suffice until July 1. Other appropriations were—$1000 for water main on Rosalie rd.; and $1185 for traffic signals at Woodward and Hartford streets, on the new Worcester turnpike. These signals are to stop traffic when the fire trucks at the Newton Highlands station respond to alarms. Alderman Cronin argued that the State should pay for these signals, but he was informed that the Commonwealth had refused to do so when asked by city officials. The State is bearing the expense of the regular traffic signals, but the signals in question are extra, and will be for the special protection of Newton firemen and apparatus.

Aldermen Refuse Express Licenses

Fourteen applications for express licenses were turned down by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night on recommendation of the Licenses Committee. The Aldermen believed that many of the applicants expected to do business transporting beer.

Needham Lauds State Police at C. of C. Meeting

James P. Gallagher Re-Elected Pres. at Annual Meeting

That the State Police are one of the most efficient forces of its kind is the opinion of Brig. Gen. Daniel H. Needham of Newton, which he stated before members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday night at the Brae Burn Club at the annual meeting and banquet of that organization. Gen. Needham, who was appointed State Commissioner of Public Safety by Governor Ely last March, was the chief speaker of the evening. He told of his experiences since accepting that position and lauded the detectives and police for their work in the McMath kidnapping case. Other speakers were Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Charles F. Sheldon.

After a brief business meeting following the banquet Atty. James P. Gallagher was re-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce after the report of the Nominating Committee was presented by Dr. Charles D. Ansley, chairman. Other officers elected were G. Wilbur Thompson, first vice-president, and chairman of the Civic Division; George J. Martin, second vice-president, and chairman of the Industrial Division; Fred D. Bond, third vice-president, and chairman of the Mercantile Division; George A. Haynes, fourth vice-president, and chairman of the Building and Development Division; Harold F. Young, treasurer; and the following directors—Frank L. Richardson, James W. Gibson, Dr. Henry Watters, Richard L. Dwyer, William H. Rice, Edwin O. Childs, Frederick J. Driscoll, Andrew J. Ford, Joseph B. Davis, Herbert N. McGill and William G. Starkweather. The nominating committee in addition to Chairman Ansley comprised Malcolm P. McKinnon, Bernard W. Riley, Wesley J. Furbush and Ernest F. Dow.

Charles F. Sheldon, manager of the Merchants' Credit Bureau of Boston, with which the Newton Chamber of Commerce is affiliated, told of what the merchants of Boston have done and are doing in the matter of their credit accounts. He explained in detail how in various ways the merchants were trying to help the people out of the difficulties of the present times by pooling accounts and other methods.

Speaker Saltonstall told of the tendencies in government today and of the need for more uniformity and centralization of powers. This is one of the aftermaths of the depression and is the only way to work out the solution of economic problems.

The "New Deal" he characterized as a "new epoch" of civilization and economic conditions. Many of the things which are being tried today will become permanent. The amazing debts being piled up in order to help business recover can never be repaid in our lifetime at least.

Speaker Saltonstall went on to tell of State legislative work and of the unprecedented problems such as the petition to remove Judge Stone, the unseating of a Fitchburg representative in the early days of the session, and the banking holiday which have been faced. He spoke of the major problems yet to be faced of which the most important relate to the Home Loan Banking bill and the money to be granted the State by the Federal government. He referred to the need of providing revenues to meet the obligations which the state will incur in borrowing money and to the fact that Massachusetts will pay considerably more to the Federal government than they will ever receive. This latter fact is due to the fact that Massachusetts citizens pay eight per cent of Federal receipts where other less populated states pay much less and will receive more in proportion from the Federal grants than will Massachusetts.

He further expressed the belief that the state should proceed care in the construction of public buildings and other projects which will increase the expense of maintenance. In the future this maintenance expense must become a part of the current expenditures and increase in such directions must be carefully watched.

Cars Crash at Auburndale

Two cars driven by women collided at Auburndale on Tuesday, at Woodland rd., near Maple st. One was driven by Gertrude Farley of 20 Visla ave., Auburndale; the other by Barbara Ordway of 21 Fern st., Auburndale. Miss Ordway reported that she had received an injury to her neck. It was also reported that Barbara Southgate, 16, of 79 Hawthorne ave., and Elizabeth Farley, 11, had received injuries in the collision.

Pres. Collins of Aldermen Extends Olive Branch

Mollifies Criticism Against The Newton School Committee

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, President Collins, of the Board, left the rostrum and took the floor to speak in a conciliatory manner towards the Newton School Committee. He said that he had talked with members of the School Committee regarding criticisms made at the previous meeting of the Board of Aldermen, and the School Committee members felt that they had been done an injustice. The impression had gone abroad that the Aldermen and School Committee are not in harmony.

Mr. Collins said that such is not a fact. Relations between the two bodies have been harmonious. At the beginning of the year, the Aldermen praised the School Committee for co-operating in reducing the annual budget. He stated that members of the School Committee had informed him that instead of discriminating against young men and women of this city in making appointments to the teaching force in local schools, that other things being equal, Newton residents are given preference. Mr. Collins informed his fellow-members that the School Committee states that Newton young men and women without previous teaching experience have been appointed as building assistants in Newton schools, and later promoted to regular teaching assignments, and that Newton has been doing as much as any other city in this respect.

Alderman Holden, who started the criticism of the Newton School Department at the meeting on June 5, because of the alleged failure to give Newton young men and women appointments at least equal to those in Newton schools, read an article recently printed in a local paper. This article contained statements quoted as coming from Chairman Tracy of the School Committee in which Mr. Tracy said that he didn't believe the Aldermen were serious when they criticized the School Committee. Mr. Holden said he was very serious. He read a quotation attributed to Mr. Tracy which said—"Our responsibility (the School Committee's) is to secure the highest type of teachers. If Newton residents meet the requirements they are given preference." Mr. Holden commented that he was glad to read such a statement, and he said that he knows of four young persons in Newton, who have endeavored to obtain teaching positions in our schools, who will also be interested in this statement.

Contract To Cover Laundry Brook Awarded

The contract to build a concrete conduit along Laundry Brook at Jackson rd., Newton, has been awarded to Richard White & Sons of West Newton, whose bid, $28,500, was the lowest. The other bidders, all of this city, were James Chesarene, $28,300; John McDonald Company, $28,355.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted, on recommendation from Mayor Weeks to appropriate $27,325 for this work; the extra amount being to cover incidental expenses. It was stated by Alderman Gordon, speaking as chairman of the Finance Committee, that this job would be done by manual labor, as far as possible; the only machine to be used will be a cement mixer. The men to be employed will be taken from those on the Welfare Department list. The conduit will be 1132 feet long, 12 feet wide and 5 1/2 feet high. With its completion, Laundry Brook will be covered from Bulough's Pond to the Watertown line except for a couple of short stretches near Dexter avenue and Clyde street, at Newtonville.

GOODYEAR DEALER GIVES TIP ABOUT MILEAGE INSURANCE

"To get the greatest possible mileage built into a tire, a new tube is necessary," declares Phil Bram of 252 Walnut ave., Newtonville, local Goodyear dealer. "An old tube, even without patches on it, loses air faster than a new one. This causes underinflation and reduces tire mileage."

"Any tube is certain to stretch with constant use, and when it is crowded into a new tire it will buckle," Mr. Bram continued. "Buckling results in pinching and chafing, followed by a leak, puncture or blow-out—all of which means a perfectly good tire is started on its way to ruin."

"By placing a new tube in the new tire, the motorist is guarding against worries of this sort, and has a feeling of safety. In addition, with the small investment in a new tube he is protecting his larger investment in a new tire, and is assuring himself of receiving the mileage he has every right to expect from the new tire."

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

STEARNS SCHOOL BASEBALL TEAM IS UNDEFEATED

Unusual interest in baseball at the Stearns School this spring has been evidenced by the fact that in addition to the regular "League" team a "Senior" team composed of boys who were over the regulation age has played a number of games with outside teams. Several "room" teams have played games all of which have helped to develop many younger players.

The League team met and defeated each of the seven other grammar school teams in the city to win the city championship. Winning from the Angier School by the close score of 7-6 gave the players confidence to meet and conquer the strong and aggressive Pierce School by the score of 9-4.

Worthy of special mention was the catching and all around backstopping of Jerry Lombardi, Captain of the Stearns team. This boy is a natural baseball player of remarkable ability for his years. While the pitchers gave a good account of themselves it was Lombardi's strength in batting that carried Stearns through the schedule without the loss of a single game. The scores were as follows:

Stearns 13, Bigelow 1.
Stearns 6, Mason 3.
Stearns 21, Emerson 0.
Stearns 7, Angier 6.
Stearns 9, Pierce 4.
Stearns 18, Burr 4.
Stearns 13, Horace Mann 7.

The general management of the team was under the direction of Mr. K. Winslow, Principal of the Stearns School. Mrs. A. Hovgaard, and "Gyp" Lawless of the Playground Dept. assisted in the coaching. Members of the League team were the following: J. Lombardi, N. Coletti, E. Coletti, B. Gentile, N. DeStafano, R. Marzilli, N. Bontempo, R. Antonelli, A. Flanagan, R. Duprez, C. Dangelo, T. Lucenta, A. Sbardone and J. Salvucci.

LOCAL COMPANY WINS MASSACHUSETTS SAFETY COUNCIL AWARD

Truck fleets of eleven Massachusetts concerns and the fleet of the town of Norwood, winners in a State-wide safety competition conducted by the Governor's Committee on Street and Highway Safety during 1932 were commended on Thursday of last week by Governor Ely and presented bronze plaques in recognition of their outstanding records.

The trophies were awarded to the winning fleets in each of twelve competitive groups. There were approximately 400 fleets in competition involving more than 13,000 drivers. Eight of the eleven fleet winners operated during 1932 without an accident, while the other three made the best record in their respective groups.

Representatives of the winners were presented to the governor by Charles E. Pettibone, vice chairman of the safety committee. He told the chief executive that the twelve winners operated motor trucks a distance of approximately 10,500,000 miles last year with only sixty-two accidents. Thirty-four of the accidents involved personal injuries and twenty-eight property damage.

It will be noted with interest that the C. F. Eddy Company, coal dealers in Newton won the award in Group 2-A with a record of no accidents. The trophy was received by Clifford R. Eddy, treasurer of the company.

The C. F. Eddy Company is one of our old established firms, having been here in business since 1870. Most of their drivers have been with them a great many years, and enjoy the reputation of being both careful and courteous.

REAL ESTATE BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange last week Thomas H. Burns treasurer of John T. Burns and Sons was elected chairman, Mahlon W. Hill vice chairman and Kenneth B. Hastings of Edmunds and Byfield was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Burns, newly elected chairman states "that there is a general feeling of optimism among the Newton Board members and many sales are being consummated. Prospective buyers realize that prices on homes are at the lowest level ever and with advance of building materials and scarcity of desirable building lots the buyers are able to do far better now than in the near future."

Sports Briefs

Malcolm Hill is the new State tennis champion as the result of last week's tournament at the Longwood courts. Hill, a Waban man, never played better tennis in his career to capture the honors from G. Holmes Perkins, former champion. The new champion's career, as many remember, began some years ago when as a junior player he teamed with his cousin, Henry J. Johnson, Jr., also of Waban, and held junior championships in doubles. Hill went to Harvard and Johnson to Dartmouth where both figured prominently for their respective alma maters. Hill captained the Harvard team and then went on to success in various tournaments around New England. For a few years Hill has been in the background as an outstanding tennis player but last week he regained his place in clear-cut fashion. Hill was seeded sixth in the singles tourney, sweeping through all opposition. He won seven matches without losing a set, reaching the semi-final round where he met George Keefe, Jr. in straight sets to enter the finals against Perkins who had eliminated Alfred Turner, brother of Bob, in a long, hard-fought battle. Monday afternoon Hill and Perkins met and Hill was returned the victor by scores of 6-4, 6-3, 6-1. The first set was even, but after a short game, Hill finally broke through his opponent's service in the tenth game to take the set. In the second set Hill found a weakness in the backhand play of Perkins and capitalized upon it to sweep through to the title.

Hill and Sam Fitch captured the State doubles tourney by winning from the Turner brothers after the latter had eliminated Perkins and Jansen in a semi-final round affair. Yale conquered Harvard on the diamond in two straight games this week winning the first at New Haven on Tuesday by a 5 to 3 score and the second at Cambridge on Wednesday, 4 to 2.

Frank Gleason, local youth and Harvard first baseman, threw a scare into Yale in the first game in the second inning by slashing out a triple. He was held on third, however, as Harvard filled the bases with none out and the Blue looked to be in a deep hole. A strikeout and a line to the first baseman, on which a runner was doubled up broke up Harvard's threat promptly. In the sixth inning Allie Fletcher, local youth and star Yale hockey player and second baseman, started the Blue off on the road to clinching the first game. His single scored a teammate and he later scored himself for two runs in a three-run rally that put Yale in front by a 5 to 1 margin.

He two runs proved to be the winning counters as Harvard scored a pair of tallies in the first before being halted at Soldiers' field on Wednesday both Gleason and Fletcher figured prominently for their respective teams in the second game. Fletcher drew a walk and moved to second when the next batter was also passed. Fletcher counted with Yale's first tally on a single. In the fourth Yale scored three runs, two as the result of a home run with a man on base, to make the count 4 to 0 which it remained until the last of the ninth. Harvard staked an uprising which brought in two runs and the two runs needed to tie were on the bases with none out but Yale tightened and the Crimson threat was turned back. In that ninth inning Nevin's triple with a man on base in the first run and Gleason hit one back at the pitcher for an infield hit with Nevin holding third. A single brought Nevin home and a sacrifice put the runners on second and third with but one out. Parker, who had relieved Rogers in the Yale box after the single which scored Nevin, bore down to fan Woodruff and Murrel, and out to the third baseman to end the game.

The annual game between the All-Suburban league and the All-Boston schoolboy teams was played Monday night at Dorchester with the Suburbans on the short end of an 8 to 1 count. Warren Huston, Newton captain and shortstop, and Charlie Flagg, Newton second baseman, played for the Suburbans. Huston tallied the only run for the losing team in the second inning for the first run of the game. He drew a pass, stole second, went to third on the overthrow to second, and scored on a fly to the outfield. Huston got one hit, a single, in two times at bat. Flagg got one hit, a triple, in three times up, but his blow was wasted as his mates could not bring him in. The Suburbans were handicapped by the absence of their selected pitcher, Hy Rogers of Cambridge Latin, due to an injury and before the game was over Huston took over the mound duties and performed creditably. A four-run rally in the sixth gave the Boston team a 7 to 1 lead and for the last two innings Huston was found for one run. Lawrence Abrams of Newton Centre was among the Excelsior enemy players who received baseball insignia this week. Dartmouth gave out athletic awards this week also with Bob Bennett of Newtonville being the only local youth on the baseball nine to receive insignia.

Irghia Rice, playing in the English tennis tourneys at London, has won her first three matches. She will be entered in the Wimbledon tournaments next week.

EMPLOYEES OF BRAE BURN BADLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Gerald Rogers and Dennis Sullivan, employed at the Brae Burn Club, West Newton, were seriously injured early last Friday morning at Cutter's Corner, Weston, when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a stone wall and then hit a tree. Rogers' skull was punctured and Sullivan's skull was fractured and a probable fracture of the skull. They were rushed to the Newton Hospital where Rogers' name was placed on the danger list.

Y. M. C. A.

Annual Two-State Track Meet To Be Held in Newton

The Y. M. C. A. Annual Two-State Track Meet will be held this Saturday afternoon at the Newton High School Track. The Y. M. C. A.'s of Massachusetts and Rhode Island are eligible to compete in this meet. Clarence V. Moore of the local Association, chairman of the "Y" State Track Committee, and a former track star will direct the meet. Some of the Associations besides Newton which will be represented by strong teams are Boston, Lynn, Lawrence, Brockton, Melrose and Providence. Two of Newton's representatives who are looked to place are John Morris entered in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Art Linthwaite in the 880 Yard Run. Others entered by Coach Henry Pierce are: 100 and 220 yd. dashes—A. F. Hanson and Jim Collins, 440 Yd. Dash—Jarvis Farley, Hugh Manning and Ralph Robbins; 880 Yd. Run—Bill Young and Dr. L. B. Perlmutter; Mile—Albert Hickin, Warren Lewis Jr. and Bill Young; 5 Mile Run—Art Jacobs, Harold Biglow and Cliff Boudrot; Running High Jump—Art Linthwaite and John Boermeester; Running Broad Jump—Charles Hammond, William Donnelly and Jarvis Farley; Shot Put (12 lbs.) Paul Carroll and Art Kohler. Any of these men may be entered in the Relay Race.

Fifth Annual Singles and Doubles Tennis Tournaments

Entries are being received at the Y. M. C. A. for the Fifth Annual Singles and Doubles Tennis Tournaments for "Y" members. J. Sherman Irving is heading up a committee to run this event. Others on the committee are Ken Gerritsen and Jim Carr. The doubles teams are to be arranged by the committee. Entries close Friday, June 23rd.

Baseball

The Newton Y. M. C. A. Jr. Baseball team defeated the Westford A. C. of Allston in an inter-suburban Jr. League game at the Y. M. C. A. field Monday evening 4-1. Jim Bagley pitched a 2 hit game for the "Y" Jrs. with Seymour McLean receiving. The "Y" boys played errorless ball and hit the ball only 5 times as compared to 2 for the opponents.

Nathan Dolbier with 2 hits featured for the "Y" with Jim Doherty, John Frazier and Jim Bagley getting one hit each. Tony Mantenuito, Tom Bagley, John Larkins, John MacInnis, John Trumble and Edward Laflie capably supported the fine pitching of Jim Bagley.

The "Y" Juniors have won 2 and lost 3 in the Inter-Suburban Junior League which includes teams from Cambridge, Somerville, Medford, Allston, Newton, West End and Roxbury. In non-league games the boys have won one and lost one.

The Juniors play 3 games each week. Monday and Thursday Twilight and Saturday afternoons.

The "Y" is represented by two other boys baseball teams: the Junior Seconds and the Midgets. Both teams will play all summer. The Junior Seconds play afternoons and Wednesdays evenings and the Midgets during the morning hours.

The boys making up the Junior Seconds are Lincoln Merrill, Walter McGuire, Francis Gallishaw, Donald Harrington, Robert Gibson, John Trumble, John Larkins, John MacInnis, Tony Mantenuito and Gordon Bass.

Boys Department Summer Program
The Summer program will start in the Boys Department on Monday, June 26th, at 9:30 A. M. with a Treasure Hunt. Prizes including a Collar and Tie Clasp Set, Baseball and "Y" emblem will be given to the three winners.

On Tuesday and Thursday mornings the Midgets will practice baseball. This practice will be open to all members of the Boys Department under fifteen years of age and will include instruction in batting, fielding, base-running and sliding. The boys making the best showing in these practice sessions will be allowed to represent the "Y" as the "Midget" Baseball Team, and will play games against teams from nearby points.

Wednesday morning will find the boys on their way for the first educational trip of the season. Throughout the summer, the group will visit various plants and points of interest each week.

Friday morning will be spent on the field with a series of mass games.

This program will vary throughout the summer and will include game tournaments, hikes, bike-hikes, trips to beaches and points of interest movies and rainy day programs.

In addition to all of this, there will be a swim every day at 3 P. M. (Saturdays 10:30 A. M.) for all Junior Members.

This program will be under the supervision of capable leaders at all times.

WOMEN IN COURT IN ROW OVER CAT

A cat owned by Mrs. Mary McKenney of 329 Cherry street, West Newton, caused her and Laura Boudreau of the same address to appear in the Newton court twice this week. The cat disappeared and Mrs. Boudreau got a warrant out for Mrs. McKenney, charging that the latter had accused her of being responsible for the absence of the feline, and as a result, had assaulted her. Mrs. McKenney was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday and was placed on probation. Shortly before noon on that day, Mrs. McKenney returned to the courthouse and stated she had been assaulted by Mrs. Boudreau. A warrant was then issued for the latter and she was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday morning. She was also placed on probation.

"I don't know how they build it, all I know is I can't HURT it!" That's TERRAPLANING!

Because we've said so much about the ruggedness of the Essex Terraplane, its owners "give it the works." They try to hurt it. They would never ask any other car even to attempt the things they make it do.

And it never lets them down.

Skeptical? Ask any Terraplane owner. Tell him you want to know. He'll answer you the way one of them recently answered just such a question.

He said, "Everything the Hudson Motor Car Company has said about the Terraplane is true. It out-climbs and out-accelerates every other car I've ever seen or driven. It costs me less for gas and oil and tires. I've driven my Terraplane twenty-nine thousand miles over the worst kind of roads, and it hasn't cost me a cent for repairs. I don't know how they build it—all I know is, I can't hurt it."

Before you buy any car, go TERRAPLANING!

"DID it! And a lot you never mentioned. Every mountain in high gear. The best gas-mileage I've ever had with any car. And 400 miles a day without tiring us. This Terraplane is a CAR!"

"Did it do everything I said it would, Mr. Dorsey?"

Hunter Show At Dover

First Annual Event Open to The Public

First Annual Event Open To Public Tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock the first class (for qualified light weight hunters) will take the field at Powisset Farm, Dover, in the initial Dedham Hunter Show under the auspices of the Dedham Country and Polo Club, Josiah H. Child, M. F. H. General Chairman.

Many of the outstanding Hunt contenders from clubs and private stables have been entered for the afternoon runnings. The course has been under construction for several weeks—promising thrills aplenty as well as the stiffest, most popular types of field and exhibition jumping. Well over one hundred entries are expected, and the addition of a seventh class at the Tuesday meeting of the committee allowing for post entries in an open class performance only to count, will further vary the features open to exhibitors.

Location and terrain for the Hunter Show are ideal, and as the Show is open to the public, it will unquestionably draw a record attendance for an initial Hunt affair.

Powisset Farm, Powisset street, Dover, is reached by a number of beautiful drives from Newton. The most direct route lies through Needham square and from there through on Chestnut st., to Dover. There turn left out Walpole st. to Powisset st., the first street on the left.

Committees for the Dedham Hunter Show are as follows: Mr. Josiah H. Child, M. F. H., General Chairman. Programs and Entries: Mrs. I. Tucker Burr, Jr., M. F. H., chairman; Mrs. William B. Rogers, Jr., Miss Sylvia Warren, Mrs. Philip H. Theopold.

Hunter Show: Mr. Josiah H. Child, M. F. H., chairman; Miss Amelia Peabody, Mr. Herbert B. Shaw, Dr. Hans Zinsner, Mr. Nathaniel E. Parkinson, Mrs. Robert Almy, M. F. H. Grounds and Parking, etc.: Mr. Paul C. Cabot, chairman; Mr. Arnault B. Edgerly.

Judges: Mr. John P. Bowditch, Mr. George Timmerman, M. F. H.

Classes as follows: Class 1—2:00 P. M.—Light Weight Hunters: (qualified): Performance and way of going 80%, Conformation 20%. Class 2—2:30 P. M.—Heavy Weight and Middle Weight Hunters: Performance and way of going 80%, Conformation 20%.

Class 3—3:00 P. M.—Green Hunters: Horses six years of age and under: Performance and way of going 50%, Conformation 50%. Class 4—3:30 P. M.—Battered Brigade: For horses having been hunted by members of the same family seven years or more: Performance and way of going 50%, Conformation 50%.

Class 5—4:00 P. M.—Pair Jumping: Hunt uniforms preferred but not required: Performance and way of going 75%, Similarity of type 25%. Class 6—4:30 P. M. Hunt Teams: Hunt uniforms preferred but not required: Performance and way of going 80%, Conformation and similarity of type 20%. Separate ownership allowed.

Class 7—5:00 P. M. Open Jumping: Post Entries. Performance only to count.

WILLIAM H. CHASE

William H. Chase of 60 Homestead st., Waban, died yesterday, June 22, at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Boston, where he had been ill since June 4, when he was seized with a heart attack. On June 5 he was commissioned Captain of the Ancient and Honourable Artillery Company. He was born at Lowell, 67 years ago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith Chase. He was a member of Winthrop Lodge of Masons, Woonsocket Commandery, Knights Templar; Mass. Consistory, 32nd. Degree; Aleppo Temple, and he was the first Exalted Ruler of Woonsocket Lodge of Elks. His funeral service will be held Sunday at 1 p. m., at his home.

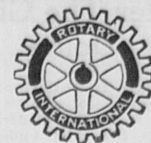

MRS. MARGARET B. CHERRINGTON

Mrs. Margaret B. Cherrington, widow of Frank Cherrington, died on June 17 at her home, 281 Waban ave., Waban. She had been a resident of Waban for 30 years. Her funeral service was held at her late home on Monday; Rev. Joseph McDonald, pastor of the Waban Union Church officiated. Burial was in Cedar Grove Cemetery, Dorchester. Mrs. Cherrington is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Congdon of Waban.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to members of the Newton Fire Department, Firewarden of America, and to our many friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and kind expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement.

MRS. GEORGE E. HARRISON, WILLIAM R. HARRISON, ROBERT S. HARRISON, and Family.

WABAN BOY DIES AFTER ACCIDENT ON MOTORCYCLE

William G. Mosher, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Mosher of 128 Avalon rd., Waban, died at the Newton Hospital on Sunday night of injuries received Thursday afternoon. The boy was riding a motorcycle, which he had recently acquired, along Waban ave. when he crashed into the rear of a car parked on the street. He received a compound fracture of the skull and a fractured leg and he never regained consciousness. He was a pupil at the Warren Junior High School. He is survived by his parents; a sister, Wilmetta Mosher; and a brother, Jacob Mosher. His funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban. Rev. Richard T. Loring officiated, assisted by Rev. Charles O. Farrar of Newton Highlands. The pallbearers were classmates from the Warren Junior High School. Burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery.

NICHOLAS YOUNG

Nicholas Young of 185 Franklin st., Newton, died on June 16. He was born at Wakefield 59 years ago and following his graduation from Wakefield High School he entered newspaper work on the Manchester Union. He served as city editor and dramatic editor of the Boston Traveler and for many years was dramatic editor on the Boston American. His funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at his late home; Rev. Ray Eusden of Elliot Church officiated. Burial was in Lakeside Cemetery, Wakefield.

MRS. ANNIE MORAN

Mrs. Annie (Dow) Moran of 400 Centre st., Newton, wife of Martin Moran, died on June 18. She was born in County Roscommon, Ireland, 71 years ago and had resided in Newton for 50 years. Besides her husband she is survived by four daughters—Misses Annie and Florence Moran of Newton, Mrs. Agnes Leonard of Brighton, Mrs. Helen Donovan of Cambridge; and three sons—Leo, Francis and Harold Moran. She is also survived by eight grandchildren. Her funeral service was held Wednesday morning at Our Lady's Church, Newton; burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown.

WAKEFIELD MAN FATALLY HURT AT WABAN

At 3 o'clock Saturday morning Patrolmen Dalton and McGrath, while cruising along Beacon street, Waban, in a police car, came upon an automobile wrecked in front of 1580 Beacon st. The car had crashed into a tree. In the car the policemen found George W. Butterfield, 36, of 14 Birch Hill ave., Wakefield, who was unconscious and critically injured. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He died Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock. It is not known what caused the accident.

STEPHEN THACHER

Stephen Thacher died on June 17 at the home of his sister, Mrs. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Buckingham st., Cambridge. He was born at Machias, Maine, 87 years ago, the son of Peter Thacher who later became the first city solicitor of Newton. Stephen Thacher graduated from Harvard Law School in 1871 and practiced law in Boston for many years.

WATCH GOVERNMENT EXPENSES RISE

The Federal Government is piling up huge debts which some day, sometime in the future, has got to pay. The general theory behind the legislation which the President has sought and Congress has enacted, such as the Industrial Recovery Act, the Home Loan Bank Bill, the Wagner-Lewis Bill, and the like is to create economic recovery with resultant decreased unemployment, increased purchasing power and a greater ability to absorb the repayment of obligations incurred. Whether or not such an experiment will be entirely successful is a question which is open to discussion and one which is the subject of comment. One of the greatest dangers which might well arise from this plan of procedure is that of increased governmental current expenses. The completion of public work projects such as schools, prisons, and other similar buildings will add a large maintenance expense to our already burdensome governmental budgets. Unless care is taken, not only in Massachusetts, but throughout the country, the cost of government is going to rise and states, cities and towns may well find out that they have only "robbed Peter to pay Paul."

GRAVEL PIT NUISANCES

We have commented before upon the necessity for adequate regulation of gravel pit permits in Newton. The protest of residents of Newton Lower Falls contains much merit. It is our belief that the problem is one which the planning board should take under consideration with the view of recommending specific action. For several years the problem has been growing and it will continue to grow unless prompt action is taken. While there are several "eyesores" and "nuisances" already in existence it is not too late to repair the damage already done nor to prevent further unwarranted desecration of Newton property at the expense of the future development of the Garden City.

Under The Gilded Dome

A message from Governor Ely relating to grants of money to Massachusetts from the Federal government was the chief topic of interest at the State House last week when on Wednesday Mr. Ely recommended to the Legislature that the State borrow $30,000,000 in an eight page document laying out a program of public works construction. The various parts of the message were referred to the proper committees which have announced hearings for the first of the week.

The Governor, however, was emphatic that the Legislature pass a sales tax in order to provide revenue to retire the bonds or notes which the State would issue. He made it clear that he would disapprove any proposal which did not call for the repayment of any loans to be made and he took issue with the much talked of theory that the $30,000,000 to be disbursed under the Industrial Recovery Act will never be repaid by the States but will be refunded by future Federal taxation. He stated that "with the exception of such funds as may be received as a grant, the people of this Commonwealth must expect to repay the lender."

The Ely program provides for the establishment of a board of three members appointed by the governor, who would have complete veto powers over all projects other than highways, and could only be overruled by the governor himself. The board, however, would not initiate projects, but would only approve. The initiation of projects would be handled by a second board of five members, two of which will be members of the Legislature. All city and town projects would go through the Emergency Finance Board set up under the tax title legislation already passed at the current session. Borrowings by municipalities outside the debt limit would be under the supervision of this board and the governor.

On Monday the House overwhelmingly overrode Governor Ely on his vetoes of two bills reimbursing state employees for injuries sustained in the line of duty. The Governor, in his inaugural message last January, stated that he would feel constrained to disapprove with the exception of money to the owners of property damaged in the bombing of Judge Thayer's home in Worcester last year, any such special legislation. The House voted 211 to 5 to override the Governor's veto in the case of John F. Tiernan of Brookline, and 213 to 4 in the case of Thomas W. Kingston of Holden. Newton's three Representatives, Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted to override the Governor. The Senate took almost similar action when the vetoes reached the Senate on Tuesday by votes of 31 to 2 and 30 to 7 with Senator Hollis voting in favor of the bills.

On Monday after a long and heated debate the Senate refused to pass the resolve which would address the Governor and seek the removal of Judge Arthur P. Stone. The vote was 25 to 12 with Senator Hollis among those voting against removal of the judge.

The House refused to reject a resolve for an investigation by a special commission of the rates and charges by gas and electric companies in this State on Tuesday by a roll call vote of 94 to 83. The measure was passed to be engrossed after an amendment giving the commission $10,000 to carry out its work had been adopted. The Ways and Means Committee had recommended rejection of the resolve. Newton's three Representatives supported the committee recommendation. The measure will go before the Senate which it must pass before enactment.

The Senate by a vote of 25 to 7 refused to repeal the present compulsory insurance law and substitute a financial responsibility act after considerable debate on Tuesday. Senator Hollis voted in favor of such a change in the auto insurance laws.

A heated debate arose in the Senate over an amendment by the House to a bill authorizing $1000 for expenses of legislative delegates to the forthcoming national conference of legislators on taxation. The amendment provided that one Democratic member of each branch be appointed to the delegation. Inasmuch as it is planned to send only one member of each branch to the conference as was done last winter when Senator Henry Parkman, Jr. of Boston and Representative Arthur L. Burgess of Quincy the Republican chairman of the Committee on Taxation went to Washington, the majority of the Senators voted against the proposal on a roll call vote of 22 to 12. Senator Hollis voted against the amendment. An attempt was made on Wednesday by Senator Finnegan of Dorchester to reconsider the action taken the day before but it failed by a vote of 21 to 8.

The Governor's Council on Wednesday began the work of tabulating the vote cast at the special election of June 13 for the selection of delegates to the constitutional convention to be held at the State House next Monday, June 26th, for the purpose of ratifying the amendment repealing prohibition. Forty-five delegates, all of whom are pledged to repeal, were selected. It is the general opinion of the 9th district of which Newton is a part and a former Speaker of the House, will be chosen as presiding officer at the convention.

Rep. Martin Hays of Brighton presented an order to the House on Thursday requesting the Attorney General to call a special session of the Grand Jury for presentation of the evidence on which the Committee on the Judiciary based its report favoring the removal of Judge Stone a fortnight ago which report was accepted by the House but rejected by the Senate. Hays also presented the hands of Speaker Saltonstall and to be referred to the Rules Committee which will hold a hearing as to admitting the order. Rep. Hays sought postponement of a House rule that the matter could be immediately referred but it was not so motion when it became apparent that the necessary two-thirds support was lacking. Rep. Hays stated that the House could not prevent a debate on the measure and if it wanted to wait five days he was not particularly concerned.

The Senate yesterday refused to reconsider its vote on Wednesday by which it rejected a bill abolishing the practice of imposing service charges by the gas and electric companies. A bill will be reported in the House on Monday seeking to help home owners from foreclosure of mortgages held by banks. The bill, coming from the Committee on Banks and Banking, authorizes banks to exchange mortgages held by them for bonds of the recently created Federal Home Loan Bank.

LOW PRESSURE TIRE SUCCESSFUL

New type tire developed for Terraplane proves highly successful.

When the Essex Terraplane Eight was brought out it was essential to develop a new size tire to accommodate this new type of chassis. This led to the creation of the 16x tire, which was designed to have all of the advantages of the balloon tire without the disadvantages of the superballon or Jumbo tire. It is essentially a low pressure tire, the proper inflation ranging from 24 to 28 pounds, depending upon the service to which the car is to be put. When properly inflated for its work, this tire is ideal in its performance. It gives the area necessary for good braking and freedom from skidding, and it has sufficiently low pressure to absorb the road shocks due to inequalities in the surface of the highways.

There is a wide difference in the characteristics of the tire with 24 pounds and 28 pounds inflation. In other words, the full range of tire possibility is at the command of the car owner with this type tire, and the average owner will never watch the variations in pressure as closely as the expert driver who wishes to get everything possible out of his car and equipment.

When the phone Mr. Evans of the Newton Hudson Essex Co. today and take a ride on these air wheel tires? The phone is Newton North 1990.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

This alleged economy which Postmaster General Farley is to put into effect, compelling postoffice employees to take another 9 days furlough (without pay), is added evidence of the growing inefficiency which has characterized this branch of government activity in late years. The postal service for some years past is woefully less efficient than it was 25 and more years ago. Too many alleged experts tinkering with it, and the retrenchment program of the past few years have caused the service to become only a shadow of its former standard. Postmaster General Farley, like his predecessors, knows nothing, or next to nothing of the post office business. He was given the office he now holds through the asinine custom which has prevailed in the control of Federal activities under men who get these jobs solely because of political influence.

The postal service in the Newtons the past few years has been putrid as compared with service rendered here in former years. And Newton is not an exception. Fewer mails are received, fewer mails are dispatched; fewer deliveries are made. Substitutions are freely used on routes; men who do not know the routes and who leave mail at addresses other than those where the mail is correctly addressed. This sort of thing will continue until the abjectly dumb and servile public, like the humble worm will turn.

If the Federal government wants to effect real economies in the postal service, the thing to do is not to further cripple an already poor service. Instead of laying off men who really work, who know their duties and perform them, why not discharge thousands of loafers, who through political drag draw good salaries as postmasters and let subordinates perform the duties they are paid to perform? Why not cease paying huge subsidies to certain favored persons for carrying mail on steamship and other routes? Why not cut out the graft on the erection of postoffices and leases of postoffices? Why not give a square deal to the humble workers in the postal service, and to the public, to commit a robbery and perform them, who know their duties and perform them, why not discharge thousands of loafers, who through political drag draw good salaries as postmasters and let subordinates perform the duties they are paid to perform? Why not cease paying huge subsidies to certain favored persons for carrying mail on steamship and other routes? Why not cut out the graft on the erection of postoffices and leases of postoffices? Why not give a square deal to the humble workers in the postal service, and to the public, to commit a robbery and perform them, who know their duties and perform them, why not discharge thousands of loafers, who through political drag draw good salaries as postmasters and let subordinates perform the duties they are paid to perform? ## Kiwanis Club

The Newton Kiwanis Club held its weekly meeting at noon on Tuesday, June 20, at the Charles River Country Club. There was a large turnout including the wives of many of the members because this week's meeting was Ladies' Day for the Kiwanians. Each lady was presented with a box of candy by Wilfred Chasman who later introduced the speaker of the day, Dr. Chester H. Clark, Federal Narcotic Agent, who gave a most interesting talk on the use of Dope in the United States. Mr. S. Sardella provided excellent entertainment in the way of three well chosen songs.

VACATION ECHO
By William R. Ferry
Cedar Lake Farm, Old Lyme, Conn.

On Grassy Hill Lane way up in the wood
A squatty roof farm house one hundred years stood
Its old doors and shutters, beaten and worn
Is the sign of old age as sure as you're born.

Not simply a house, a barn and old shed,
But woodland and pasture where cattle are fed.
The land skirts a lake, 'tis "Cedar Lake Farm"
Where City folk visit for its wonderful charm.

The old oaken bucket in childhood of yore
Near an old kitchen entrance and old-fashioned door;
The lilac and laurel and maples so grand
With beauty and greatness like sentinels stand.

Visit Old Lyme some day in June;
Hear song birds of Lyme and their warbling tune
Catch some fish in the lake, pickerel or pike,
Come out too Old Lyme and do as you like.

P. S. For real estate or Insurance see William R. Ferry.

MAY HEALTH REPORT
The May report of the Newton Board of Health states that 46 deaths occurred in the city during that month; 17 males and 29 females. Twelve of those who died were between 70 and 80 years of age; seven were over 80. The death rate per 1000 for the month was 7.81 as compared with 10.72 for May, 1932. Cancer caused 6 deaths; cerebral hemorrhage 5, heart ailments 4, pneumonia 7, Communicable diseases reported during the month included—scarlet fever, 46 cases; measles 46, mumps 39, whooping cough 43, chicken pox 23, pulmonary tuberculosis 4.

The Health Department investigated 20 complaints; inspected 64 tenements, 11 barber and beauty shops; and abated 13 nuisances.

WINS AUTO CLASSIC WITH STOCK LUBRICANT
The Castor Oil legend has been shattered.
For many years, no competent automobile racing driver, either here or abroad, would think of entering a race with his car lubricated with anything but Castor Oil. It amounted almost to a superstition.

But Louis Meyer, in winning the recent 500-mile race on the Indianapolis Speedway, knocked the superstition into a cocked hat. His racer, "Tydol Special," was lubricated throughout with Vedol, a mineral oil far removed from any product of the castor bean.

Mr. Sydney Berlin, Chief Engineer of the Tide Water Oil Company, points out that Meyer's remarkable race undoubtedly marks the beginning of the end of Castor Oil as a lubricant for racing cars.

"Since auto racing began, drivers have believed that because of the withering heat generated in the racing engine, Castor Oil would 'keep its body' better than any other oil," he said. "With but five quarts of Vedol, taken from regular stock, and with his motor generating heat that fluctuated from 200 to 225 degrees, 13 degrees above the boiling point, Meyer won without difficulty. No one was permitted to replenish or change his oil during the entire race."

"The result vindicates the judgment of American oil engineers, and certainly is a wonderful testimonial to the advances made in recent years in American refining methods."

GRADUATE FROM FRAMINGHAM TEACHERS COLLEGE
The following young women from the Newton were graduated from the Framingham Teachers College this June: Arlene Eccles of West Newton; Helen Russo of Newton Highlands; Ruth Perlmuter and Lillian Stollow of Newtonville; Cyril Sullivan of Auburndale; and Alice Toohey of Newton Centre.

LYNCH—MALONEY

Corpus Christi Chapel of Auburndale was the setting for the wedding of Miss Margaret A. Maloney to Mr. Albert Francis Lynch of Natick on Saturday, June 17.

Miss Maloney was charming in a wedding gown of white chalk crepe moulded in Grecian lines and her tulle train fell from a turban cap. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

The bride was attended by her sister Louise H. Maloney who was gowned in mountain pink organza with baby blue matching hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses mixed with bachelor buttons and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Raymond L. Ward of Natick served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Robert E. Morley of Natick and Mr. James H. McMahon of Auburndale.

After the services a family reception was held at the home of her uncle, Mr. James H. McMahon of Auburndale. Her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fleming of Wellesley Hills celebrated their golden anniversary and also Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Fleming who celebrated their 5th anniversary were present at the reception.

The bride was a graduate of the Framingham Normal School and a teacher in the Marshall L. Perrin School of Wellesley. Mr. Lynch attended Boston University Evening School and is in the employ of the John Pine Store in Natick.

After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Lynch will be at home in Natick.

CENTRE GIRL BADLY INJURED IN CAR CRASH
Helen Cookson, 16, of 136 Jackson st., Newton Centre, was seriously injured in an automobile accident at Waltham last Saturday afternoon. She received a concussion of the brain, broken nose, a gash in her neck and other injuries. She was taken to the Waltham Hospital after the accident and her name was placed on the danger list.

Injured in the same accident were Evelyn Divasto, 17, of 186 Langley rd., Newton Centre, injuries to ribs and cuts; Elizabeth Brown, 15, 3 Proctor st., Newtonville, cuts and bruises; John Brown, 10, scalp injuries. These four, with three other occupants were in a car driven by George McElhiney of Watertown which was hit at Beaver and Warren sts., Waltham by a car driven by Dorothy Turner of Cohasset. McElhiney reported that the car driven by the Turner woman skidded while going at a high rate of speed.

WINS PRIZE GIVEN BY LEGION AUXILIARY
The five dollar prize offered by Newton Unit for the best essay written by a High School student on the subject of: "What Could be Expected of Present Youth for the Realization of Universal Peace," has been awarded to William O'Connell, a pupil in the High School of Our Lady, Newton.

Honorable mention was given an essay written by Mary Geegan, also of the same school.

Both these essays were considered by the judges as showing a remarkable ability for logical thinking on the part of their young authors.

The letters of FIDAC represent the words, Federation Interallies des Anciens Combattants, an organization of all allied World War veterans.

American Legion Elects Delegates to State Convention

ton Post No. 48, American Legion, was held at the War Memorial Building on Thursday evening, June 15th, at which time the following delegates and alternates to the Department Convention at Holyoke which is to be held August 17th, 18th and 19th were elected:

Delegates: Commander, Robert L.
Cunningham; Past Commander, Harold D. Ames; Adjutant, Paul M. Fitzgerald; Vice Commander, Arthur R.
McCarthy; Clifford S. J. White;
Charles Walker; Alternates, Vice Commander, Russell I. Viles; Harold
H. Haffey, Chaplain, David Greer;
Thomas W. Cummings, Daniel P. Murphy, John Geraci.

Past Commander John J. Maguire of Watertown Post No. 99, in capacity as Service Officer for Middlesex County was the guest of the evening and gave an interesting talk on the legislation which is being enacted at Washington relative to veterans' pensions.

It was voted to organize a squadron of the junior organization which is known as The Sons of the Legion.
All male descendants of those who served in the armed forces of the United States between April 7th, 1917 and November 11th, 1918 are eligible to membership. The matter of forming this branch of the local Legion Post was delegated to a committee headed by 1st Vice Commander Russell I. Viles, and before adjournment of the meeting forty-eight prospective members had been registered. All members of the Post who have sons and are interested in having them join this squadron should communicate with Vice Commander Viles.

A report on the activities of the Post Band was rendered by Manager
Murphy and the matter of sending the Band to the National Convention at Chicago was taken up. After the meeting light refreshments were served in the cafeteria. The next meeting will be held the third Thursday in September.

Many of the members present expressed themselves as planning to attend the meeting of the Posts comprising the district which is to be held at Waltham Post quarters on Wednesday evening, June 21st and all delegates and alternates are especially asked to attend.

SEVEN NEWTON GIRLS RECEIVE DEGREES FROM RADCLIFFE

Seven Newton girls received the
A.B. degree from Radcliffe College
Wednesday. They are: Helen M.
Finerty of Braintree rd., Newton, who has majored in history, is a member of Phi Beta Kappa; Elisabeth Harrington of Court st., Newtonville, has majored in economics. Miss Harrington has been a member of the varsity hockey team, chairman of the senior prom, and has just been elected permanent class secretary. Miss Jane Hermann of 105 Tyler terrace, Newton Centre, has majored in economics.
Miss Hermann has been President and chair of the Science Education organization and in her junior year she was class Song Leader. Miss Mary Belle Lennox of Dudley rd., Newton Centre, has majored in history, government and economics.

Miss Helen K. McKittrick of Washington Park, Newtonville, a graduate of Miss Johnson's School in Cambridge has majored in German literature.

Miss Elvira Ogden of Perkins st.,
West Newton has majored in English.
Miss Margaret of Sutcliffe of Charlesbank rd., Newton, has majored in English.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

During the last week the children at the Stearns School Centre have been extremely busy finishing the many handicraft projects begun during the past winter. A number of girls are wearing dresses of their own make and the boys are proud possessors of moccasins.

The month of July is a happy one.
Each day a group is taken to a lake where the boys and girls are taught the rudiments of swimming.

The group learns the spirit of cooperation. At the end of the day a tired but happy group returns to their homes and has many exciting events to relate.

The Mother's Club will spend Thursday, July 13th, at Sunken Willow. This one day's outing will be the one big event for many of them this summer.

Mrs. Frederick White will entertain the Senior girls at her summer camp on July 8th at which time they will be driven to New Hampshire in the Center car and the cars of the girls.
Mrs. Sidney Harwood has invited
15 little girls to her home in Duxbury for a day.

ENTERTAIN SCHOOL CHILDREN

The children of the Mason School were delightfully entertained this week by Bertha and Ernest Cobb, authors of "Alo!" "Dan's Boy" and other stories read to children. The thirty odd children were received by Mr. and Mrs. Cobb and their daughter Madeline at their home where the children had the delight of playing in new mown hay and climbing giant pine trees.

Stories by the Cobbs to an attentive circle of children, stunts and songs by the children in return, and the favorite food which always makes a real party for children—cream and cake—filled the afternoon until reluctant goodbyes were said.

THREE NEWTON BOYS GRAD- UATE FROM LAW SCHOOL

Three Newton students were awarded the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the annual commencement exercises of Northeastern University held on Monday evening, June 19, in Jordan Hall. They were Edmund Kneeland of Newton, Samuel Kern of Newton Centre, and George Bricker of Auburn-dale.

Recent Weddings

WILLARD—VARNEY

Miss Narcissa Peace Varney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Varney of Newton Centre, was married to Philip Grant Willard of Boston, son of John E. Willard of Cape Ella-beth, Maine, on Saturday evening, June seventeenth. The ceremony took place in the garden of her parents' home on Tyler terrace. Rev. Charles
N. Arbuckle performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white net over white tulle with a train covered with ruffles of net, and a tulle veil. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Edward Walker Marshall of Boston as matron of honor and Miss Eunice Pepper, her cousin, of Concord, as maid of honor. They both wore gowns of light rose starched chif-fon with wide capes of ruffled chif-fon. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Clark of Winchester, and Mrs. Benjamin Fawcett of Newton. They wore gowns similar in design to the other two attendants, in a deeper shade of rose. They carried bouquets of blue larkspur and pink briarcliff roses.

John E. Willard, Jr., brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were George Bradley of Concor-dence, Charles C. Clarke of Winchester and Edward Walker Marshall of Boston.

A reception was held in the sun-parlor of the home. Music was furnished by a trio consisting of violin, cello and piano.

After September first Mr. and Mrs.
Willard will be at home in Portland, Maine.

The bride is a graduate of Smith College, class of 1930 and the groom of Yale and the Harvard Law School.

CAWLEY—O'DONNELL

Miss Agnes O'Donnell, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donnell of 170 Auburndale ave., West Newton, was married to Paul Thomas Cawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cawley of Cambridge, on Saturday morning, June 17th, at ten o'clock in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. Rev.
William J. Dwyer performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white mousseline de soie and a tulle veil which fell from a cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses, lilies of the valley and gardenias. Miss Irene Maloney, the maid of honor, wore yellow mousseline de soie with green trimming and carried a bouquet of larkspur and roses.

Mr. John Howard of Cambridge was the best man. The ushers were Charles O'Donnell, brother of the bride and Mr. Francis Cawley, brother of the groom.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony, the couple receiving under an arch of roses and mountain laurel. They were assisted in receiving by their parents. Music was furnished by an orchestra.

On their return from a wedding trip to Virginia by water, Mr. and Mrs.
Cawley will reside in Watertown.

THOMPSON—BEMIS

Miss Alice Bemis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farwell Bemis of 40 Old Orchard rd., Chestnut Hill, was married to Charles Goodrich Thompson, on Saturday, June 17th, at 12:30 noon, in the church of St.
Andrew's in the Valley, Tamworth, New Hampshire. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John F. Dallas, Bishop of New Hampshire, assisted by Rev. Robert H. Dunn of Samborville, New Hampshire. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore an old-fashioned dress of white embroidered muslin with long tight sleeves, high collar and a small train, and her mother's wedding veil of tulle. Mrs. Alan C. Bemis sister-in-law of the bride of Weston, as matron of honor, wore pale blue organ-die and her two small daughters, who also attended the bride, wore white cotton dresses with wreaths on their hair.

William Huntington Thompson, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A reception was held at "Lontano," the summer home of the bride's parents at South Tamworth.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodrich Thompson of Chestnut Hill.

After July 15th, Mr. and Mrs.
Thompson will be at home at St.
James, Long Island, New York.

LOMBARD—BEATEY

Miss Virginia Beatey, daughter of Mrs. Augustus Tolman Beatey of 28
Hammond st., Chestnut Hill, was married to Richard Beal Lombard of Arlington on Saturday afternoon, June 17th, in the garden of the Peabody home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hunt. The ceremony which took place under a rose arbor flanked with evergreens was performed by Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church Newton Centre.

The bride wore a gown of cream satin and a veil of tulle with a headdress of tulle caught with orange blossoms in the back and a small face veil. She carried calla lilies. The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Lombard, sister of the groom, wore pink lace with a cape of the same material caught on the shoulder with loops of purple velvet. She wore a turban of purple velvet, and carried pink roses and larkspur. The bridesmaids, Miss Ellie Manson of Brookline, Miss Harriet Fitz and Miss Helen Stuart of Newton, and Mrs. Robert Henderson Smith of Cambridge, wore gowns of the same style in hyacinth blue lace with purple velvet loops and turbans and carried bouquets of pale yellow roses and salpiglossis in shades of purple to blue.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Lombard will reside in one of the Homestead Country Club bungalows in Danvers, where they will be at home after July 1st.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The West Newton Women's Educational Club was represented at the meeting of the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts by the following members: Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Club; Mrs. Roy A. Stinson, chairman of the Mothercraft division of the Club, and member of the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts; Mrs.
Francis T. Johnson, and Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden. This meeting was held on Tuesday, June 13th, at the Massachusetts State College at Amherst, and was preceded by a luncheon to which the members were invited by Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, president of the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts, at the Dickinson-Biggs Tavern at Amherst.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Carter of 170 Otis street, Newtonville, have announced their engagement of their daughter, Miss Elfrida Carter, to William Rupert MacLaurin, son of Mrs.
Richard Cockburn MacLaurin and the late President MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.
Miss Carter attended the Winsor
School and graduated from Vassar College last week. She is a member of the Junior League. Mr. MacLaurin graduated from Harvard in 1929 and won the degree of M. B. A. from the Harvard School of Business Administration. He also won the Fiske Scholarship in economics from Harvard and studied at Trinity College, Cambridge, England. He is now associated with a large Boston bank and is a member of the Exchange Club. A September wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Calixte Roy of 24 Caretton street, Newton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dellanne to Mr. Louis Bourneuf of Dorchester. Both Miss Roy and Mr.
Bourneuf have been employed at the State House for several years. Their marriage will take place very soon.

226 Lexington avenue, New Haven, Conn., have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Anne Marguerite to Mr. B. Ivan Gaisunas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baltruss Gaisunas of Williams st., Newton Upper Falls.

American Red Cross

Life Saving And Swimming Instruction

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross commencing Monday, June 26th, and continuing through July and August, will give swimming and life saving instruction at Crystal Lake.

Although a permanent schedule of classes is not ready for publication, it is safe to say that it will include instruction for non-swimmers, beginners, swimmers, recreational games, strokes, life-saving and elementary and intermediate diving.

All residents of Newton should be interested in this splendid program promoted by the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross and should take advantage of the opportunities which it offers in these courses.

CONFERENCE FOR CHURCH SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS

BESSEY—PIKE

Edward Cushing Bessey, son of Mrs.
Earle E. Bessey, and the late Dr. Bessey of Waban, was married on Friday, June 16th at noon, at Fryeburg, Maine, to Esther Pike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Osgood Pike, 2nd.
Rev. Richard F. Lorin, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban, officiated at the church ceremony, which was followed by a small reception, at the home of the bride's parents. Paul Morton Bessey was best man for his brother, and among the ushers, were Asa and John Pike, brothers of the bride.

The bride was gowned in white satin and wore her mother's wedding veil. She carried white roses and white sweet peas.

Among those who motored down to Fryeburg for the wedding, were
Rev. and Mrs. Lorin, Mrs. Earle E.
Bessey, and her cousin, Miss Florence Vaux of Boston; Mrs. Albin L.
Richards, Miss Ethel Richards, Mrs.
Louis O. Tilton, and Mrs. Carl H.

Funds Available For Hammond Parkway Extension

$150,000 or More State Money May Be Had Shortly

A letter was received this week at City Hall from State officials giving the information that $150,000 or more of State funds will be available within a few months for the continuation of the Hammond Pond Parkway from Beacon street towards Commonwealth ave. In 1931 the Legislature appropriated $400,000 for the construction of the section of the parkway between Newton street, Brookline and Beacon st., Newton Centre. This work has been under way for many months and will soon be completed. It is not expected to cost more than $250,000, and by provision of the Act passed by the Legislature last year, the city can have the unexpended balance for the purpose of continuing the parkway to Commonwealth avenue.

There has been bitter controversy at Newton Centre regarding the route to be selected. The original plan was to have the parkway follow the route of Hobart road, but for the past two years attempts have been made to change the route so that it would proceed westerly along Beacon st. towards Chesley rd. and thence along Willow st. to Centre st. This would add the parkway traffic to the already congested traffic which comes along Beacon st. and causes serious congestion at the intersection of Beacon st., Langley rd. and Sumner st. and at Beacon and Centre sts. This question will probably be an important campaign issue in the coming city election.

Dynamite Blasts Cause Claims Against City

As a result of the blasting by dynamite of the large amount of rock removed in the excavating of the tunnels dug for the new high level sewer at Newton, a number of claims have been made against the city by property owners who allege that their houses have been damaged by the blasts. The first claim was made in April by Mrs. Catherine Ross of 76 Bennington st., Newton. Fifteen other claims have since been made. The alleged damages vary from foundations of houses cracked, to a picture knocked off a wall. Most of the claims allege that ceilings and walls of rooms were cracked.

Most of the claims have come from owners of houses not immediately adjoining the blasting operations. Some are quite removed. Those who have entered claims include—Catherine Ross, 76 Bennington st.; Robert Keene, 279 Tremont st.; Ruth Wynan, 20 Lombard st.; John McDonald, 391 Tremont st.; Ernest Snow, 73 Lombard st.; William Browning, 46 Arlington st.; Earl Clayton, 45 Salisbury rd.; Florence Dunn, 20 Rickter rd.; Mrs. D. Haven, 37 Winchester rd.; Irene Johnson, 321 Tremont st.; Arthur Roy, 5 Winchester rd.; Charles Tilton, 14 Lombard st.; R. M. Vawter, 12 Pembroke st.; Mary Waters, 4 Marlboro st.

Newton Dogs Again at Liberty

The several thousands of dogs owned in the Newtons were officially given their freedom yesterday after a quarantine of 30 days, which was obeyed by most dog owners. The free clinics held to immunize dogs against rabies were not taken advantage of by a large percentage of persons who keep such animals. Of the estimated 3500 dogs in the city, only about 200 were brought to be inoculated by Dr. Boutelle and his assistants. It is known that there are hundreds of unlicensed dogs in the city. Special Officers Ben Thomas, Jr. and John O'Dea who have been rounding up unrestrained dogs during the past month will be kept at work catching unlicensed dogs. Until the police of the city enforce the law compelling all dogs to wear a collar bearing the owner's name and address, and the dog's license number, persons who are not law-abiding will be encouraged to keep unlicensed dogs.

Farewell Dinner Given Teacher of Emerson School

Miss Linda E. Michelson Retires After Long Service

A Farewell Dinner in honor of Miss Linda E. Michelson, a member of the faculty of the Ralph Waldo Emerson School, was held at Riverbank Lodge, Sherborn, on Thursday evening, June 22.

Among the twenty-six guests present were past and present members of the Emerson School faculty, the social committee of the Upper Falls Improvement Society, the president of the Upper Falls Woman's Club, President of the Grade Teachers Club, Miss Mabel C. Bragg, former assistant superintendent of schools and Mrs. Jackson, a former school nurse.

Dinner was served in the recreation room. Miss Grace G. Hunt of the Emerson faculty was toastmaster. Mr. Clarence E. Churchill, principal of the school, gave vocal solos accompanied by Mrs. Agnes W. Lacroix at the piano.

Miss Nickolson has been teaching in the Upper Falls schools for the past 45 years. Her first position was in the Prospect school, later teaching in the Wade School and then in the new Ralph Waldo Emerson school.

Miss Nickolson has been a teacher who was loved by all for she taught father and mother and son and daughter and through the many years has taught the children the love of the community in which they live and lessons in character building. Miss Nickolson is loved by the residents of the village and will be greatly missed as she smilingly said her cheery, good morning to her many friends and acquaintances.

Truck Hits Car; Five Badly Hurt

A truck loaded with beer crashed into a sedan containing several persons at the intersection of Newtonville ave. and Harvard st. on Wednesday. The truck was driven by Lawrence Dube of Somerville. The car was driven by George Stone of 22 St. Stephens st., Boston. The car was hurled onto a lawn and then wedged between the truck and a pole. Francis Stone, 9, received a possible fracture of the pelvis; his mother, Mrs. George Stone received cuts and bruises. Mrs. Alice Brown, 29, of 206 Cabot st., Newtonville, a passenger in Stone's car, and her daughter, Clara, 11, received cuts and bruises. Cleo Brown, 13, received a fractured collar bone. The injured were taken to the Newton Hospital.

Driver Dozes; Four Injured

A Brookline man who had been on the road many hours in a trip from New York, fell asleep at the wheel of his car in Newton Lower Falls about midnight Sunday. The car hit a pole at Washington st., near Hamilton st. George Friedman, 41, of Short st., Brookline, received a fracture of the left arm; his wife, Victoria, fractured her right hand; his sons, Sydney and Norman, received cuts on their faces. The four were taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Hit By Toy; Goes To Hospital

Isaac Doucette, 30, of 31 Mague ave., West Newton was hit by a toy automobile hurled by someone in front of 333 Cherry st., West Newton on Wednesday afternoon. The iron toy struck Doucette as he alighted from his motorcycle. Injured him on the head severely enough so that he was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Doucette did not tell the police who hurled the missile, and no arrest was made.

Hurley Not Guilty In Assault Case

Frank A. Hurley of 26 Hurley pl., an old and respected resident of Newton Centre, was found not guilty of assault and battery on Mrs. Annie Sostillo of Boylston st., Newton Centre when his case was tried in the Newton court yesterday. Mrs. Sostillo testified that Hurley pushed her to the ground in a row over a fence she had erected in a driveway adjoining her property. Hurley claimed the fence endangered travel over a right of way to his property.

On Probation For Failure To Restrain Dogs

In the Newton court on Monday, Mrs. Charlotte Tuttle, 38, of 77 Auburn st., West Newton, was charged with disobeying the order in force in this city the past month, which specified that all dogs in Newton must be restrained. The testimony showed that two dogs owned by Mrs. Tuttle had been roaming at large. She was also charged with keeping an unlicensed dog. Judge Judge Allen found Mrs. Tuttle guilty on the first charge and placed her on probation. He found her not guilty on the second charge; it being contended that the dog unlicensed was a pup, less than three months old.

John Tocci of 127 Linwood ave., Newtonville, was also charged with allowing his dog to run unrestrained. He was also placed on probation.

Twenty-Seven Stores Quit Sale of Beer

Beer Sales Too Small To Pay Fees Charged

All of the store owners and lunch room proprietors who eagerly sought licenses to sell beer in this city several months ago, have not found the re-established business as profitable as they expected. Of the 68 who received temporary licenses in April, and who paid $50 each for the privilege of selling the "non-intoxicating" beverage, 27 have not applied for renewals of their licenses, which expire today. The demand for the 3.2% (or less) alcoholic liquor is not sufficient in Newton to cause all of the holders of the temporary licenses to pay the fees specified by the Newton License Commission. These fees are $150 for retail stores and $200 for common victuallers clubs. The license of Joseph Cohen at 832 Walnut st. Newton Highlands, was not re-issued because of the contention that he is not a citizen.

Some of the store keepers and lunch room owners have found it difficult to pay $150 or $200 at once. Their business, like that of most persons has not been too prosperous the past few years, and they have so little ready cash, that it was anything, but easy to pay out a large sum, in addition to their other expenses. The request was made by some that an extension of time be given to permit the payment of the license fees in installments, but the Commission would not agree to this. Among those who did not renew their licenses are several of the best known markets in the city. The owners of these markets contend that the fees are exorbitant. In view of the amount of beer sold. On the other hand, some of the retailers believe the fees are not unreasonable, and that by charging such fees, the sale of beer by too many stores will be prevented and it will be easier to prevent price cutting.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Why be too critical of the Boston police department? Supposing some of its officials have not been sufficiently active against gangsters. Just think of the imposing preparations Ernie Hultman has displayed for several years past to protect Boston against the Reds on each May Day. Does that compensate to a degree for the alleged laxity of some of his subordinates?

And they took the control of its police department away from the City of Boston so that there would be less chance of corruption and graft. It's about time the State Legislature gave back the control of the Boston police to the people of that city.

With appeals for aid from thousands who lack the necessities of life, parents who are still self-supporting should not permit their children to waste money by discharging fireworks several days before July 4th. Neither should children whose parents are receiving aid be given money to purchase fireworks, when they use such fireworks before July 4th.

Al Capone, imprisoned at Atlanta for evading payment of income taxes, has reason to believe that there is rank discrimination in this country as he reads of the non-payment of income taxes by such super-rich, philanthropists and leaders of finance as J. Pierpont Morgan and Otto Kahn, not to mention their impoverished partners. And the millions of ordinary citizens of the U. S. A., men and women with small incomes, who have humbly paid taxes whenever they made a few dollars above the minimums specified by the Income Tax Law, can patriotically warble "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Nine New Teachers Elected By Newton School Committee

Exchange of Teachers With English School Approved

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night nine new teachers were appointed, or to use the official term, "were elected." Actually, the teachers are selected by the Superintendent and confirmed by the committee. Of the nine, two are Newton residents—Adelyn Vara, who was appointed to teach at the Horace Mann School, and Anna McPhee, a recent graduate of Boston University, appointed as building assistant at the Bigelow junior high school. The other seven teachers chosen are not residents of the city. They are—Robert Landry, who will head the new division of Guidance and Research; Wendell Thornton, assigned to Day Junior high school; John Deary, Day Junior high; Dorothy Wilson, Emerson School; Esther Alpers, Rice School; Patricia Smith, Weeks Junior high school. Landry has been employed in the public schools of Norwalk, Conn., where Supt. of Schools Lund was in charge prior to coming to Newton last September.

Members of the School Committee approved of the exchange of teachers for the coming school year between Newton and Birmingham, England. Under this arrangement Floyd Rinker, a teacher of English at Newton High School, will teach at Birmingham the coming school year, and Noel Cottrell of Birmingham will teach English at Newton High. Arrangements for this exchange resulted from activities of the English Speaking Union.

Transfers of teachers announced were—Winifred Dugale, Rice to Ward school; Madeline Powell, Rice to Hyde school; Marguerite Gay, Cabot to Rice school; Margaret Flanders, Hyde to Cabot school; Agnes Sanborn, Day to Weeks school. It was announced that the city had been reimbursed by the State to the extent of $125,000 for teachers' salaries and expenses of the Trade School, and $3000 for the new equipment recently purchased for the trade school.

The committee turned down applications of the Newton Constabulary Band to use the Bigelow school for rehearsals during the coming months, and the American Legion Auxiliary to use the Warren school hall for drills in July and August on Friday nights. The committee, with the exception of Marsena Butts, voted against these petitions. It was contended that schools are painted and renovated during these months. Butts asserted that veterans are being discriminated against, and had the petition come from the Boy Scouts it would have been granted.

Another petition which was turned down was that from the Newton Community Club for the use of the kindergarten room at the Underwood school on Thursday afternoons from October to May, so that children of mothers attending meetings could be cared for there. This petition was refused because there will be regular sessions of the kindergarten at this room on the afternoons when the club members want to leave their children there.

Newton Trade School Graduates Twenty-eight

The first class to graduate from the Newton Trade School, since it evolved from the Vocational School of the Newton High group, was held last Friday night at the Technical School Building. The program opened with a selection by the school orchestra. James Forbes, director of the school, John Lund, Supt. of Schools and George H. Tracy, chairman of the school committee, then spoke. The school orchestra gave another selection, and Mayor Weeks then presented diplomas to 28 graduates, following a short address. The graduates were—John Henry Antonelli, Oreste C. Arcese, James Victor Bearis, Edward J. Boudrot, Nathaniel Harris Calder, Jr., Michael Carchia, Nicola J. Caruso, Francis J. Collins, Dante Rocco D'Ercole, Dominic D. DiPisquale, Albert Edward Hudson, John Ward Kelly, Alfred Leone, Francis James Moran, James L. Morrissey, Samuel Alfred Nevel, Harold John Norton, Ovaigin Cesag Onanian, Albert P. Proia, Andrew Shorndine, John Peter Sharkus, Joseph John Spadaro, Wendell Edward Stubbett, Joseph Thomas Taglienti, Antonio Volante, Paul Wask, Frederick L. Welch, Stuart A. Wild.

Fire In House at Grasmere Street

A basket of clothes placed on a gas range caught fire from the pilot light on Tuesday evening in the second floor apartment at 114 Grasmere st., Newton. The house is owned by Charles Foster, who resides on the lower apartment. Henry Mettler and family moved into the upper apartment on Tuesday and someone carelessly placed the clothes basket on the gas range. An alarm was pulled from Box 126 and the fire was extinguished before much damage resulted.

Zoning Law Is Violated at Hovey Street, Newton

Two Codes Are Being Violated by Repair Shop

The zoning ordinance of the City of Newton, as well as other laws are being openly violated at 21 Hovey st., Newton. On this property, which is in a residence zone, is a large frame house and a frame barn. For many years this estate was the home of the late Chester Graves. In recent years it was owned by Miss Katherine R. A. Flood. Miss Flood had a number of opportunities to rent the property for business purposes, but realizing it was in a residence zone, and being a law-abiding woman, she never attempted to make improper use of the property, and she experienced a considerable financial loss on it.

Last year the property went on record as becoming owned by Mrs. Louise Mugar of 15 Bartlett st., Watertown. A couple of weeks ago signs were placed on the property announcing that an automobile repair shop is located there. Not only is this a violation of the zoning ordinance of the city, but it is also a violation of the laws pertaining to garage repair shops. No building can be used for this purpose without a permit being granted by the Board of Aldermen, and as the property is in a residence zone, no permit was granted by the Aldermen. Even though the building were in a business zone, permits would have to be obtained from the Aldermen and the Public Buildings Commissioner before it could be used as a garage repair shop. It is the duty of the Public Buildings Commissioner of Newton to enforce the Zoning Ordinance. Complaints have been made to his office regarding the use which is being made of the property at 21 Hovey st. The assistant to Commissioner Hageman who received one of these complaints yesterday, stated that measures will at once be taken to enforce the law.

Members of the School Committee approved of the exchange of teachers for the coming school year between Newton and Birmingham, England. Under this arrangement Floyd Rinker, a teacher of English at Newton High School, will teach at Birmingham the coming school year, and Noel Cottrell of Birmingham will teach English at Newton High. Arrangements for this exchange resulted from activities of the English Speaking Union.

Transfers of teachers announced were—Winifred Dugale, Rice to Ward school; Madeline Powell, Rice to Hyde school; Marguerite Gay, Cabot to Rice school; Margaret Flanders, Hyde to Cabot school; Agnes Sanborn, Day to Weeks school. It was announced that the city had been reimbursed by the State to the extent of $125,000 for teachers' salaries and expenses of the Trade School, and $3000 for the new equipment recently purchased for the trade school.

Open Corner Stone From Old City Hall

The corner stone from the old city hall at West Newton was removed this week. The copper box enclosed in the stone was opened and included among other articles a copy of the Newton Republican which was later changed in name to the NEWTON GRAPHIC. In the box was the inaugural address delivered in 1874 by Newton's first mayor, James F. C. Hyde. He stressed the need of economy, stating that business was bad, and urged that city expenditures be curbed until times got better. The box was placed in the corner stone on September 25, 1874 by Edwin O. Childs, Senior, who was assistant city clerk.

City Borrows $200,000 From Shawmut National

Short Time Loan Is Secured at Low Interest Rate

The City of Newton, through Francis Newhall, City Treasurer, negotiated a loan of $200,000 in anticipation of taxes, from the Shawmut National Bank of Boston at an interest rate of only .77%. The note is for a period of 132 days and expires on November 6. The rate on the preceding loan was 3%.

Work Progressing On Laundry Brook

The job of building a conduit at Laundry Brook on Jackson rd., Newton, was started Tuesday morning by Richard White Sons of West Newton. About forty men, taken from those on the list of the Newton Welfare Department were placed at work digging a trench through which the water will run while the cement conduit is in process of construction. These men will be paid at the rate of 40 cents per hour and their wages will amount to $12.20 if they receive a full week's work. It is expected that the job will take a couple of months to complete.

Four Diphtheria Cases In Newton

During the past month four cases of diphtheria were reported in this city. One of these resulted fatally; the victim being Daniel Murphy, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murphy of 129 Edinboro st., Newtonville, who died on June 24, after an illness of six weeks. Newton has been quite free from this disease in recent years, and the child was the first resident of the city to die from diphtheria since 1929.

Mayor Weeks to Be a Candidate For Third Term

Issues Announcement That He Will Seek Re-Election

Mayor Sinclair Weeks yesterday issued a statement that he will be a candidate at the city election next December for the office of Mayor of Newton. The Mayor is now serving his second term in this office. He was elected for his first two-year term in December 1929, and re-elected for a second term in December, 1931. His statement reads:

"At the request of many citizens, who have been kind enough to express some degree of confidence in my administration of city affairs, I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of Mayor for the term commencing next January 1st. While I had originally looked forward to retiring from the position at the end of my present term, conditions have been quite different from those anticipated when I first took office in 1930, and I now feel that my task would not be entirely complete unless I stood willing to carry on, for one more term, through the period of reconstruction, with its serious problems, which confronts us today. I shall do this if the voters of the city wish, and will so express themselves at the polls on December 12th next.

"In making this announcement, however, I should like to make clear my belief that the office of Mayor should not be held indefinitely by one individual and that, therefore, under no circumstances shall I, if elected, again be a candidate for this office."

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. P. Gallagher Observe Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Gallagher of 34 Rossmore st., Newtonville, observed their silver wedding anniversary last Friday night at the Odd Fellows clubhouse, Northgate Park, West Newton. Both are life-long residents of Newton and were married on June 23rd, 1908 at Our Lady's Church, Newton. Mr. Gallagher is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Gallagher. Mrs. Gallagher (Anna Morrissey) is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morrissey.

Mr. Gallagher, who was for many years an employee of the Boston post-office, studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1920. In October of last year he was appointed Clerk of the Newton District Court. He has been prominent in fraternal and civic organizations in this city and is president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Over 100 relatives and friends were present at the anniversary observance and Mr. Gallagher were the recipients of many gifts. They were assisted in receiving by their three children—Charles A. Gallagher, and Misses Grace and Alice Gallagher. A mock marriage was held with Mrs. Mary Morrissey Clifford as the groom, Edward P. O'Brien as the bride, John T. Burns as the clergyman, and Daniel J. Gallagher as City Clerk. Vocal solos were given by Joseph Antonelli and an orchestra provided music for dancing. A collation was served.

Newton Teacher Goes to England

Goes as Exchange Teacher To Birmingham High School

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night it was announced that Floyd Rinker, who has been a teacher of English at the Newton High School, will teach English at the Birmingham High School in Birmingham, England. He will serve as exchange teacher under a plan similar to that by which colleges in this country and Europe exchange professors for specified terms. Noel G. Cottrell of the Birmingham High School will teach at Newton High next year. Each teacher will receive his salary from his regular school, but must pay his own traveling expenses.

NEWTON Y TRACK TEAM PLACES 4th IN STATE MEET

Scoring 12 points the Newton Y track team placed fourth in the annual State "Y" track meet which was staged last Saturday at the Newton High track. The championship was won by the defending Lynn team which more than doubled the score of its nearest opponent, Lawrence. The Lynn team totalled 45 points, Lawrence 22, Boston 18, Newton 12, Concord, N. H. 5, Brockton 4, Fall River 3, and Cambridge 1. In the junior events Newton placed third with Brockton romping to victory with 38 points against 17 for the Lynn youngsters and nine for Newton.

Outstanding from a Newton viewpoint in the senior events was Arthur Linthwaite's home stretch sprint at the finish of the half-mile. He came from behind to pass two opponents with a beautiful spurt and was clocked in 2m 4s to equal the record.

Morris of Newton placed third in both the 100 and 220-yard sprints to swell the Newton point total by four more points while Hickin's fourth in the mile run and a third place in the relay by the Newton quartet brought the local score to 12 points.

Fish and Quirk, Newton entries in the junior half-mile, placed second and third for five of the Newton tallies in this division. Burrows of Newton took a third in the high jump and the relay team took a third for the additional points.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

CABOT TENNIS CLUB SEASON HAS OPENED

The Cabot Tennis and Racquet Club has started its second year campaigning on the courts last year, after playing against teams from Maine, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts, the club ran up a total of 13 victories out of 16 matches. This year the club started in a bad fashion losing the first match five to two, but winning the next two 4-3, 6-1. As the season advances the club gains more impetus by using other tennis clubs as stepping stones to a championship New England team. Donald Martin, number one player, has won 38 consecutive matches in the Old Colony League; number two is Lordman Harris, who started his career on the Newton Centre courts and who this year was a semi-finalist in the college training at Longwood; Malcolm Clarke is the number three man who has a devastating back hand; number four proves to be no other than Oscar Jarrell, Harvard's Junior Varsity player; Harry Sylvester, Newton's city finalist is number five; Henry Simon, former Boston Latin star, is six; and seven is Doctor Edward Sawyer, former Harvard tennis and squash player. The second team boasts of Robert Ashley; Walter Taylor, who haunts the Newton High courts; Frank Wetherbee, former Mitchell school all round athlete; Richard Brennan and Victor Haven from the Newton High team; Jackson Skillings, who devotes his time to tennis, hockey, and baseball, and Richard Dunnell, Wesleyan's iron man and Richard Hoyt.

The girls team consists of the Longwood finalists, Eleanor Ciccone and Carolyn Everts, Eileen Geary, Simmons College star; Constance Ober, Lillian Mancini, Barbara Hansen, and Caroline Whitaker.

The boys team consists of Porter Jarrell, Albert Everts, Leo Geary and Willard Babcock.

Anyone who is interested in matches for either of the teams or in trying out please notify Percy Lewis of the Pal Racquet Company, 246 Bellevue st., Newton. Newton North 3817W.

ALUMNI NOTES

Samuel Kerns and Edmund Kneeland received their degrees from Northeastern.

Jacob Canter, graduating last year from Harvard Summa Cum Laude, received his master's degree in Romance Philology.

Sylvia A. Boyd graduated University of Vermont magna cum laude.

Eleanor Phillips received her master's degree and Dora Cummings her bachelor's degree from Wellesley.

Peter J. Albani was in the graduating class of Brown College.

Richard Stebbins of Harvard was admitted to the Phi Beta Kappa.

William Hutchinson graduated from Tufts College.

Eleanor Hodges graduated from Jackson College.

Francis Hamburger graduated with honors in German and also Summa Cum Laude. L. M. Ahern graduated with honors. Herbert Lewis was picked for the Phi Beta Kappa at Bowdoin.

Donald Swett, Bates three-letter man, and president of the Student Council, was tapped for the Bates College Club. This is one of the highest honors to a graduate.

Lillian Wright and Virginia Townsend, Radcliffe's prominent juniors, were on the Baccalaureate committee. Alice E. Bourneau, Radcliffe's outstanding graduate, president of Student Government Association, and Senior Marshal, is also a member of the Phi Beta Kappa. She graduated Magna Cum Laude, Mary Lenox, Jane Herman, Helen McKittick, Marion Hutchinson, Margaret Sutcliffe, Helen Finnerty cum laude in history, and Elisabeth Harrington who is assistant Senior Marshal graduated from Radcliffe. This is the first time that two Newton girls have been Senior Marshal and Assistant Marshal.

Charles Webster graduated Magna Cum Laude from Dartmouth, while Norman Payne graduated cum laude.

The James Dwight Arnold Scholarship was awarded to Silas Phillips; Crawford Ferguson, Henry Newhall, and Charles Wetmore graduated from Exeter.

Barbara West graduated with honors from Bryant & Stratton.

Robert Hunter was the medalist at the Springfield Aviation Golf Tournament.

Dorothy Hunter and Jack Curley won the Harry Ellis Memorial Golf Tournament at the Vesper Country Club.

Clinton Ferguson, a fifteen year old boy from the Warren Junior High, was a participant in the Eastern Outboard Association.

During the past winter, Morgan Memorial was able to furnish work for an average of about 375 different people every day. These jobs are given to the most deserving who have families to support and who have been out of employment for the longest periods.

The Morgan Memorial is asking its friends to make a special effort now and save for it, all of this paper. As soon as an accumulation is made this institution will pick it up and take it to Boston where it will be sorted over and baled by many handicapped and unskilled people who are desperately in need of work. Tel. Hancock 9670.

Wishing Pool Hoards Coin
There is still one spot in the United States where Americans throw their money away. A crystal clear pool in New Mexico may in time be filled with pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters that somebody didn't want. It is the famous wishing well of Carlsbad Caverns, where a coin tossed in the water is supposed to bring enough good luck to last a life time. The tradition was launched a number of years ago, soon after the Caverns were made a national monument, and the bottom of the pool is already well covered with coins. The government makes no effort to recover the money, and the pool seems destined to hold ultimately a young fortune.

Day Jr. High School

On the roof of the Day Junior High School the boys of the mechanical drawing class have placed an airplane marker with the symbol AIA in a 10-foot circle pierced by a 24-foot arrow pointing to the East Boston airport. All the plans were drawn during class periods and the construction work was done by the boys in the school shop. In addition to the marker there is another arrow which points due north.

After the sign had been completed, some of the boys of the Mr. S. E. Polard, their instructor, flew from the East Boston airport over the school to view their handiwork.

Sports Briefs

The All-Boston scholastic baseball team chalked up another win along the path to a mythical championship last week Saturday taking the All-Catholic nine in a free-hitting 12 to 10 game. The week previous the Boston team upset the All-Suburban outfit in a 8-1 game in a knockout tourney which is in progress. This week the Boston team meets the Mystic league nine which won from the Middlesex all-league team in the other division of the competition. Capt. Charlie Gallagher, Billy O'Connell and Louis Tabaldi of Our Lady High's team and Leo Bouzan of Sacred Heart High played for the Catholic league team. Gallagher was at third base and O'Connell in the outfield. Tabaldi and Bouzan played as shortstops. Newton girls have played a prominent part in the tennis tournaments at Longwood this week. In the younger girls' tourney the final match yesterday became an all-Newton affair with Elena Ciccone of Newton Centre and Caroline Everts of Newtonville opposing each other. The Newton Centre girls won in straight sets 6-4, 6-2 after a hard fought battle in the first set. Miss Everts won from Helen Eyre of Brookline in the quarter-final round and from Ruth Bernard of Winchester with the loss of but five games in the four sets played. Miss Ciccone had an even better record in the quarter-finals in straight sets from Katherine Gilbert of Winchester in the quarter-finals and from Ruth Carter of Malden in the semi-finals with the loss of but two games. In the semi-final match the Malden girl was defeated in love sets. In the younger girls' doubles Mary Glover of Newtonville and her partner Gene MacDonald of Winchester won their first round match on Wednesday in the three-set battle with Nancy Ware of Westwood and Beth Cunningham of Milton. The Glover-MacDonald team won their second round match on Wednesday. Miss Everts and Miss Ciccone will doubtless figure prominently in the doubles play as well but on account of their final singles match have yet to play. In the younger boys' tourney Thomas Slattery of Newton Centre lost his third round match to Harry Thompson of Arlington. In the junior doubles Bob Ashley and Jackson Skillings eliminated their fellow Newtonians, Willard Babcock and Basil Ridgway in a third round match. Ted Cobb and Dick Frasier won their second round match to move up a notch. In the younger boys' doubles Porter Jarrell and Curtis McDowell lost to the other Newton team of the Everts, Albert and William in a second round match. The Everts team is the only Newton team surviving as Albert Chandler and Tom Slattery went out in the second round. The mixed doubles in both classes have just begun with the Newton players coming through in the first round. In the girls' doubles Elena Ciccone and Caroline Everts began their semi final round match against Isabell Cunningham and Elizabeth Mills of Milton yesterday but after taking a 5 to 1 lead in the first set Miss Ciccone, having already played her singles match against Miss Everts, had to leave the court. The match will be continued today. A victory for the Newton team will bring them against Ruth Bernard and Betty Gilbert of Winchester in the final round. The Winchester pair put out Mary Glover of Newtonville and Gene MacDonald of Winchester in a three set match 7-5, 4-6, 7-5. In the junior singles Al Everts won his third round match but was eliminated by young John Palfrey, brother of the noted Palfrey sisters, in his match yesterday. Virginia Rice was eliminated from the Wimbledon women's singles tournament by Frueline von Deplagner of Germany. Miss Rice drew a bye in the first round before meeting the German who won in straight sets of 6-4, 6-4. Milan Heath, captain-elect of the Harvard tennis team, failed to qualify in the preliminary round of the college golf tourney this week.

Police News

John Prendergast of 66 Webster st., West Newton, was in the Newton court last Friday charged with stealing an automobile and with driving after his license had been revoked. He took a car owned by Donald Hill, Jr., of Waban, and abandoned it in Waltham. On the first charge he was sentenced to serve two months in jail; on the second charge he was fined $50.

Roger McBride of 93 Ash st., Waltham, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Allen for driving a car after his license had been revoked. The judge then suspended the payment of the fine. In court the same day Harry Kemp, Jr., of Holbrook was charged with driving under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until July 3. Amos Samuda of Boston was fined $5 for driving by a red traffic signal and $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by Patrolman Cummings.

Complaints have been made about autoists not heeding the STOP sign at Washington and Beacon sts., Newton Lower Falls, near the Newton Hospital. This is a dangerous corner and a number of accidents have occurred there. So, over the weekend, Patrolman Frank Munroe gave special attention to this place and on Monday he was the complainant in the Newton court against ten autoists who entered Washington st. without stopping. Judge Lloyd Allen was on the bench and placed all these cases on file; commenting that those found guilty should not be required to pay a fine for such a small offense.

A fine of $10 was imposed on John Harrington of 31 Bennington st., Newton, by Judge Weston in the Newton court yesterday. Harrington was not in court. He was represented by his wife, who stated her husband was on his vacation. Traffic Officer Dowling testified that Harrington drove a car at a rate of 50 miles an hour along Washington st. Mrs. Harrington paid the fine. Other "speeders" fined $10 each included Elmer Helgeson of St. James st., Newton; Dorothy Guy, Belmont; Benjamin Wharton, Lincoln; Clayton Colcord, Belmont.

MORGAN MEMORIAL TURNS WASTE PAPER INTO JOBS

One of the ways in which Morgan Memorial can continue to give employment to hundreds of different people every day in its workshops at 89 Shawmut ave., in Boston, is through the sorting, packing and baling of books, magazines, newspapers and waste papers such as cardboard and wrapping paper.

During the past winter, Morgan Memorial was able to furnish work for an average of about 375 different people every day. These jobs are given to the most deserving who have families to support and who have been out of employment for the longest periods.

The Morgan Memorial is asking its friends to make a special effort now and save for it, all of this paper. As soon as an accumulation is made this institution will pick it up and take it to Boston where it will be sorted over and baled by many handicapped and unskilled people who are desperately in need of work. ### Kangaroos Live in Trees

The Australian National museum has specimens of a kangaroo that lives in trees. Its habitat is the dense forest of northeast Queensland. The animal probably has developed the habit of making its home in trees because of the density of the jungle and the absence of food on the ground. These kangaroos have larger and stronger forelegs than the ordinary Australian kangaroo; their hind legs are smaller and their tails longer. They can jump from great heights, land upright on their feet, and, runs one description in the press, "hop off without even the merest grunt of complaint." They run up a rope like sailors and slide down tails first with incredible facility.—Detroit Free Press.

Kiwanis Club

Howard C. Raymond, manager of the Industrial Aid Society of Boston, spoke at the Kiwanis Tuesday noon luncheon, June 27, at the Charles River Country Club.

Mr. Raymond's subject was "Homeless Sees Them." He spoke both as manager of the Industrial Aid Society, one of Boston's oldest relief agencies, and the chief case working agency with homeless men, and also as Director of the Central Application Bureau for Homeless Men, Boston's latest and co-operative effort at dealing with the homeless men problem.

He spoke of the army of young homeless men estimated as a quarter to a half a million in the United States as having homes to which many could be restored by individual attention. Mr. Raymond pleaded for an adequate family relief budget as the greatest preventive measure which can be taken. He deplored a system of aid unaccompanied by attempts at understanding, individualized service.

The traits which lead to homelessness on the part of boys were pointed out by Mr. Raymond as often of themselves admirable ones; the search for work, the unwillingness to be a burden to their families, the seeking of adventure and the desire to be independent.

Mr. Raymond attempted to show that this army of homeless boys throughout the country was composed of individuals presenting different needs, backgrounds and problems, and that by consideration of them as individuals, accompanied by a real personal interest, much could be done to save these young men from becoming chronic dependents. Mr. Raymond attempted to illustrate it by actual young men whom he had known where the provision of adequate relief and a job had made the young man (often times with court records), a self-respecting, self-supporting man. The hope was expressed by Mr. Raymond that the principle of Government Civilian Conservation Camps be extended with greater emphasis on the possibility of helping the boys, and less upon reducing public relief expenditures.

That the Kiwanis all over the country has always been interested in under privileged youth and the fact that the subject occupies considerable thought on the part of the public at the present time, made the talk timely and of interest.

Police News

John Prendergast of 66 Webster st., West Newton, was in the Newton court last Friday charged with stealing an automobile and with driving after his license had been revoked. He took a car owned by Donald Hill, Jr., of Waban, and abandoned it in Waltham. On the first charge he was sentenced to serve two months in jail; on the second charge he was fined $50.

Roger McBride of 93 Ash st., Waltham, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday by Judge Allen for driving a car after his license had been revoked. The judge then suspended the payment of the fine. In court the same day Harry Kemp, Jr., of Holbrook was charged with driving under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until July 3. Amos Samuda of Boston was fined $5 for driving by a red traffic signal and $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so by Patrolman Cummings.

Complaints have been made about autoists not heeding the STOP sign at Washington and Beacon sts., Newton Lower Falls, near the Newton Hospital. This is a dangerous corner and a number of accidents have occurred there. So, over the weekend, Patrolman Frank Munroe gave special attention to this place and on Monday he was the complainant in the Newton court against ten autoists who entered Washington st. without stopping. Judge Lloyd Allen was on the bench and placed all these cases on file; commenting that those found guilty should not be required to pay a fine for such a small offense.

A fine of $10 was imposed on John Harrington of 31 Bennington st., Newton, by Judge Weston in the Newton court yesterday. Harrington was not in court. He was represented by his wife, who stated her husband was on his vacation. Traffic Officer Dowling testified that Harrington drove a car at a rate of 50 miles an hour along Washington st. Mrs. Harrington paid the fine. Other "speeders" fined $10 each included Elmer Helgeson of St. James st., Newton; Dorothy Guy, Belmont; Benjamin Wharton, Lincoln; Clayton Colcord, Belmont.

Kangaroos Live in Trees

The Australian National museum has specimens of a kangaroo that lives in trees. Its habitat is the dense forest of northeast Queensland. The animal probably has developed the habit of making its home in trees because of the density of the jungle and the absence of food on the ground. These kangaroos have larger and stronger forelegs than the ordinary Australian kangaroo; their hind legs are smaller and their tails longer. They can jump from great heights, land upright on their feet, and, runs one description in the press, "hop off without even the merest grunt of complaint." They run up a rope like sailors and slide down tails first with incredible facility.—Detroit Free Press.

5 of the first 12 winners at Indianapolis were STUDEBAKERS

And 7 of the first 12 were Studebaker powered! Only 14 of 42 entries finished fastest 500 mile race in Speedway history!

FIVE 85% stock Studebakers, factory-built and only slightly modified in a few details to conform with Speedway requirements, more than held their own in this fastest of all the classic 500-mile Memorial Day races.

Seven of the 14 cars to finish were Studebaker powered . . . and not a repair was made to any one of the cars in the team of 5 that was openly and frankly entered by the Studebaker factory! This is the first time in racing history where a 5-car team was entered, that all 5 cars finished the race!

No other car you can buy will ever get the punishment these 5 factory-built Studebakers were subjected to. And you'll find their companions in stamina and brilliant performance in any of the new Automatic Studebakers—the best-built, best-looking cars in Studebaker history.

George West Jr. Dies In Car Crash

Fatally Injured on Monday
When Car Overtakes

George West, Jr. of 222 Chestnut Hill road, Chestnut Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. West was fatally injured on Monday at Westminister when the automobile in which he was a passenger, skidded on the State road and overturned. Young West, who was 17 years of age was a student at Groton School, and in company with James Danielson, 18, of Groton, a classmate, was enroute to the fair at Chicago. Young Danielson was driving the car. Passing motorists picked up the two injured youths and rushed them to the Heywood Memorial Hospital at Gardner where West died of a fractured skull shortly after reaching there. His funeral service was held on Wednesday at the First Unitarian Church, Chestnut Hill. It was conducted by Rev. Endicott Peabody, headmaster of Groton School, assisted by Rev. Daniel Fenn, pastor of the church.

DENNIS QUINLAN

Dennis Quinlan of 6 Colonial ave., Newtonville, died on June 23. He was born in Taunton 60 years ago and had resided in this city for 50 years. Mr. Quinlan had been a carpenter by occupation. He served during the Spanish War in Cuba; in the Philippines, where he was a sergeant in the 26th Infantry; and in China during the Boxer rebellion. During the World War he served in the Naval Aviation Corps as a chief rigger. In this service he was seriously injured in an airplane crash and suffered a fractured spine, which caused him to be disabled for the past eleven years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bridget Quinlan; and three children, William J. and Miss Katherine L. Quinlan of Newtonville; and Mrs. Margaret Westmark of Arlington. His funeral service was held Monday morning at Our Lady's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, where military honors were accorded.

MRS. EDNA GASSETT

Mrs. Edna M. Gassett of 37 Montfort rd., Newton Highlands, wife of Harry B. Gassett, died on June 24. She was born in Athol 45 years ago and resided in this city for 18 years. She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Eleanor Gassett; and her mother, Mrs. Caroline Niles. Her funeral services were held on Monday at her late home; Rev. Ben Roberts officiated. Burial was at Athol.

DANIEL MURPHY, JR.

Daniel Murphy, Jr., son of Daniel P. and Grace (Purdon) Murphy of 129 Edinboro st., Newtonville, died on June 24th, following a week's illness with diphtheria. A treacherous operation was performed in a vain effort to save the boy's life. Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother and a sister. His funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at his late home. Prayers were read by Rev. Daniel Riordan. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

MISS ALICE R. WESTON

Miss Alice Rebecca Weston, for the past ten years a resident at the Stone Institute for Aged People, Newton Upper Falls, died at the home on Tuesday evening, June 27. Miss Weston was born in Salem, Mass., and for many years was a resident of Boston. She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Paul Revere Knight of Newtonville. Funeral services were held from the Stone Institute on Thursday morning at 10:30 a. m., conducted by the Rev. G. Vaughan Shedd, pastor of the First M. E. Church. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

It was stated that the jewels taken by the burglar were in a case which was hidden behind a picture. It was reported that a pocketbook containing $20 was also stolen.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR FALL IN DITCH

A claim has been made against the City of Newton by Melvin McLeod, whose address is not stated, injuries received when he fell into a trench on Boylston st. on May 30. McLeod's attorney claims that his client fell into a trench dug for a water main when he walked on planks over the trench. The planks, it is alleged, were not securely fastened.

American Red Cross

Safety Pointers for the Summer Vacation

SUNBURN—Dangerous. Acquire tan gradually. Avoid mid-day rays. Graduate the period of exposure a few minutes each day until skin is toughened and tanned. Until such time make a practice of wearing a shirt, bathrobe or other covering at beach except when actually in water. Calamine lotion gives considerable relief and may be safely applied to the skin several times a day. Especially avoid a burn upon a burn. Cocoa butter or olive oil applied before exposure prevent a burn.

SWIMMING—Know your bathing place. Explore thoroughly for hidden rocks, holes and glass—but not with your bare feet. Never swim alone—swimming in twos is more fun and far safer. Never dive in less than six feet of water, and make allowances for changes in tide-water depths. Always wait at least two hours after eating before entering the water.

DRINKING WATER—Take no chances. If in the least doubt as to purity, boil. In some states, health department signs posted at springs and other sources indicate whether the water is fit or unfit for human consumption.

FOOD—Food poisoning is of frequent occurrence in the warm months, due to the rapidity with which food spoils. Prepare small amounts at a time. Chicken, fish and potatoes are particularly likely to make one ill, if not properly refrigerated. Protect from possible contamination. Do not eat excessively or when overheated. FIRE—Always be ready to quench the embers before retiring or leaving the camp site.

POISON IVY—Learn to recognize this plant, and then carefully avoid it. Ivy, oak and sumac poisoning are caused by an irritating oil present on the leaves. Poisoning results readily from contact with smoke from the burning leaves. The skin should be washed immediately and thoroughly with warm water and laundry soap. If poisoning occurs anyway, apply calamine lotion, or a solution of ferric chloride. Another good treatment is the application of dressings wet with a solution of Epsom salts, as strong as can be made with cold water; keep dressings wet. If at all severe, consult a physician.

INSECTS—Flowers of sulphur applied to the skin helps to prevent chigger bites. Mosquitoes may be kept away for a couple of hours by rubbing a few drops of oil of lavender over the exposed surfaces—but this does not take the place of adequate screening or netting. The itching can be relieved by applying calamine lotion several times daily. Inflammation from other insect bites can be relieved by applying compresses wet with Epsom salts or baking soda solutions.

FIRST AID KIT—Keep stocked and conveniently at hand in fishing kit, automobile or kitchen. Cuts and abrasions are among the commonest of vacation accidents. Small wounds should be given prompt attention. Apply half-strength tincture of iodine to wounds, allow to dry, and apply a sterile dressing.

DRIVING—Have a thorough mechanical inspection of the car before starting on the trip. Drive carefully and give heed to speed limits and official road signs.

Remember that a regard for the safety and welfare of self and others is the first rule of good sportsmanship.

Swimming and life saving instruction have already begun at Crystal Lake. For information about classes talk with the Red Cross instructor or call the Red Cross office Newton North 2717.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Seasonal table decorations were a leading feature in the annual luncheon and business meeting of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church, June 21. A table for each month held something suggestive for its identity and guests were seated according to their birth months. Each month was well represented from January ushering in 1933 out of a clock marking the midnight hour to December with tiny white Christmas trees and other Yuletide suggestions. September, with the little red school house in which teacher and pupils were visible was perhaps the most original. The whole scheme showed what Mrs. Frederick W. Ben net, chairman of decorations, can do with crepe paper. Mrs. Melvin C. Clay and her committee served the luncheon.

The business meeting was opened with devotions conducted by Mrs. Mary E. Soden. Miss Mary Jane Rallsback, daughter of the Association president, Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, delighted the guests with two piano solos. Slight changes were made in the constitution and by-law and the following officers and chairmen were elected: Honorary President, Mrs. Mary E. Soden; President, Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback; First Vice-President, Mrs. William H. Timble; Second Vice-President, Mrs. William T. Taylor; Third Vice-President, Mrs. Melvin C. Clay; Fourth Vice-President, Mrs. Valdemar A. Nielsen; Recording Secretary, Mrs. John S. Olcott; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. George W. Taylor; Treasurer, Mrs. Alan J. MacQuarrie; Auditor, Mrs. Walter H. Stevens; Chairman of Committees: Courtesy, Mrs. Carl H. Stange; Finance, Mrs. Howard C. Thomas; Program, Mrs. Carl S. Ell; Publicity, Mrs. Robert V. Spencer; House, Mrs. Elena G. Spaulding; Nominating, Mrs. Frank A. Morahan; Group Chairman: Group I, Mrs. William E. Halliday and Mrs. Frank E. Morris; Group II, Mrs. Herbert L. ## Vacation Bible Schools Open Next Week

NEWTONVILLE

The Newtonville Vacation Bible School will open under the auspices of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education on Wednesday, July 5 at 9 o'clock. The school will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The school will be open to all children between the ages of 6 and 12 years from nine to twelve each week day morning except Saturday. For kindergarten children there will be singing exercises, paper cutting, and story play. For primary children there will be a "counting God's gifts" working together, making posters and singing. For Juniors there will be traveling, including a visit to Jesus' home, story acting and hand work. For all there will be learning the Bible, a picnic at the close, seeing the movies and plenty of play.

The school will be under the general supervision of Mr. Everett Johnson assisted by the following staff of trained teachers: primary grades, Virginia Cameron, Doris Easton and Margery Buchanan. In charge of junior classes: Madeline Doggett, Dorothy Kennison, Frank Batstone and Mr. Johnson.

VACATION SCHOOL AT NEWTON CENTRE

The preparations for the Newton Centre Vacation School, which is to be held on the campus of the Andover-Newton Theological School, Institution ave., are nearing completion. The teachers have been holding a two-day conference. The school is directed by Walter B. Lounsbury, Miss Lola A. White is supervisor of kindergarten work. Mrs. Walter B. Lounsbury, supervisor of the primary work, Mrs. F. W. Swindells is conducting an "Around-the-World" course, Miss Esther Winslow is supervising primary teaching. The teachers are: Miss Rosemary Abrey, Miss Marjorie Gould, Miss Clara Cummings, Miss Lois Hartwell, Mrs. E. S. Palmer, Miss Sally Lawrence, Miss Carol Bloom, Mrs. S. T. Drew, Miss Helen Boyd, Miss Jane Riley, Mr. Allen Worley, Mr. Robert Fall.

This year the Theological School has opened Colby Hall for the use of the Vacation School. The fine campus lends itself for outdoor class work and recreation which is beneficial to the children.

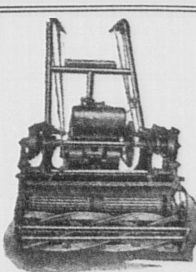

A new feature this year is a class in swimming which will be offered certain afternoons of the week. This has been arranged through the co-operation of Mr. Herman, Newton's playground supervisor.

The Vacation School begins July 2nd, and is held every morning, except Saturday and Sunday, from 9 to 11:45. Children between the ages of 4 and 11 will be admitted.

TAKING THE INITIATIVE

Our editorial last week regarding the conditions being created by the operations of sand and gravel concerns in Newton has brought forth a letter from Mr. Kellaway of the Planning Board which we are glad to publish. We will go even further and suggest that the initiative in preparing specific recommendations controlling this situation should be taken by the planning board itself. One of the chief functions of any planning board, as we see it, is to plan for the future development of the community. The suggestion is made that the planning board would probably act if convinced of sufficient local interest and protest at present conditions. Residents of Lower Falls have complained at conditions there, neighboring residents of other "eyesores" would add their voices to those already being heard at the prospects of action. For the good of Newton of twenty, thirty or fifty years from now, action should be taken now.

ROTARY AS A HOST

Rotary International this week came to Boston. Boston Rotarians, many of whom are residents of Newton, and in fact all of the Rotary Clubs of New England, served as hosts to several thousands of visitors from all over the United States and many foreign countries. Boston has proved a good host. Many favorable comments to this effect have been made by these visitors. It has been a pleasure to local Rotarians to receive their fellow members of Rotary International. However, we cannot let this opportunity go by to say that a great share of the success of the convention and its features has been due to the aid and co-operation of the Newton residents who hold membership in the Boston Rotary Club. All have shown themselves to be true Rotarians.

A THIRD TERM

Mayor Weeks has announced his candidacy for a third term as chief executive of the city. This is the first definite news of the approaching political campaign which will wind up next December at the city election. In his announcement Mayor Weeks indicates that he feels that he has a task before him through the period of reconstruction ahead and that he would like to finish the job. It is a worthy intention and one angle to the situation which should be given due consideration.

ENCROACHMENT ON ZONING LAWS

There is a noticeable encroachment upon the restrictions of our zoning laws. Here and there, throughout the city, one can note technical violations, some unwittingly and perhaps unknowingly, in various ways. This is quite commonly one of the little evils that grow to major size before it is even realized that there is any danger from their presence. An attempt should be made to halt this practice at once.

FOURTH OF JULY

Fourth of July has a deep significance to citizens of the United States of America. Next Tuesday let's be independent, but let us also remember that the other fellow has rights. Let's celebrate the occasion properly, but let's have it safe and sane.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

For years store owners and other business men in this city have given themselves and their employees Wednesday afternoons off during July and August, and in some years—June. This year it was intended to start these half-holidays on June 28. Signs to this effect were posted in windows of chain grocery stores and markets at Newton, and similar signs were printed by the Newton Business Associates, an organization comprised of local business men. On Tuesday morning there appeared in Boston newspapers advertisements of one of the largest (if not the largest) chain store companies, stating that its stores would be open Wednesday afternoon, as usual. This, despite the fact that this company had agreed to close its stores in this city on that afternoon. The writer, in his capacity as secretary of the Newton Business Associates, telephoned the main office in Boston of this company and asked to be connected on the phone with the executive of this company for this area, who happens to be a resident of this city.

We asked him to adhere to the statement made on the signs which had been displayed in the stores he controls, to the effect that these stores would close on Wednesday afternoon. We said the stores of the competing chains would close. If the stores of his company would close. The alleged reason he gave for not adhering to the custom of Wednesday afternoon closing was—"We have been requested by the public to keep our stores open." We inquired—"Through what agency did the public manifest this desire to you?" Then he said—"The managers of our stores want to have them kept open." We answered—"This is quite different from the reaction we have received from your managers." He then shifted to a different line and said—"The independent stores will not close." We replied—"The independent stores desire to close Wednesday afternoons."

Owners and employees of stores, must, in most cases work Saturday afternoons and evenings. They are deprived of the opportunity for half-holidays enjoyed on Saturdays for many years by most workers. The least they are entitled to is a half holiday each week during a couple of months of hot, summer weather. Any person who is fair-minded believes workers in stores should obtain this little boon. It certainly is in line with the "new deal" program which President Roosevelt is trying to bring about. But, the grasping attitude evidenced by executives of certain chain store organizations, the fear that they may lose a few dollars' worth of business, cause them to refuse to co-operate in the movement to accord a little joy in life to the class of workers affected. And then such individuals come out with their "new deal" attitude toward their stores because of their alleged great consideration for the public. And they boast that they give their employees a week's vacation instead. Well, the independent store owners (who can possibly do so), give their employees a generous attitude toward their stores. And unlike some of the self-proclaimed philanthropic chain store companies, they pay their employees for such vacations. It is interesting to observe individuals who pose as being solicitous and big-hearted, who refuse to close their stores on small opportunities for a little enjoyment in life.

In the final analysis who is really to blame? Isn't it those persons who do not trade with merchants and other employers of labor who display a generous attitude toward their employees, who co-operate in trying to make this world a improved place in which to live.

If you want to see a playground where a large area of grass has been needlessly ruined, take a look at Victory Field on California st., Newton. Where a carnival was permitted to hold forth last week. We shall have more to say on this matter next week.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY

John T. Burns & Sons report that they have sold for Willis E. Fellows his new brick and frame Colonial residence located at 76 Cotton st., on the Mellus Estate in the Chestnut Hill district. This house, just completed, contains nine rooms, three baths, extra first floor lavatory, and together with 10,000 square feet of land, is valued at $18,000. Marion F. Root of Arlington was the purchaser and will occupy as a home.

In the Newton Centre district Burns & Sons have sold for Mary Duncan the new Colonial house located at 55 Green lawn ave. This house, which contains seven rooms and two tiled baths, sun parlor, screened veranda and built in garage, together with 8,000 square feet of land, is valued at $11,000. Gertrude B. Triguers purchased for a home and will occupy at once.

In the Newton Centre district they have also sold a lot of land on Green lawn ave. containing 8,100 square feet for Joseph B. Goodman to William Fraser. Mr. Fraser will start immediately the erection of a single Colonial residence. The lot is valued at $2,000.

SCHOOL CHATS

An authoritative article each week covering important and interesting phases of public school organization and activity. Prepared under the direction of the School Department.

THE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

In concluding this series of articles on the junior high school, it is quite appropriate to give a summary of the general viewpoint about this institution with an outline of its characteristics and purposes.

Questions frequently asked by the public are: What are the advantages and arguments for the junior high school? In what respect is it supposed to do work that is different from the high school or the elementary school? What are the desirable accomplishments of the junior high school?

After ten years we can state some of these and indicate others. The one vital need of the world today is leadership. We have been wrenched from our old moorings and we have found no new ones or competent pilots to save us from disaster. To develop this leadership is the major task of the junior high school, and no one familiar with its work can seriously question that it is meeting this task with substantial success.

In the junior high school responsibility is increasingly placed upon the individual shoulders of the pupils, and the response of these junior high school youths gives us confidence in our future. As stated in the first of this series of articles the junior high school is America's answer to the amazing challenge of our modern life.

The people of Newton will, I think, be interested in the opinions of people upon whose opinions they rely and respect, but who are not connected in any official capacity with the junior high school organization.

Mr. Paul E. Ellicker, principal of the Newton High School, which has been receiving junior high school pupils for ten years, says: "The junior high school has more thoroughly democratized our school system by extending and equalizing educational opportunities. This has been effected through the retention of pupils, and more particularly through the economy of time for all by avoiding the tiresome extension and repetition of the common branches as formerly in the 8-4 plan. Here is a school designed to give particular consideration to the nature of the adolescent, recognizing his capacities, abilities and aptitudes, and through a self-exploratory period, to give guidance for greater specialization in the senior high school. This most important phase of education has been developed and promoted through the junior high school organization."

Miss Cora E. Riley, the visiting teacher and head of the Guidance Department in the Newton High School, states: "I believe that in Newton the junior high school plan contributes to that well-rounded development upon which the child's future success is built. I have observed and studied groups of children who have entered our senior high school after completing the traditional eighth grade grammar school course, and other groups admitted to the tenth grade upon completion of the junior high school. The latter plan has decided advantages, for the transition is more easily effected."

A citizen of Newton, not an educator himself, but a keen and competent critic, wrote:

"We must all of us remember that the school should be studied in the light of its essential function and that function is as I see it 'preparation for complete living'. The school must discover Life to the boy and girl. Its business is in the realm of revelation."

The school doesn't offer mere cut and dried information and a routine methodology. It seeks to free each pupil from everything that would check his touch with reality, from everything that would keep him free from a frank facing of facts, from everything that might interfere with his fullest and finest expression of his own individual genius.

To my mind the junior high school is the real corner stone of the modern educational structure. The theory and ideal of freedom in the discovery and expression of personality will stand or fall with the efficiency of the work done in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

If, in these years, the boy and girl can be brought to know what truth is, and how it is to be found and followed, there will be little trouble in the senior period and in college. The crux of the task of education is to encourage young people to know reality when they see it, and to discover in terms of their own experience, not from the point of view of the maturer mind, just what is real and vital in truth.

I will agree that it is a perilous path, but do you know any path to the heights that is easy? Some may falter by the way-side, some may stumble, some may give up in utter discouragement, and these will require special attention and expert guidance; but for the majority the path will lead to a sense of real freedom and ease in the mastery of life's tasks. I would have every school do this. Knock out every prop upon which the mind has been leaning, and make the mind discover its own support in the truth that makes free.

Now, may I ask you to face some of the practical implications of this point of view. What does this all mean, when applied to the business of school administration in Newton?

It means, in the first place, that we must be prepared to spend more money upon our schools. This sort of program calls for the use of word in building construction, it demands an elaborate equipment, it makes demands upon the cost of training, and I have no sympathy with attacks upon the cost of education in a city like Newton, unless it can be shown that there has been some form of petty graft in the building enterprises, or that the city is not getting an adequate return for the money invested. I shall always be a poor man but I shall never protest an increase in taxation which gives our children a better chance to find themselves than I had in the public schools of forty years ago, when I began in the first grade.

If the school is to help the child develop its own aptitudes, you must have rather extensive machinery. There must be tentative experiments in hand work of various types, there must be expressional opportunities in clubs which minister to a wide range of activities, there must be contact with different aspects of educational procedure, classical, technical, general training, commercial, vocational. I am speaking, of course, of secondary education. The problem of elementary education is quite different and ought to be more simple. But the fact remains that if you put all the children of all the people through just one hopper, you have a curious and tragic grist, and if you have many hoppers, they cost money. We should pay the bill gladly if there is no misuse of funds.

We cannot turn the clock back. Public education in the United States is moving forward. Private schools, in the field of secondary education, stand in proportion to the population just where they stood in 1890. There were in 1890 just about 2500 high schools, now there are more than 14,000. Then, there were about 300,000 pupils, now there are more than 2,000,000 in the high schools alone. Thirty-three years ago, attendance at the private secondary schools stood at 1.5 pupils per thousand of the total population, and that is just where it stands today. On the other hand the attendance at public high schools has grown from 3.2 to 17 pupils per thousand, and it was felt that although in this extension of influence we have tapped the lower social levels, there is but one duty, to offer the opportunity to all no matter what the cost. That is the spirit of America."

In bringing his series of articles to a conclusion may we again remind those of you who have had the patience and the interest to read this series to the end, that

The junior high school is endeavoring to provide "Education for all the children of all the people" children who are to live in a world vastly different from the world in which you and I were reared.

What lies beyond the horizon we can only dimly see or imagine. We feel confident that there will be fewer hours of work and more hours of leisure for the generation now in school than has been true of any in the past; that if our civilization is to succeed and carry on, we must, to a much greater extent than in the past, be prepared to be "our brother's keeper", and live and be animated more by the spirit of "Service" than the spirit of "Get."

People must live together in friendly, neighborly, helpful relationships with all the peoples of the world, and in this spirit the junior high school is carrying forward its task.

Under The Gilded Dome

The week at the State House was opened Monday noon time with the calling together of the Constitutional Convention to act upon the ratification of the amendment repealing prohibition. The entire matter took but 55 minutes time with Governor Ely presiding until B. Loring Young of Weston was elected president of the convention. As the roll of delegates was called by Secretary of State Cook it became apparent that Mr. Young was elected and Mrs. Lovett, another candidate for the office, moved that the election of Mr. Young be made unanimous. Mr. Young then took the chair and after necessary routine business had been accomplished the roll was called on the amendment and the convention then adjourned.

One of the most important measures of the current legislative session was passed to be enacted yesterday in both branches and sent by messenger to the Governor at his home in Westfield. The bill is that authorizing the State to sell $30,000,000 of its bonds and loan the proceeds to the municipalities which are in financial distress. The measure provides for a 6 per cent tax on dividends of Massachusetts corporations the revenue from which will repay the sum borrowed. This tax will be in effect for three years and is expected to yield between twenty and twenty three millions of dollars. The balance of the money will be received from the Federal government under the terms of the Wagner-Lewis bill, formerly the Costigan bill.

Governor Ely received the bill but delayed signing it in order to study amendments to it. It is not believed that he will veto the bill but it is felt that he may recommend certain changes in it. The provision in the bill which may be necessary to change is that which states that money which comes to the Commonwealth from the Federal grant would have to be applied to loans made to municipalities under the borrowing bill. The Governor said that this really eliminates the advantages of the Federal aid this provision contained in it. The bill was passed to be enacted by the Senate on a roll-call vote of 26 to 2 and in the House by a vote of 190 to 1. Rep. Charles Innes of Boston was the only one to vote against it.

Earlier in the week Governor Ely vetoed three measures and was upheld on two of them and overruled on the third. The Senate upheld the Governor veto on a bill requiring licensing of cleaners and dyers by local municipalities. The House voted to override the Governor on his veto of a bill abolishing educational requirements in certain cases of civil service examinations. The Senate on Thursday voted to uphold the Governor and the bill is killed unless a motion to reconsider at next Wednesday's session of the Senate prevails. The third gubernatorial veto was on a bill reimbursing a State employee for damages in an automobile accident. Wednesday the House voted to uphold the Governor but yesterday reversed itself and voted 172 to 11 to pass the bill.

The attempt by Rep. Martin Hays of Brighton to bring the Judge Stone matter before the House again failed on Tuesday. After a hearing on the Hays' order which would have the Attorney General call a special session of the Grand Jury to consider the testimony taken at the hearing before the House committee on the Judiciary the past spring and also to put the same evidence before the Middlesex Bar Association. The House Rules committee voted adversely on the matter. The report of the Rules committee came up for debate in the House on Tuesday at which time Rep. Hays offered a substitute order which eliminated that part of the previous order relating to the consideration of the case by the Attorney General and the Grand Jury and sought only to place the evidence before the Middlesex Bar Association. On a roll-call vote of 81 to 113 the Hays' order was killed. Newton's three Representatives, Baker, Brimblecom and Luitwieler voted against the order.

The Senate had a lengthy debate early this week on the bill which temporarily increases the membership of the Board of Tax Appeals to five instead of three members and which also makes certain changes relative to the procedure of cases before that board. After considerable argument in which attempts were made to entirely abolish the Board the bill was passed. One of the important changes made in the bill was one which permits the board to decide increases as well as reductions in the amount of assessment appealed from by the aggrieved taxpayer.

The resolve appropriating $15,000 to send the Gloucester fishing schooner, Gertrude Thebaud, to the World's Fair at Chicago was passed to be engrossed by the House yesterday. The resolve was based upon a recommendation of the Governor in a recent message. It will be acted upon in the Senate next Wednesday.

The Governor signed several bills this week among which was a bill aimed at the so-called "road hog." This bill requires the driver of the leading vehicle of two travelling in the same direction to allow the following vehicle to pass. If the road is sufficiently wide, without unnecessarily obstructing the following vehicle.

Another bill which is before the Governor for his signature and which it is expected that he will sign promptly is one permitting the payment of local tax bills in installments. The bill will become effective on July 1st of this year and it is believed will result in making it unnecessary for municipalities to borrow as much money as formerly in anticipation of tax revenue.

Tuesday noon the Governor, Pres. Fish of the Senate, and Speaker Saltonstall of the House, were in conference after which the Governor was asked by reporters if the conference related to prorogation. The Governor replied that he saw no prospect of prorogation until the Legislature did some work. The reference was undoubtedly to the borrowing bill which

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor,

Your editorial in regard to the gravel pits in the City of Newton in the last issue is well taken and is to the point. Newton is planned for a residential city and such is the zoning ordinance and planned therefor upon the map. Yet here and there we have the business of selling loam and sand and gravel from areas adjacent to the homes of enterprising people. This is a source of worryment as well as the reduction of values of the home owner. Who can sell a piece of property next to a gravel pit except under forced sale or at a great loss.

The zoning ordinance at present does not include the land but the buildings upon the land. A way out would be to zone the land and then the use of the land could be properly regulated. This would be the best move to make and so get proper legislative authority behind such restrictions and give to the city officials some ground for their efforts to control the situation.

What does the City of Newton get out of such practices by outsiders coming to exploit a parcel of land they have secured from some unfortunate individual. First they strip the land of all loam or topsoil, then the gravel and sand are the next move with the result that the remainder is a desert with not even an oasis in it to relieve the mess. As time goes on the resulting income to the city is reduced as the land values decrease. Finally the property is abandoned and then the city is forced to take by tax sale property that is practically of no value.

Look at the big hole near the Newton Hospital as well as others just a mine of sand and dust left for the enjoyment of the passers by or out of town people and the discomfort of the neighbors. As you say in your editorial, something should be done about it. The first move is to get a little public sentiment against such practices, as you are doing in mentioning it. Let the good work go on and if you had a list of all the gravel pits and stripped farms in Newton with their acreage it would I think be quite interesting.

is now before the Governor and also to the proposed legislation regarding the Federal money to be received under the National Recovery Act. When legislation is prepared to straighten out this major obstacle in the State financial program the related matters such as the state tax, supplementary budget, and the like will follow along in short order and the session can wind up its work.

The various parts of the Governor's recent message regarding this legislation are before the proper committee. On Wednesday the Ways and Means Committee, which sat jointly with the Municipal Finance Committee on the matter, appointed two subcommittees to draft legislation authorizing the state, cities and towns, to spend about $75,000,000 for public works under the Federal program. Rep. Baker of Newton is one of the seven members of the subcommittee which will draw up the bill affecting the State as a whole. Legislation affecting the municipalities will be drawn up by Sen. Wragg of Needham and Rep. Halliwell of New Bedford. Senate and House chairmen of the Municipal Finance Committee.

The two subcommittees will report next Wednesday to the main committee and a few days later the legislation will be brought up in the House. Meanwhile the House has adjourned, with the exception of an informal session tomorrow morning, until over the Fourth.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 2.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord shall reign for ever and ever" (Exodus 15:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man" (Ecclesiastes 12:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This text in the book of Ecclesiastes conveys the Christian Science thought, especially when the word duty, which is not in the original, is omitted: 'Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole of man in His image and likeness. Divine Love is infinite. Therefore all that really exists is and of God, and manifests His Love' (p. 340).

The Mer de Glace

The Mer de Glace is a glacier in Switzerland which, like other glaciers, is caused by a body of ice at the high altitude which does not melt because of the low temperature but continues to flow down the side of the mountain. Bodies buried in ice of this kind are very apt to be preserved for years with very little deterioration.

WARD—PORTER

Miss Grace Pomeroy Porter of Wellesley, was married to Dr. John Langdon Ward, son of Mrs. Helen Ashton Ward of Newton Highlands on Saturday afternoon, June twenty-fourth, in the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ben Roberts before a background of palms and lighted candles. The bride, wearing a gown of white roses and lilies of the valley, the maid of honor, Miss Lillian Porter, sister of the bride, of New York, wore rose colored mousseline de soie and carried a bouquet of spring flowers. Miss Ann Bliss Ward of Newton Highlands, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl.

Her gown was of old brocade and cream-white georgette. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Lillian Porter, sister of the bride, of New York, wore rose colored mousseline de soie and carried a bouquet of spring flowers. Miss Ann Bliss Ward of Newton Highlands, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl.

Rev. Harry W. Foot, brother-in-law of the groom, of Dorset, Vermont, was the best man. The ushers were Milton S. Mulloy of Pittsburgh, Pa., Basil G. Davidson of Newton Centre, Martin W. Kellogg of Hartford, Conn., and Paul L. Ward of Worcester.

Miss Frances Beach of Fitchburg, China, played the wedding march. Other musical numbers were played by D. Ralph MacLean of Waban.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony at 119 Wood End rd., Newton Highlands. The couple were assisted in receiving by Miss Emily Williston and Samuel Williston of Cambridge and Dr. and Mrs. Wesley T. Lee of Boston, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Ward.

The bride graduated from Whitman College in 1927 and has taken post-graduate courses at Harvard and other universities and for the past two years has taught in the Natick High School. Her parents were Edgar Lovejoy Porter and Lily Field Brewer Porter, formerly of Yakima, Washington.

After July 15th Dr. and Mrs. Ward will reside in Worcester where Dr. Ward will be connected with the Worcester City Hospital for six months, after which he will take his appointment at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

BARNEY—KELLAWAY

Miss Gladys Priscilla Kellaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Kellaway of 19 Wyman St., Waban, was married to Charles Henry Barney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Barney of 20 Breamore rd., Newton, on Saturday, July 24th, at eight in the evening in the Union Church, Waban. Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a medium train. Her veil which came from France was a gift from her aunt. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gordon Bowie of Syracuse, N. Y., as matron of honor, wore yellow flowered chiton and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and delphinium. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Kellaway, sister of the bride of Waban, and Miss Bertha Sturtevant, of Whitman, wore gowns of light blue net with jackets of taffeta to match. They carried bouquets of yellow roses and delphinium.

Arthur K. Kellaway, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ushers were Robert M. Kellaway, another brother of the bride, Edwin K. Barney, brother of the groom, of Newton, W. Gordon Bowie of Syracuse, N. Y., and Richard L. Gardner of Newton.

A reception was held in the church parlor immediately after the ceremony. The couple were assisted in receiving by the father and mother of the groom and the father and aunt of the bride, and the bridal party.

The decorations at the church consisted of palms, madonna lilies, delphinium and candles, and the parlor was decorated with Spring flowers and evergreens. The music was by Mrs. Robert M. Kellaway, sister-in-law of the bride, as organist.

After a wedding trip to Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Barney will reside in Newton.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College, class of 1929.

SEABOYER—SPRINGHAM

The bride wore a gown of white satin and veil with cascade and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by Mrs. Madeline Polselli as matron of honor. The groom was attended by Mr. Gustavo Polselli. Following the ceremony a reception was held in Forrester's Hall from 3:30 p. m. which was attended by over two hundred guests.

ANOTHER CRASH ON WASHINGTON ST.
Friday afternoon trucks driven by Fred Serro of 306 Cherry St., West Newton, and Philip Markus of Cambridge, collided at Washington and Cherry sts., West Newton. The two trucks then hit a used car in which Joseph Piccarillo of 118 Westland avenue, West Newton, was sitting. The latter claimed to have received injuries.

Normal Methods
Institute 50th
AnniversaryMeeting of Music Supervisors
To Be Held at Lasell

Fifty summers ago Hosea E. Holt of Lexington, then one of the music supervisors of the city of Boston, founded the first school in this country for the training of teachers of school music. Rounding out a half-century of service to teacher training work in music, The American Institute of Normal Methods this year will hold a gala session at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, from July 5th through July 26th.

For a decade the Eastern Session was held at Mr. Holt's home in Lexington, and then because of the growth of the school, it was moved to Brown University, Providence. Following several sessions at Rockland College, Nyack, New York, and also at Babyton, Long Island, the Institute returned to Boston in 1900 and in 1913 it was moved to its present location in Auburndale.

Mr. Osbourne McConathy, college professor, author, and lecturer, is director of the Institute. The faculty for the coming session include: Frederick W. Archibald, Framingham; Horace Butterworth, Jr., Long Island City; Frances Dunning, Newark; Frances G. French, Boston; C. Paul Horfarth, East Orange; Mary Wood Hinman, New York City; Maude M. Howes, Quincy; Esther Stevens Kendall, Boston; Margaret Lowry, Kansas City; Grace G. Pierce, Arlington, Alma Holton Rich, Melrose; Nellie Wicher Shaw, Brockton; Helen L. Varney, Brunswick, and Marjorie White, Quincy.

The educational symposium brings to the school the following special lectures for this year:

July 7th, Professor Leo R. Lewis "Reminiscences of the Early Days of A. L. N. M."; July 14th, Dr. Hughes Mearns, "The Creative Phase of Music"; July 17th, Mr. James N. Muir "The Attitude of the School Administrator toward Music in Our Schools"; July 19th, Dr. Frances Elliott Clark, "Every Music Lesson Should Be a Lesson in Appreciation"; July 20-21, Dr. James L. Mursell, "The Psychology of School Music Teaching"; The Eighth Choral Festival is again to be held at the Warren Junior High School, Washington street, West Newton, Tuesday evening, July 25th, to which the public is cordially invited. Dr. Edward Howard Griggs is to be the speaker of the occasion, with his topic "Music Education and American Culture."

The advance registration includes students from Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska.

The business manager is Charles E. Griffith, formerly of Newton, and now living in Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

DONATIONS OF ODDS AND ENDS ASKED FOR PLAYGROUNDS

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that our playgrounds rank among the finest in the country but many of us may not know that our children have a reputation for making ready, handcraft from discarded materials.

Every year a plea is put in the local papers asking housewives to save odds and ends gathered during the year, empty spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, Christmas cards, envelope linings, embroidery materials, wool or articles suitable for prizes. The answer to this plea is always generous and the materials aid in keeping five hundred youngsters busy and happy during the summer season. If you have a donation of these items, the department will call for it at your house by appointment if you will call the Playground Department, Centre Newton 4700.

MACLEAN CONDUCTS WELCOMING CONCERT

D. Ralph MacLean, for many years conductor of the Highland Glee Club of Newton, acted as leader of the concert given by 300 voices from 25 glee clubs of New England at the welcoming concert given the International Rotary convention which has been in progress in Boston this week. Karl Switzer of the Highland Glee Club was the piano accompanist.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

"Hell Below," one of the outstanding photo plays of the season, will be shown at the Paramount for four days starting Sunday. Robert Montgomery heads the cast and other leading roles are taken by Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Palette, and Robert Young. On the same program will be "Silver Cord" with Irene Dunne and Joel McCrea. This is a story of a mother who breaks up the romance of her two boys because she wants them to remain at home. For the last half of the week Joe E. Brown will be seen in "Elmer the Great" in a great baseball story. On the same program will be Carole Lombard and Randolph Scott in "Supernatural." The performance will be continuous on July 4th.

SECURITY MILLS STRIKE SETTLED

A strike of short duration started at the Security Mills, Monroe St., Newtonville last Thursday and was settled the next day. About 100 men and girls employed at the mill walked out Thursday afternoon when their demands for increased wages were not met. A committee appointed by the strikers met with the management of the mill on Friday and a satisfactory agreement was made. The strike affected the knitting and winding departments at the mill, which manufactures knitted wear. The plant has been in operation for 13 years and this was the first strike there. Wages at the mill were reduced last year, but a partial return to the old scale had been granted.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Auburndale Woman's Club

The John Hayes Hammond Museum, in the quaint old town of Gloucester, was the last of the many places of interest to be visited this year by members of the Auburndale Woman's Club, under the leadership of Mrs. John Hebeck, chairman of the Art committee. The trip was made by motor, and the tour of the museum was preceded by a picnic lunch on the rocks overlooking the ocean whose blue waves rippled in the June sunlight.

The Hammond Museum, which was visited a year ago by a similar group, has had many additions since that time. First to be viewed was the Tower with its tapestry-hung walls, its old statuary, books, and interesting old missals. After leaving these a guide took the party through the Chapel, the Patio, and adjoining rooms.

This entire collection of curios, which is meant to portray what any traveler might have seen during the Middle Ages throughout the South of Europe, represents over twenty years of research and assembling. By means of a series of loud speakers, phonographic discs, electrically controlled, furnish music by some of the finest choirs of Europe. As the guests sat in the dimly lighted, incense-scented chapel the sunlight glorifying the wonderful stained glass windows, and listened to the anthems peal forth, the beauty of this most unusual museum could not fail to impress itself upon them.

NEWTONVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB

The publicity committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club is using the Club's bulletin board at the corner of Walnut and Bowers sts. this summer to show pictures of old landmarks of the city. This week there is a picture of the old Claffin school when it faced Walnut st. which was taken in 1870. Pupils and faculty are shown with John E. Hayes as principal. The picture was loaned by Mr. Harry Cabot; another picture loaned by Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden, shows the parlor of the Hull House, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Roberts. This also was taken about 1870 when the house was located at the corner of Austin and Walnut sts. It was then considered the center of hospitality in Newtonville.

DEVANEY-DESMOND

In a ceremony performed by a brother of the bride, with a second brother as celebrant of the mass and a third giving his sister in marriage, Lieutenant John Joseph Devaney of Watertown Fire Department and Miss Kathleen Marie Desmond, daughter of Mrs. Edward Desmond of Newton were married at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, June 17.

More than 200 relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom, with a large representation from Watertown Fire Department, gathered at the church for the 9 o'clock ceremony and later attended a reception at the Engineers' Club, Boston.

Rev. M. J. Desmond was the officiating clergyman, with Rev. E. W. Desmond celebrant of the mass and John Desmond giving his sister in marriage. The double ring service was used.

The bride wore a white satin gown of formal design with Alencon lace trimming and veil. Her bouquet was of lilies-of-the-valley and orchids. Miss Elizabeth Desmond, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, wearing a chiffon frock of blue and pink and carrying a bouquet of talliesman roses and larkspurs. Bridesmaids were Misses Margaret Ryan and Doris Kivlehan, cousins of the bride, and Misses Katherine Rowe and Hannah Reardon. They wore identically fashioned frocks of pink and blue mousseline de soie and carried bouquets of larkspur and roses tied with pink and blue ribbons. Thomas Devaney, brother of the bridegroom, attended as best man, and ushers at the church were James Devaney, Richard Sheehy, Edmund Green, and William Hickey.

REINHARDT-BOOTHBY

A charming simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Nancy Boothby and Robert Douglas Reinhardt, son of Mrs. George F. Reinhardt and the late Mr. Reinhardt of Waban.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt in the chapel of the Harvard Church, Brookline, at noon on Wednesday, June 28. The bride wore a princess gown of ivory white satin. Her tall veil was held in place by a circlet of orange blossoms, her bouquet being made up of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Her only attendant was Miss Phyllis A. Reinhardt of Waban, sister of the groom, whose gown was of yellow chiffon. With this she wore a picture hat and carried a bouquet of talliesman and yellow roses.

Mr. Reinhardt chose William R. Mackinney of Philadelphia to act as best man. The ushers were Harold H. Hubbard of Cleveland, Ohio; Arthur E. Reinhardt of Brookline; Carl Ward of Worcester; Donald Charlton and Dunbar Holmes of Waban.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for the bridal party was given at the home of the bride, 176 Warren st., Brookline, by her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Atherton Vose. After a motor trip to Minnesota Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt are to make their home in Cambridge.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT OUTING OF SWEDISH SOCIETY

More than 800 attended the outing on Saturday of the Swedish Charitable Society held at the newly renovated home on Waltham st., West Newton.

About 40 Swedish charitable organizations of metropolitan Boston were represented. Mayor Sinclair Weeks, introduced by President Oscar W. Sangren, welcomed the gathering. Several selections were given by the Viking chorus and the Aquillo Club put on a program of vaudeville called "Antics."

Adolph Sandberg was chairman of the outing committee, assisted by Mrs. Segrud Johnson McGraw, Ernest W. Johnson and Mrs. E. A. Nelson. Refreshments were served and there was dancing throughout the afternoon.

The Home was opened in 1917 for homeless people of Swedish descent, over 65 years of age. There are at present 21 guests of the Home.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Marshall C. Spring of Wellesley, Norfolk County, Massachusetts, to Martha Kashala of Newton, Middlesex County, dated September 15th, 1926 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 588, page 493, which mortgage was duly assigned by said Martha Kashala to Louise M. Bergh of Waltham, Massachusetts, by instrument dated December 15th, 1932 and duly recorded with said Deeds, Book 589, page 493, and duly assigned by said Louise M. Bergh to R. Earl Eichler of Waltham, Massachusetts, by instrument dated February 17th, 1933 and recorded with said Deeds, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at Public Auction on the premises on Saturday, July 22nd, 1933, at 9:15 o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

The land in and about said Newton called Newton Highlands, together with the buildings thereon, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner of the intersection of the line of the North and Northwesterly by land now or late of Holtz-Cabot Electric Company; containing about 18,500 square feet of land, and being Section No. 2 of the City of Newton. Being all and the same premises described by said mortgage deed, dated September 15, 1926, to be recorded herewith.

The premises will be sold subject to a first mortgage given the Wellesley Cooperative Bank for $7,000, to be recorded as follows: Book 588, page 493.

Including all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, and other fixtures of whatever kind and nature at present contained in said buildings, and hereafter placed thereon prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage.

The premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and municipal assessments and outstanding tax titles, if any such exist.

Five Hundred (500) dollars will be required to be paid in cash at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be stated at sale.

R. EARL EICHLER, Assignor and present holder of said Mortgage.

James V. Smith, Atty., 65 State Street, Waltham, Mass.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Ernest H. Morris to the Cambridge Savings Bank, dated November 1922, and recorded with Middlesex County, Massachusetts, in the Land Registration Office for the South District of Middlesex County, Certificate of Title No. 35439, in Registration Book 236, Page 573, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises on Wednesday, July 19, 1933, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described as follows:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in Newton, being bounded and described as follows: Westerly by Centre Street, ninety-four (94) feet; Northwesterly by land now or late of Horace C. Harrington, seventy-six and 92/100 (76.92) feet; Northerly again, fifty (5) feet; and Northerly again, forty (40) feet, by land now or formerly of Horace C. ## Plaster of Paris Made

Quite "Permanent" Wave

Just as there are in New York barber schools, where beginners practice on the hair and beard at reduced prices, so there are schools which graduate their pupils to beauty parlors. Here a "facial" or a "wave" may be obtained for the modest sum of 25 cents. One of these schools opened in a new building, from which all the building supplies had not been removed. A customer came in who wished a "white henna" treatment. This is a treatment used to burnish white or light colored hair. They say that a paste is applied to the hair and, after a certain time, removed. The operator opened a closet, got some material from a bag and made a paste. After it had been applied, the discovery was made that the stuff happened to be some sort of plaster of paris left by the workmen. It hardened quickly and firmly. In fact, the customer had to be removed to a suite where an operation could be performed with a chisel.

The chipping was done as considerately as possible, but the hair was clipped off with the plaster. In the end the woman had to have her head shaved.—Exchange.

Sea Horse Ranks High

Among Nature's Freaks

Of all the queer combinations in the animal kingdom, the sea horse (Hippocampus) easily takes the prize, points out Boys' Life, the monthly journal of the Boy Scouts of America. It has the head of a horse, from which it takes its name; the tail of a monkey; the fins of a fish; and the abdominal pouch of a kangaroo, in which the male carries the eggs from the time they are laid until they are hatched. With all these borrowed trappings, the sea horse is a real fish and does not live very long out of water.

The tail, which is somewhat longer than the head and body combined, is the only tail in the fish kingdom endowed with the power to grasp things, and with it the sea horse clings to underwater foliage when he desires to rest, continues Boys' Life. In their sportive moments these quaint little creatures wrap their tails around each other and engage in a regular tug-of-war—or a large one will seize a small one around the neck and drag him furiously around in circles in a marine version of "snap the whip."

Galapagos' Formation

Nearly everywhere on the Galapagos, one walks over fresh or weathered lava. It was natural that Darwin took for granted that the islands had been built up from the sea bottom by their volcanoes within comparatively recent times. Wallace and other followers of Darwin accepted this view that the islands "have been formed by submarine eruptions" and have never been joined to continental America. According to this oceanic theory, animals and plants reached them by various fortuitous means: by the wind, which could bring fern spores, seeds provided with pappus, spiders, insects, birds and bats, or seeds may be carried adhering to the plumage or the feet of birds, or even in their crops. Such stragglers are in their crops. Such stragglers are, apparently still reaching the islands, and stand a chance of becoming resident if they find suitable conditions, mates, and so on.—From "To the South Seas," by Gifford Pinchot.

"Nicaragua Walker"

William Walker was a San Francisco newspaper man who, in 1855, took advantage of an insurrection in Nicaragua. He put Rivas, a native, in the presidency, retaining command of the army himself. Rivas absconded and Walker succeeded. Known as a Southern sympathizer, Walker was joined by adventurous southerners from the United States. He repealed all anti-slavery laws. A native insurrection overthrew him. He had expected support from the United States, but did not obtain it. He was captured and turned over to the American naval forces and returned to the United States. He continued his plotting and finally, while operating in Honduras, was shot. He is known to history as Nicaragua Walker.

"Magic Carpet" Fable

Brewer's "Handbook of Phrase and Fable" says: "The magic carpet which, to all appearances, is worthless, but which, if any one sat thereon, would transport him instantaneously to the place he wished to go, is one of the stock properties of eastern wonder tales and romances. It is sometimes termed 'Prince Hausala's carpet,' because of the popularity of the story of Prince Ahmed in 'Arabian Nights' where it supplies one of the chief incidents; but the chief magic carpet is that of King Solomon, which, according to the Mohammedan legend related in the Koran, was of green silk."

Pioneers of Methodism

The History of Methodism says: "In the British Wesleyan Conference of 1770 'America' appears for the first time, as a single circuit, served by four preachers, Pilmoor, Boardman, King and Williams. America reported a total membership of 316 to the conference of 1771. With the report came the urgent appeals of the Americans for more helpers. Five preachers offered to go, and two were accepted. The two volunteers for America from the conference of 1771 were Francis Asbury and Richard Wright."
